Sausalito's Spectacular Distillery Blaze Leaves Damage In Millions

CUBAN VOLUNTEER?—No. It's just Inspector Harold V. Sleezer of the Marin sheriff's office taking aim with an antique cannon which officers picked up from two boys in Kentfield yesterday afternoon. The youths stuffed the muzzle with chemicals and paper wadding and fired several salvos that alarmed residents along Goodhill Road.

IT'S NOT WAR

Boys Have Blast With Old Cannon

Residents in Kentfield feared for a moment yesterday that the Cuban War was being fought along Goodhill Road.

But it turned out to be two teen-aged boys, with a knowledge of chemistry, experimenting with a muzzle-loading cannon that appears to be at least a century old.

The resulting explosions sent Sheriff's Inspector Harold V. Sleezer and Deputy Dennis Shine racing to the end of Goodhill Road. But by then, the "war" had ended.

James Solinski, 16, and Craig Leon Liever, 17, had fired their last ammunition, loaded up the 75-pound cannon into their car and were about to beat a strategic withdrawal when the officers arrived.

"The boys had mixed magnesium, a pinch of sulphur and another chemical and were shooting paper wadding into the air," said Inspector Sleezer. The boys said they had bought the cannon from another friend for $15.

Investigators were trying to trace the origin of the antique. The bronze cannon is about four feet long, has a one and one-fourth inch bore, a pivot hinge in the center, and a small hole at the top of the base for firing.

The cannon has writing which appears to be Arabic. "We don't know where it came from," said Inspector Sleezer. "But it appears to be an antique of some value."

Youths Play 'Detective,' Help Nab Wanted Man

Two San Rafael youths, playing "detectives" yesterday, helped San Rafael police capture a man who said he was "wanted all over the country" by police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Whether Dale Lyle Addison, 40, of 911 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was actually wanted all over the country was something San Rafael police and FBI agents were trying to check today.

This much is known:

Modesto police have a warrant for Addison's arrest on a forgery charge. The State Criminal Investigation and Identification bureau notified San Rafael police that Addison, also known as John Lyle Mead, had a seven-page "rap sheet" for kidnaping, bank robbery, auto theft, assault with intent to do great bodily harm, rape, forgery, theft, drunkenness and assault and battery.

Addison was held on $5,200 bail today in Marin County Jail. He was scheduled to appear in court today.

Henry Joseph Aigner Jr., an employee of the Rossi and Hook Signal Gas Station at 902 Irwin Street, called police at 4:40 p.m. yesterday. He said Addison had just cashed a check for $25 at the station. Aigner was suspicious.

Dennis Gerald Leduc, 19, of 455 Canal Street, and Norman Albert Stuart Jr., 18, of 116 Villa Avenue, who were at the gas station when Addison cashed the check, trailed him to the Old Fashioned Bar at 1105 Fourth Street.

The youths called police. Officer Gilbert Freitas and Sgt. Carl Selby took Addison to jail where he was questioned.

Freitas quoted Addition as stating, "Kid, you made your-

SAN RAFAEL 'DISTRESS' PUT-UP JOB

San Rafael was in "distress" for about four hours today.

An upside down State of California flag on the flagpole in front of the city hall was not discovered until shortly before noon by Thomas Goodale, assistant city manager, when he went to the top of the city hall to take weather measurements.

Policemen on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift are responsible for putting up the American and California flags.

An upside down flag is the international signal for distress.

Grim New Sight For Tourists

By FRED WYATT

Sausalito had a grim new tourist attraction today: a partly burned-out distillery.

A $4,240,000 loss for the American Distilling Co. and the federal government was estimated in the fire Saturday night that razed two buildings on two acres of the firm's 14-acre site north of Sausalito.

Explosions and flames hundreds of feet high devoured about 167,250 gallons of bourbon, Scotch and tequila plus an unestimated amount of other types of liquors.

For two hours the inferno roared and boomed out of control like a crashed bomber. Even after sunup yesterday an occasional whisky barrel exploded like cannon.

The general alarm fire was the first major disaster in the firm's 28-year operation of the plant. With only two injured, it was far less tragic than a fire in its main plant at Pekin, Ill., on Aug. 6, 1954, which killed six persons and injured 42.

The most imposing building of the Sausalito operation, the one first seen from Bridgeway Boulevard, reaching six stories high and lying to the north, was not burned.

Spared also was a brick building southwest of the fire scene containing thousands of gallons of 195 proof alcohol. Firemen played hoses on it to

School Aide For County Quits Job

Resignation of Charles J. Vento of Terra Linda as director of county schools instructional materials center will be presented to the Marin County Board of Education at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Civic Center.

Vento disclosed today that he handed his resignation to County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis "three or four weeks ago."

He declined to give his reason for quitting the job on which he started only last July 1, declaring: "I feel a little concerned about my future." He would say only that he quit "of my own free will."

Some members of the county board reportedly learned of Vento's resignation and planned to question Hollis about it at tonight's meeting.

Vento said he had been offered the job in Trinity County which he left to accept the Marin job last year. He had just set up an audio-visual center for schools in Trinity when he moved here. Previous-

TWO DAYS AGO, BIG BUILDINGS STOOD HERE —This was the scene on day after fire consumed major portion of American Distilling Co. in Sausalito, doing damage estimated at $2,400,000 to the property and costing the United States government nearly one and three-quarter millions in taxes on liquor that was destroyed. Distillery hopes to be operating again within three weeks. Rectifying and distilling units were saved.

Distillery Dates Back To 1888 In Marin

The American Distilling Co. plant in Sausalito, hit by a fierce alcohol-fed fire Saturday night, has a long history as one of Marin's older institutions.

A Marin Magazine story Dec. 13, 1958, by the late Independent-Journal reporter, Larry Lovett, reported the Sausalito operation older than its parent company organization in Pekin, Ill.

The plant along Bridgeway Boulevard began, wrote Lovett, as the Mason By-Products Co. in 1888. American Distilling Co. was started in Illinois in 1892.

The Sausalito plant was started as a source of palatable water for San Francisco and for ships going to sea, besides as an adjunct to Mason's malt products operation.

The plant was built at the site of Waldo Springs, which still existed in 1958, surrounded by a group of willows, which supposedly gave the city its name, Sausalito, meaning "little willow."

Lovett wrote that Mason "fell into bad times and his financial backers — who included such names as Adolph Spreckels, John Buck and Ohlandt—subsequently took over the operation."

Buck's son, Walter, is still executive vice president, with offices in San Francisco.

"In 1926 while prohibition was still in force and the distillery was producing industrial alcohol, it became the Industrial Solvents Corp., and in 1929 the American Commercial Alcohol Corp.," wrote Lovett.

In 1935, two years after prohibition was repealed, the plant was purchased by its present operator.

The 1958 article quoted E. F. Greenwood, sales manager of the company's Pacific division, as asserting: "There are only six major distillers in the United States. American is one of these and is number one of the independents."

Greenwood was quoted at that time as saying, "Our Sausalito operation alone represents about a 12 and one-half million dollar investment and has 225 employees."

Bishop Pike Orders Episcopalians To Stop 'Speaking In Tongues'

A strongly worded order to Episcopalians from Bishop James A. Pike to stop "speaking in tongues" during parish services will be followed at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera.

Rev. Tod W. Ewald, parish rector, read the six-page directive to parishoners yesterday. He said today that "speaking in tongues" has been practiced "very infrequently" during healing services held at the parish at noon Wednesdays and 8 p.m. Thursdays.

"Speaking in tongues," a practice common to Pentacostal denominations, occurs when a church goer believes the Holy Spirit is speaking through him and utters whatever sounds come to mind.

Such utterances, said Bishop Pike, who head the Episcopal Church in California, are expressions in unknown tongue or in a known language which the subject has not learned." The heavily subjective emphasis upon a private personal relationship with Jesus, continued Bishop Pike, tends to neglect the objective terms of the full Christology of the Catholic Faith.

Rev. Ewald said he will follow the directive in church services "completely. It is something that should be used in private devotion," he said.

"I don't think speaking in tongues is essential," he con-

Boys Catch Peahen, But Wrong One

Two Mill Valley boys thought they caught Evelyn yesterday, but what they caught was Ethel and poison oak.

At 5 p.m. yesterday, Mrs. David Lister of 1 Morningsun Avenue telephoned Parker that her son David Jr., 14, and his friend, Paul Jarecki, 15, of 53 Homestead Boulevard had chased a peahen into blackberries and poison oak and captured it.

"Is it penned up?" asked Parker.

Mrs. Lister said no, the boys were holding it, and it was very tame.

When Parker arrived, he took one look and shook his head sadly.

"That's not Evelyn," he

Residents In Area Evacuated

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Many Sausalitans in the immediate area of the American Distilling Co. were evacuated temporarily from their homes Saturday night, jumping in their cars and taking a few belongings with them.

Residents on Tomales, Wateree, Nevada, Olima and Coloma streets and Buchanan Avenue were asked by police at about 10:30 p.m. to move from their homes, Police Chief Howard Goerndt said, when it was feared one of the huge tanks containing alcohol might explode. Approximately 200 people got out after Officers Tom Zink, John Higgins and Herb Smith made a door-to-door alert.

Some people stayed right where they were while others drove off a distance to watch the fire and then returned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Brainerd of 24 Tomales Street, who live directly behind the distillery, took their three-week old daughter, Julie. Their neighbor, Barbara Harvey, put some baby bottles and diapers in the car and drove to Bridgeway to wait.

Leonard Beckett was asleep at his home at 77 Tomales Street when the fire broke out. His wife, Natalie, was watching "Have Gun, Will Travel," she said, on television.

She awakened her husband, who then tried to get his wife to leave their home. "She refused to leave," said Beckett. The Becketts have two sons, a dog, two cats and two birds.

Beckett sat on the porch of his white frame house, dressed in pajamas and a robe, and commented: "I'm sitting here with temerity in my heart." He said, though the fire had died down from its high point, he was disturbed about the four tanks a few hundred yards away upon which firemen were playing hoses.

Philosophically, he noted the blue flame burning on the

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

MONTY WOOLLEY
"The Beard"

Monty Woolley Dies At 74

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Veteran stage and screen actor Monty Woolley died early today at Albany Medical Center Hospital. He had been in declining health in recent months.

Woolley, 74, whose trademark was a neatly trimmed white beard and mustache, had lived for many years in Saratoga Springs. He had spent much of his boyhood in the resort city and considered it his home town.

The actor, often called "The Beard," probably was best known for his portrayal of Sheridan Whiteside, the lead role in "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

Woolley originated the role on Broadway, where the comedy ran for two years, and later starred in the film version of the play.

He also recreated Sheridan Whiteside in a 1954 network television production of "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

The cause of death was listed as a kidney failure with related heart disease.

Nixon, Rockey To Be Neighbors

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is planning to move into fashionable Fifth Avenue apartment house where Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller lives, it was reported last night.

According to employees of the 14-story cooperative building, Nixon inspected a nine-room apartment on the fifth floor Saturday and plans to move in within three weeks. He is scheduled to join the law firm of Budge, Stern, Baldwin and Todd on June 1.

The price of the apartment selected by Nixon was said to be about $200,000.

Anti-Death Penalty Measure

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Mandatory capital punishment in New York, the only state in the union with such legislation, is nearly dead.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office announced yesterday he has signed a bill providing that the penalty for first degree murder and kidnaping, effective July 1, shall be life imprisonment "unless the jury recommends the death penalty." Currently the death penalty is mandatory for the two crimes.

Rickover In Sub Test

MARE ISLAND NAVAL STATION (UPI)—Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover was aboard America's 31st nuclear submarine yesterday when it departed from Mare Island in its first sea trials.

The Andrew Jackson, which was launched here Sept. 15, is participating in the first such trials since the Thresher tragedy April 10. Rickover refused to elaborate on what tests the submarine would be given, but said the undersea craft would be gone for a "few days."

Survives Air Crash

DOUALA, Cameroon (AP)—An American diplomatic courier is the only survivor from a four-engine African airliner which plowed into a mountain Saturday night, killing 54 persons.

The survivor, who was seriously injured, is Joseph P. Capozzi of Elmira, N.Y. who was on a courier run from Douala to Lagos, Nigeria.

Phone Rates Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Reduced rates for certain nighttime long distance telephone calls within California went into effect at 12:01 a.m. today.

They apply to station-to-station calls of more than 110 miles made between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. California telephone users will save an estimated 3.2 million dollars each year.

The rates establish an 85-cent maximum charge for a three-minute call. A San Francisco-to-Los Angeles call drops from $1.05 to 80 cents for the first three minutes.

Kindergarten Signups Set

Registration for next fall's kindergarten at West Marin School in Point Reyes Station will be in the kindergarten room at 1 p.m. Friday.

To qualify, a child must be 5 years old on or before Dec. 2 of this year. The state law requires that parents must have proof of the child's birthdate, either a birth certificate, baptismal record or sworn affidavit.

Children not now in kindergarten who will be ready for first grade next fall, should be registered at Inverness School at 2:45 p.m., May 12. Proof that the sixth birthday falls on or before Dec. 2 will be required.

Viet Yank Dies

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—A U.S. Army adviser and two Vietnamese soldiers were killed today when a land mine exploded under their jeep 25 miles north of here, a U.S. militray spokesman announced.

Name of the American was withheld pending notification of relatives.

The adviser's death raised to 81 the number of Americans killed in South Viet Nam since the United States began helping the government.

Russ Spy Trial

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry announced today that the spy trial of British businessman Greville Wynne will begin tomorrow.

The announcement, confirming an earlier report from the British Embassy, broke an official Soviet silence surrounding the trial. It said the proceedings would start at 10 a.m.

It was believed Wynne would be tried with former Soviet scientific official Oleg Penkovsky, who is alleged to have worked for an Anglo-American espionage ring operating in Moscow.

New Church Head

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Archbishop Khoren Paroyan of Lebanon is the new supreme head of the Armenian Orthodox Church. His jurisdiction covers the faith throughout the non-Communist world.

Villa Widow Honored

COLUMBUS, N.M. (AP)—With tears rolling down her cheeks, Luz Corral de Villa, widow of the Mexican rebel Francisco Pancho Villa, was made an honorary citizen of New Mexico yesterday.

A certificate of citizenship was presented to her at a joint observance of Cinco de Mayo—May 5—Mexican national holiday, by neighboring towns of Palomas and Chihuahua, Mexico, and Columbus.

Pancho Villa raided Columbus in 1916, killing 16 residents. He was chased into Mexico by Gen. John J. Pershing but escaped.

Gloom In Algeria

ALGIERS —The death of Algeria's foreign minister and the worst Nile River tragedy in modern history cast gloom today over the triumphal visit to Algeria of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Festivities in Nasser's honor were called off as the Algerian government proclaimed a day of national mourning for Mohamed Khemisti, the foreign minister. Khemisti, 33, died yesterday after a fanatic assassin fired a bullet into his head.

Rockefeller, New Bride Are On Honeymoon

Rockefeller and his bride, the former Margaretta Fitler Murphy, arrived yesterday at his 1,235-acre Monte Sacro ranch about 110 miles southwest of Caracas.

The smiling couple flew to the honeymoon retreat by private plane after arriving in Caracas from New York on a commercial airliner. The New York governor said they expect to remain in Venezuela about two weeks.

It was drizzling when they landed and a shower of rice greeted the newlyweds as they stepped out of the plane.

Chatting in Spanish with newsmen, Rockefeller predicted his second marriage will be blissful. He said they decided to spend their honeymoon here "because we love Venezuela."

The governor, 54, and his bride, an attractive woman of 36, stood atop a wing of their private plane for the brief news conference.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who has the nickname "Happy," appeared radiant. She wore a plain wedding band, a sleeveless blue blouse, brown skirt and brown shoes. She carried a brown purse.

Mrs. Rockefeller said she was thrilled over her first visit to Venezuela and hopes to learn some Spanish.

She said she looks forward to horseback riding at the Rockefeller ranch which has a big stable and swimming pool. The governor translated her remarks into Spanish.

Rockefeller, considered a leading candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, brushed aside questions about his political future.

He showed the same reticence as he left New York's Idlewild Airport telling newsmen there:

"I know you would like to discuss politics with me, but I don't think this is the time or the place. There will be plenty of chances for the subject and decisions at another time."

Political circles in the United States were divided over the effect the marriage will have on Rockefeller's career.

Some felt the romance was an act of political suicide for the governor. They noted that no divorced man has won the presidency of the United States.

Others believed Rockefeller's emergence into a new life of happiness with an attractive wife might enhance his popularity.

Three vice presidents, John Breckinridge, Richard M. Nixon and Henry Wallace ran unsuccessfully for president.

Russians Admit Recovering Body Of Hitler In Berlin

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russians have broken 18 years of silence and admitted they recovered Adolf Hitler's burned body when they smashed into Berlin at the end of World War II, it was disclosed yesterday.

Up to now the official Soviet position has been that Hitler may have escaped to Spain or Argentina.

The Soviet admission was made by Marshal Vasili Sokolovsky to Cornelius Ryan, American author of "The Longest Day," who has completed a two-week study of top secret archives of the Red Army's final assault on Berlin.

Ryan said he had obtained from the Russians "the fullest version of what happened in Hitler's bunker the last few days of the war, an account which differs substantially from the one accepted in the West.

Sokolovsky was Marshal Georgi Zhukov's chief of operations during the Battle of Berlin and until recently was chief of staff of the Soviet armed forces.

In what diplomats consider a major academic breakthrough, Ryan was permitted to interview all surviving key Soviet commanders during the Battle of Berlin except the now-disgraced former war minister, Marshal Zhukov.

He photographed scores of classified documents and closely questioned about 50 top ranking officers including Marshals Ivan Konev, Konstantin Rokovosky and Vasily Chuikov. He was assisted by John Ericson, English military historian and author of "The Soviet High Command."

Ryan said Sokolovsky told him: "You should be informed the Soviet Union officially regards Hitler as dead."

Sokolovsky's aides, Marshal Chuikov, hero of the decisive Battle of Stalingrad (now Volgograd), and General Tolbukhovsky then gave Ryan the following account of Hitler's death:

A charred body, presumably Hitler's, was found in the bunker wrapped in a blanket. A bullet had blown in the right temple and knocked out some of the teeth. The Russians flushed out the fuehrer's dentists who, on the basis of their records, identified the teeth as Hitler's.

It was indicated the body was not burned completely beyond recognition.

Earlier, Gen. Hans Krebs, who under Hitler's will was named chief of the German land forces had informed Chuikov Hitler was dead and agreed to capitulate to the Russians.

He offered evidence to the skeptical Soviet commanders in the form of affidavits, a letter from Hitler's first deputy, Martin Borman, and a document purporting to be Hitler's third personal will.

Sokolovsky said the Russians have the will but he declined to divulge it s contents except for the first sentence which reads:

"I have married my friend Eva Braun."

Eva had been Hitler's mistress for many years and apparently Hitler decided to marry her just before both committed suicide.

Ryan said he has already interviewed all the surviving German commanders in connection with his forthcoming book "The Last Battle."

Sokolovsky's admission of Hitler's death contradicts that which was told by Marshal Zhukov whom this correspondent interviewed in his Berlin headquarters a week after the Red Army captured the German capital.

Zhukov then said: "We have found no body definitely identifiable as Hitler's. For all we know he may be in Spain or Argentina."

Huge Sausalito Blaze Causes Damage In Millions

Also undamaged and watered down were four huge, empty, glass-lined concrete fermenters of 83,925 gallons capacity apiece used to hold cooked grains on their way to the stills.

But the heat was so tremendous that residents behind the fire scene were evacuated.

The flames were seen over a wide area of Marin and as far away as the Oakland hills. The fire was heard over a smaller area as barrels full of liquor exploded.

Loss to the firm was estimated at two and one-half million dollars by plant Supt. Fred A. Schmidt of Tomales Street, reported Chief Mathew J. Perry of the Sausalito Fire Department. Loss to the federal government was estimated at more than $1,740,000 in internal revenue taxes gone with the wind.

The fire was considered contained about 11:30 p.m. but chiefs did not begin releasing 175 firemen with 15 pieces of equipment until about 5 a.m. yesterday.

The Marin sheriff's log notes that the alarm was sent out by the County Communications Center at 9:36 p.m. Within minutes the general alarm was sounded.

Asst. Fire Chief John L. Terris of Sausalito suffered a right leg injury when a two and one-half inch hose buckled and knocked him down. He limped with pain yesterday and was to see his doctor.

An unidentified reporter or photographer fell from a ladder and was treated by a Marin Ambulance crew.

Fire units were sent from Sausalito, Tiburon, Alto, Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Tamalpais Valley, Sixth Army Headquarters at Presidio of San Francisco, Fort Baker, and the Marin County Fire Department. San Anselmo sent two policemen to help keep order.

"We had manpower from the San Francisco Fire Department," said Chief Perry.

Perry was in charge of fire-containing efforts. Though the firm is in county territory, it has a contract with Sausalito for fire protection.

Volunteers aided firemen with hoses and some passersby assisted police in placing flares for traffic.

Possibly 2,000 persons were attracted to the scene and both approaches to Bridgeway were snarled until the California Highway Patrol and Sausalito police blocked it off. Southbound cars were diverted at the Marin City underpass back to Highway 101.

Police and sheriff's deputies blocked northbound traffic to Nevada, Buena Vista and Ebbtide Avenue. Deputies also helped direct Marin and San Francisco Army units to the fire.

The scene today was under 24-hour guard by the sheriff's office to prevent looting.

Up in smoke went two buildings and their contents: the wholesale liquor dealers premises, maintenance machine shop, importers' bonded warehouse, Internal Revenue Service bonded warehouse, rack warehouse (containing 50-gallon barrels of liquor), and an office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Exploded or burned to kingdom come was liquor including 3,000 barrels of bourbon, 273 barrels of Scotch, 100 50-gallon drums of tequila, said plant superintendent Schmidt. Other company aides said the buildings contained other types of high grade imported and domestic whisky.

One deputy said some of the Scotch had come over on a ship that caught fire on the Atlantic. "They saved it there so it could burn up here," he said wryly.

Chief Perry said the fire began at the shipping dock. No one had been in the building after 4:30 p.m. Friday except for watchman Fred Stohr, who saw nothing amiss when he made his rounds after 9 p.m. Saturday, Perry was told.

Asst. Chief Terris was in charge at the start because Perry was at a benefit ball at the Meadow Club, Fairfax. He learned of the fire at 10:20 p.m. and went to the scene.

"The cause of the fire is unknown," said Perry.

Terris said firemen could not get close enough to the fire because of the heat. He said they had to stay back 50 to 60 feet and thus could only confine the fire. One fireman observed, "Some of the water from the hoses didn't even reach the fire."

Flaming flying debris threatened the Industrial Center Building.

Perry said the last fire Sausalito had that could be compared with this was the one that destroyed the Madden and Lewis boatyard March 6, 1960. Damage from the 1960 fire was estimated by Perry at $250,000.

In a red muumuu, red coat and fur collar, Juanita Musson, proprietor of Juanita's Galley on Richardson Bay just north of the distillery, supplied hot coffee to firemen and volunteers.

"I've been off the stuff three years but it still smells good," she observed as she stepped over a large puddle of liquor diluted with water.

Some Sausalito firemen had been up since 3:30 a.m. Saturday after answering a false alarm from a fire box on Bulkley Avenue.

Burning liquor flowed downhill in a river as barrels burst in the storage building. Firemen pushed it back with streams from their hoses to contain the fire. In the words of another onlooker barrels of alcohol in one area were "beautiful pots of fire, with blue flames licking up their sides."

Some remarked they feared they would get "a cheap drunk" from the alcohol-permeated air.

Firemen played hoses on still smouldering areas yesterday afternoon.

Robert McGregor of San Francisco, chemist and rectifier, said the large building to the north, unburned, contains much bottled liquor ready to send out. The firm blends bourbons from choice brands of high proof whisky, that is reduced in strength, he said.

Plant superintendent Schmidt said he expects to have the plant back in partial operation in two or three weeks. First the firm must await investigations by insurance and government agents.

Internal Revenue agent Edward Pries, who lost his records in the fire, said "The government gets $10.50 in taxes on each gallon of whisky."

Marin County Planners Turn Down Bid For Forest Knolls Rest Home

A proposed rest home for Forest Knolls was unanimously denied today by Marin County planning commissioners.

Lawrence A. Moulton, owner of the site at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Arroyo Road, asked permission to establish a 20-bed "boarding house for elderly persons" in what is now a three-bedroom house, built in 1960. Moulton proposed to add extra bedrooms to the two-story house.

Thirty-five residents of the Forest Knolls area signed a petition of protest, saying it was an undesireable use for a residential area.

"If a rest home cannot be built in Forest Knolls, what can be built there?" Moulton asked.

Chairman William Upton said rest homes are necessary, but "we have to be careful where they are located." He agreed with protesting residents that a rest home might detract from the essentially residential nature of the area."

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said other uses, including a motel and apartments, had been suggested by Moulton for the large house but had been discouraged by the planning staff. "Merely as an idea, we thought a rest home would be a rather subdued use," Dobbs said.

"As a matter of philosophy," said Commissioner Felix M. Warburg, "I don't personally feel that old people should all be put together in one place anyway. They should generally be happier in dwellings."

Edwin C. Jones of Redwood Drive, Woodacre, who led the petitioners, complained of the danger of traffic to old people, and said the steep hillside lot would be an unlikely place for their recreation. "Any old lady who could walk around that steep ground wouldn't need to be in a rest home," he commented.

The request will be heard May 14 at 2 p.m. by the board of supervisors.

San Marin Unit Gets Approval

Marin County planning commissioners today approved two new units for the huge San Marin planned community west of Novato.

Tentative subdivision maps for a development of nearly 200 residential lots were submitted by Sunset International Petroleum Corp., developers of San Marin. One unit, of 58 lots, six of which will be used for apartment houses and one for commercial use, will include a total 20 acres. The second unit, on 33 acres, will be for about 115 homes.

A third unit for more residential lots on a 36-acre site was continued at the request of principal Planner David Van Pelt.

Van Pelt said there were "some unresolved matters, chiefly involving school site requirements and streets in conformity with the master plan."

The new subdivisions are south of San Marin Unit No. 2, and are bounded on the west by the proposed San Andreas Drive.

self one heck of an arrest. I am wanted all over the country."

Addison also said, "If I had the 30-20 pistol which I threw away yesterday, I would have blown your brains out."

He said he was wanted for forgery in Seattle, Portland, Eureka and Modesto. He said he robbed a Yakima, Wash., bank of $13,000 two weeks ago.

He said he killed Morris Denning, a bank robbery partner in July, 1936, and buried his body in South Dakota. He said Denning was setting a trap for him to turn him over to the FBI.

Addison said he stole some drugs last week from the Ross General Hospital. Hospital officials today said that no drugs have been missed.

tinued. "I thought it was 'way out in the weeds. It's the fruit of it that counts. A lot of our churches are nothing but tombs. We do need something. The early Church knew a living presence. We need to capture this. . .

"We have order in our church. We know how we're going to come out. If we translate this Pentacostal praise into the historical idiom, we will have something wonderful."

Rev. Ewald said the "speaking in tongues" movement is having an "outpouring" in Presbyterian church in Tracy, Live Oak and Bakersfield. Holy Innocents parishioners began speaking in tongues about 10 years ago and are in Marin to practice it, he said The Episcopalian All Saints Church in San Leandro holds similar meetings.

"You can't tell if speaking in tongues is successful," he said. "You are casting your bread upon the waters. We have people waiting to attend our healing meetings. We must be filling a need. The bishop did this out of love, to maintain future unity. It wasn't for excesses present now."

But Rev. Pike, in his pastoral letter, said: "Every one of the dangers pointed out by St. Paul and by the House of Bishop's statement (concerning new movements within the church) have by now already become evident here. And this in spite of the patent sincerity and the good intentions of the priests in this movement."

Gallinas Apartment Plan Out

The wishes of Gallinas Village residents seem to carry considerable weight with subdividers of the small Santa Venetia community.

A request for county planning commission approval of an apartment house near the Gallinas Village shopping center was withdrawn today after residents had submitted protests to the commission and board of supervisors.

Three weeks ago, subdividers withdrew an application for permission to build duplexes in the same area when residents raised cries that any multiple housing would be a detriment to the single-family residential area.

Jonwil Corp. of Oakland had applied for permission to build the apartments on a 1.9-acre site at Adrian Way and North San Pedro Road. International Investment Corp. of Oakland, affiliated with the Jonwil firm, had proposed the duplexes.

Somewhat nonplussed to find that other peafowl are flying around loose in Mill Valley, Parker took the hen home to keep in his aviary until someone claims her. He said he'd call her Ethel.

And Mrs. Walter Jarecki reported this morning that Paul caught poison oak along with the bird.

Walking up and down the streets during the fire were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett De Deyn of 5 Tomales Street. R. H. Gould Jr. of 1 Tomales said, "Most of the people in this area are saying 'It's a good show' or 'There goes another keg of booze.'"

Easter Seal Drive Gains

Contributions totaling $11,448 have been received so far in the Marin County Easter Seal campaign, chairman Rodric L. Robinson said today.

Robinson said that this is a slightly greater return than last year with 7,516 persons contributing so far. The money is used by the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

Those who have not yet returned their contribution are urged to do so, Robinson said.

Burglar Takes Wrong Machine

He broke through the front door of Kim's Sound Center at 1423 Grant Avenue in the Town and Country Shopping Center between 6 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. yesterday, and took a phonograph and several long playing records valued at $130.

Lauren Elkins Sr. of 1955 Center Road, who was cleaning the court in the shopping center, discovered the break-in, according to Novato police.

Kim McCune, owner, was called by police. He reported the record player had been brought in for repairs and could not play the records.

Boy Rides Bike Into Path Of Moving Car

Six-year-old Mathew Gregory of 788 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, suffered minor injuries Saturday afternoon when he rode his bicycle in front of a car driven by Berridge Lee Marsh of 1012 Las Gamos Road, Terra Linda.

The car was being parked in a shopping center area behind Scotty's Market and struck the bicycle only lightly. The California Highway Patrol issued no citation.

Snow became international treasurer of the Hotel Greeters of America last year and will continue in this office until next month. He is manager of the Beverly-Plaza Hotel in San Francisco.

Collects Stamps The Wrong Way

Mrs. Dorothy B. Gorman notified the sheriff last night that mail has been missing from her mailbox and possibly from the boxes of her neighbors.

Deputy Sheriff James L. Current said he talked to a 7-year-old boy, who admitted taking a letter from the Gorman mailbox last month but denied he had ever done it since.

Stalled Auto Rammed By Car

An Independent-Journal report last Friday of a highway accident last Wednesday night erroneously said a vehicle driven by Marlon A. Wolcott of 24 Buena Vista Drive, San Anselmo, struck one driven by David R. Young of 170 San Jose Boulevard, Hamilton Air Force Base.

Wolcott's car stalled on the Richardson Bay Bridge and was rammed by one driven by Young.

Puppetry Classes Starting Tomorrow

Puppetry classes will be held tomorrow from 3:45 to 5:30 p.m. in the Santa Venetia School kitchen and continue for four weeks under the sponsorship of the San Rafael Recreation Department.

The children will be divided into three different groups and present plays entitled "The Magician, The Three Bears and The Three Wishes" at the end of June.

Negroes Plan Demonstrations

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Hundreds of young Negroes began congregating today at headquarters of integration activities in Birmingham and indications were that they were planning another mass demonstration.

An initial survey of Negro public schools showed that attendance was extremely light this morning — apparently the result of an announced plan to boycott classes.

Negro integration leaders said there would be no letup in the campaign to destroy racial barriers in this Deep South industrial city.

Haiti Calls On U.N. In Attack Threat

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Haiti today called on the U. N. Security Council to take up the threatened clash between military forces in Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

A request for a meeting of the 11-nation council was received by the U. N. secretariat while the Organization of American States (OAS) was considering the problem in Washington.

Iron Worker Drives Car Down Rock Slide

SCENES WHEN WHISKY BURNED AT DISTILLERY

Flames consuming storage building of American Distilling Co. on edge of Sausalito were at their height as this photo was taken Saturday night. Three buildings, extending for over 100 yards along Bridgeway Boulevard, went up in the fire that did damage estimated at about two and one-half million dollars—to say nothing of about one and three-quarter millions lost to the federal government in taxes on the booze. Yet the distilling company hopes to have the plant producing again within three weeks.

CHARRED OAK CASKS — Whiskey labels sometimes proclaim the stuff was aged in "charred oak casks"—but none as charred as those in American Distilling storage building on which firemen pour water through open door during Saturday night distilliery blaze.

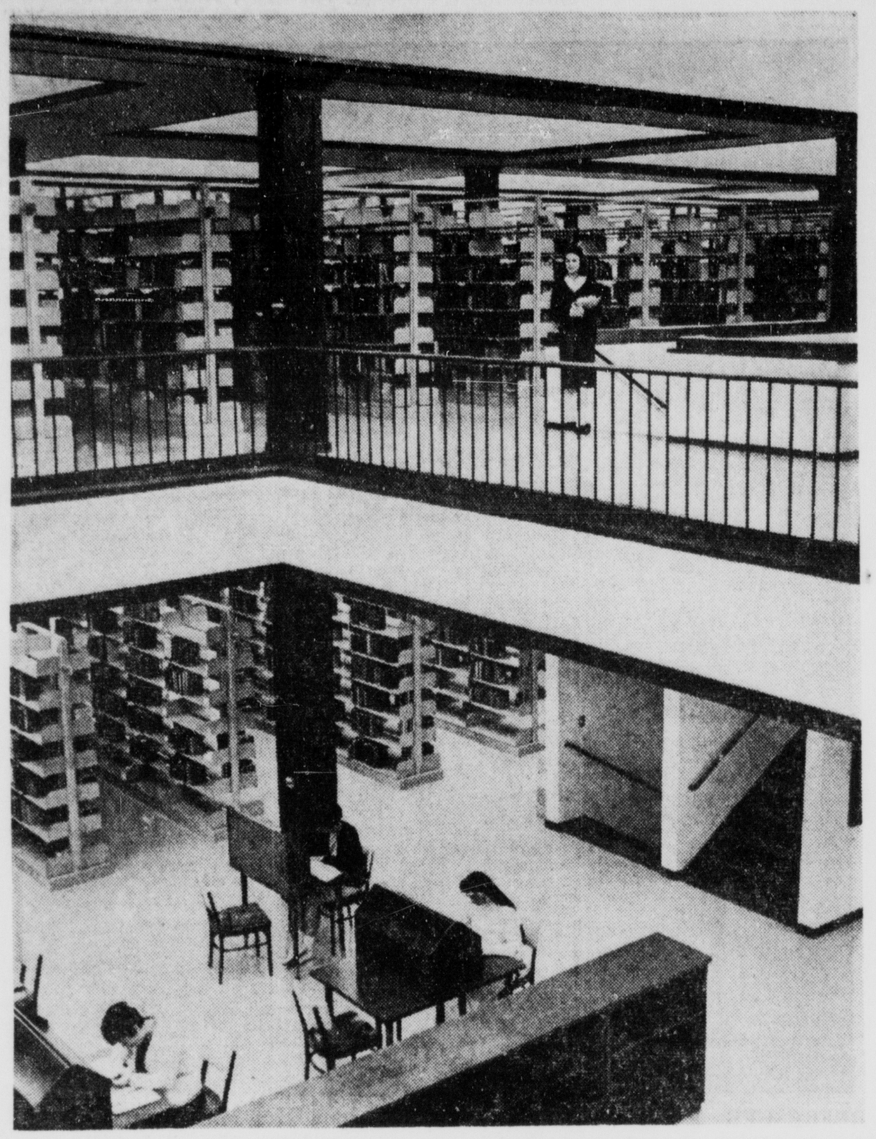

REFRESHER FOR FIREMEN — Juanita Musson, a raincoat over her muumuu, pours coffee for County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom at distillery fire scene. Mrs. Musson was on hand with coffee from Juanita's Galley for the throng of smoke-eaters who fought the blaze.

MANY DEPARTMENTS ON HAND —Tiburon Fire Department was among many that assisted Sausalito and Marin County in fighting distillery fire. Here, Tiburon firemen play hose on barrels of whisky in storage building. Many barrels exploded, but some survived the blaze.

STILL INTACT—After the fire was over, unbroken barrels remained on steel frame which stood like skeleton, the building that housed it consumer by fire. (All photos on this page by Bob Hax and Harold Mathias, Independent-Journal photographers)

NEW LIBRARY AT DOMINICAN—Ample shelf and study space is provided in the million-dollar Archbishop Alemany Library at San Rafael's Dominican College, which will be dedicated by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken of the San Francisco Catholic Archdiocese in ceremonies at 5 p.m. Wednesday. (Jim Kean photo)

New Library At Dominican College Will Be Dedicated On Wednesday

Dedication of the Archbishop Alemany Library on the campus of San Rafael's Dominican College will be conducted at 5 p.m. Wednesday by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken.

Allowing Dominican space to double its present book collection, the new building is notable for its open quality with tree and hill vistas from all windows, together with an enclosed garden for outdoor study, combined with practical arrangements of lobby, reading areas, reference rooms, and space for movement without disturbance of readers.

An indoor nook with easy chairs and fireplace provides for relaxed reading while smoking will be permitted in the outside area. A large foyer contains circulating desk, card catalogs and exhibition cases. Open-shelf reference and general volumes are in two areas leading right and left from the vestibule.

Bound periodicals and other general reading volumes will be located on a second floor which will also contain four seminar rooms, listening rooms, curriculum library, faculty reading room and staff room. Downstairs in the same area are administration offices and processing rooms.

The building is named after the first archbishop of San Francisco, a Spanish Dominican friar. Archbishop Joseph Sadoc Alemany was responsible for establishing in California the order now including the Dominican Sisters of San Rafael.

Wednesday's dedication program will start with an academic procession to the new library where Archbishop McGucken will bless the library and the crucifix for its foyer.

Conferring of academic honors will follow with Dr. Marshall Dill Jr. representing the college faculty and receiving nine new members into Gamma Sigma, the college honor society.

The archbishop will be honored at a 6:30 p.m. dinner in Caleruega Hall with Judge Carlos R. Freitas of San Rafael presiding and attorney William L. Ferdon of San Francisco as speaker.

More than 1,100 students of San Rafael elementary and high schools will participate in the 13th annual All-City Schools Music Festival May 19 at 2:30 p.m. in the San Rafael High School gymnasium, according to Hugo Rinaldi, director of music.

Participating will be the orchestras, band and choirs of San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools; the string orchestras, bands and choirs of Davidson and Santa Venetia junior high schools, and the combined string orchestra, band and 400 voice choir of the elementary schools.

Supt. Bert C. Corona will present awards and scholarships totaling $1,100 to students who will be selected from 80 finalists to be auditioned Friday at San Rafael High School and Davidson. The Max F. Walten Award will be given to the outstanding student.

Taxable Sales Are Up 9.8% In County

Taxable sales in Marin retail stores last year were 9.8 per cent above the previous twelve months, according to figures released to the Independent-Journal by the State Board of Equalization.

Total of taxable retail sales was given as $145,606,000 for 1963, compared with $132,781,000 the previous year.

Biggest percentage gain was in building materials, which climbed 17.5 per cent from $13,130,000 to $15,435,000.

Only decrease was in drug store sales, down 17.5 per cent from $7,920,000 to $6,531,000. Believed to account for this drop was exemption of prescription drugs from the sales tax, which went into effect last year under a law sponsored by Marin's State Sen. John F. McCarthy.

Automotive sales were up 15 per cent; home furnishings and appliances, 11.2 per cent; taxable items in food stores, 10.9 per cent; apparel and general merchandise stores' sales, 9.8 per cent; eating and drinking places, 6.3 per cent; packaged liquor stores, 4.6 per cent, and "other retail stores," 9.2 per cent.

Fairfax led in percentage gain among the cities, with 13.3 per cent, closely followed by San Rafael with 12.9 per cent, Mill Valley with 12.8 per cent, and Corte Madera with 12 per cent. Only city with a decline in taxable retail sales was Larkspur, where the total dropped 5.8 per cent.

Novato retail sales were up 8.2 per cent; Sausalito, 2.6 per cent, and San Anselmo, 1 per cent. Sales in the unincorporated areas increased 5.5 per cent. No totals were announced for Belvedere and Ross.

Total taxable sales by cities were: San Rafael, $66,753,000; Mill Valley, $14,136,000; Corte Madera, $11,755,000; Novato, $8,234,000; Sausalito, $8,795,000; San Anselmo, $7,859,000; Fairfax, $4,251, and Larkspur, $3,417,000. Novato passed up Sausalito to place third among the cities. Sales in the unincorporated areas totaled $19,096,000.

Biggest dollar total in any classification was in the automotive group, which did $33,976,000 of taxable business. Next came eating and drinking places, with $18,899, followed by taxable items in food stores, $17,671,000, and general merchandise stores, $17,247,000.

Sausalito School Registration Set

They Hate To Hike Supervisors' Pay

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Nothing appears to gall state legislators so much as voting pay increases for county supervisors.

The lawmakers themselves get $6,000 a year. More and more supervisors are getting paid more than that. But the supervisors get pay raises voted by the legislature. The lawmakers must go to the people.

The electorate is perennially tightfisted with the salaries of senators and assemblymen. It turned down two ballot propositions raising their pay just last year.

But the legislators, albeit with much grumbling, usually go along with higher salaries for the supervisors.

At least 12 bills have been introduced to this effect this year. All are believed assured of passage. The increases would go to supervisors in Mono, Nevada, Madera, Marin, San Diego, Plumas, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Butte, Tulare, San Bernardino and Fresno counties.

In sparsely-populated Mono County, for example, supervisors would get $3,000 a year rather than $2,400. Other proposed increases include Marin ($6,000 to $9,600), San Diego ($8,400 to $12,500), San Mateo ($9,600 to $12,000), Santa Barbara ($7,500 to $10,000) and Tulare ($9,000 to $10,200).

On the Assembly side, these bills are first considered by the municipal and county government committee, headed by John T. Knox, (D-Richmond).

Knox's administrative assistant, Tom Willoughby, remarks that the committee has two rules of thumb for passing a bill onto the Assembly floor:

1. The board of supervisors in question must endorse it.

2. The county's grand jury must recommend it.

Bills for salary increases seldom, if ever, are introduced without such endorsements.

When the bills come to either the Assembly or Senate floor a ritual ensues which may send vistors in the galleries home with a funny feeling about the sanity of some of their representatives in Sacramento.

Everyone whistles in great surprise that anyone could contemplate raising a supervisor's pay over that of a legislator.

But the bills invariably get a unanimous vote.

There have been proposals, half-seriously made, to pass a statute giving the people the final say-so over supervisorial salaries.

Some lawmakers have a sneaking suspicion that electorate would be about as generous with its supervisors as with its legislators.

Marin County Board To Meet On Franchise For Television Booster

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will be asked to grant a franchise for distribution television booster signals to a San Rafael television repair service.

Robert D. Lewis, operator of Bob's TV and Sound of San Rafael, in a letter to the board, has requested the franchise "to provide reception for both television and FM stereo in areas where it is difficult to obtain adequate reception."

Lewis' firm already operates signal booster equipment in San Geronimo Valley.

Supervisors William D. Fusselman and George Ludy have said they have received "many complaints" about Lewis' service here, and asked for discussion of the franchise.

Lewis stated his request for the franchise "has nothing to do with other communications you may have received. I have intended for some time to communicate with you on the franchise request."

He said Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. requires the franchise so that reception equipment may be hooked up with telephone poles.

The board will meet at 9 p.m. in the Civic Center, and the franchise request will be heard at 11 a.m.

Other matters to be considered include proposed mutual fire protection of Angel Island by the county and state, and further discussion of recreation facilities for senior citizens.

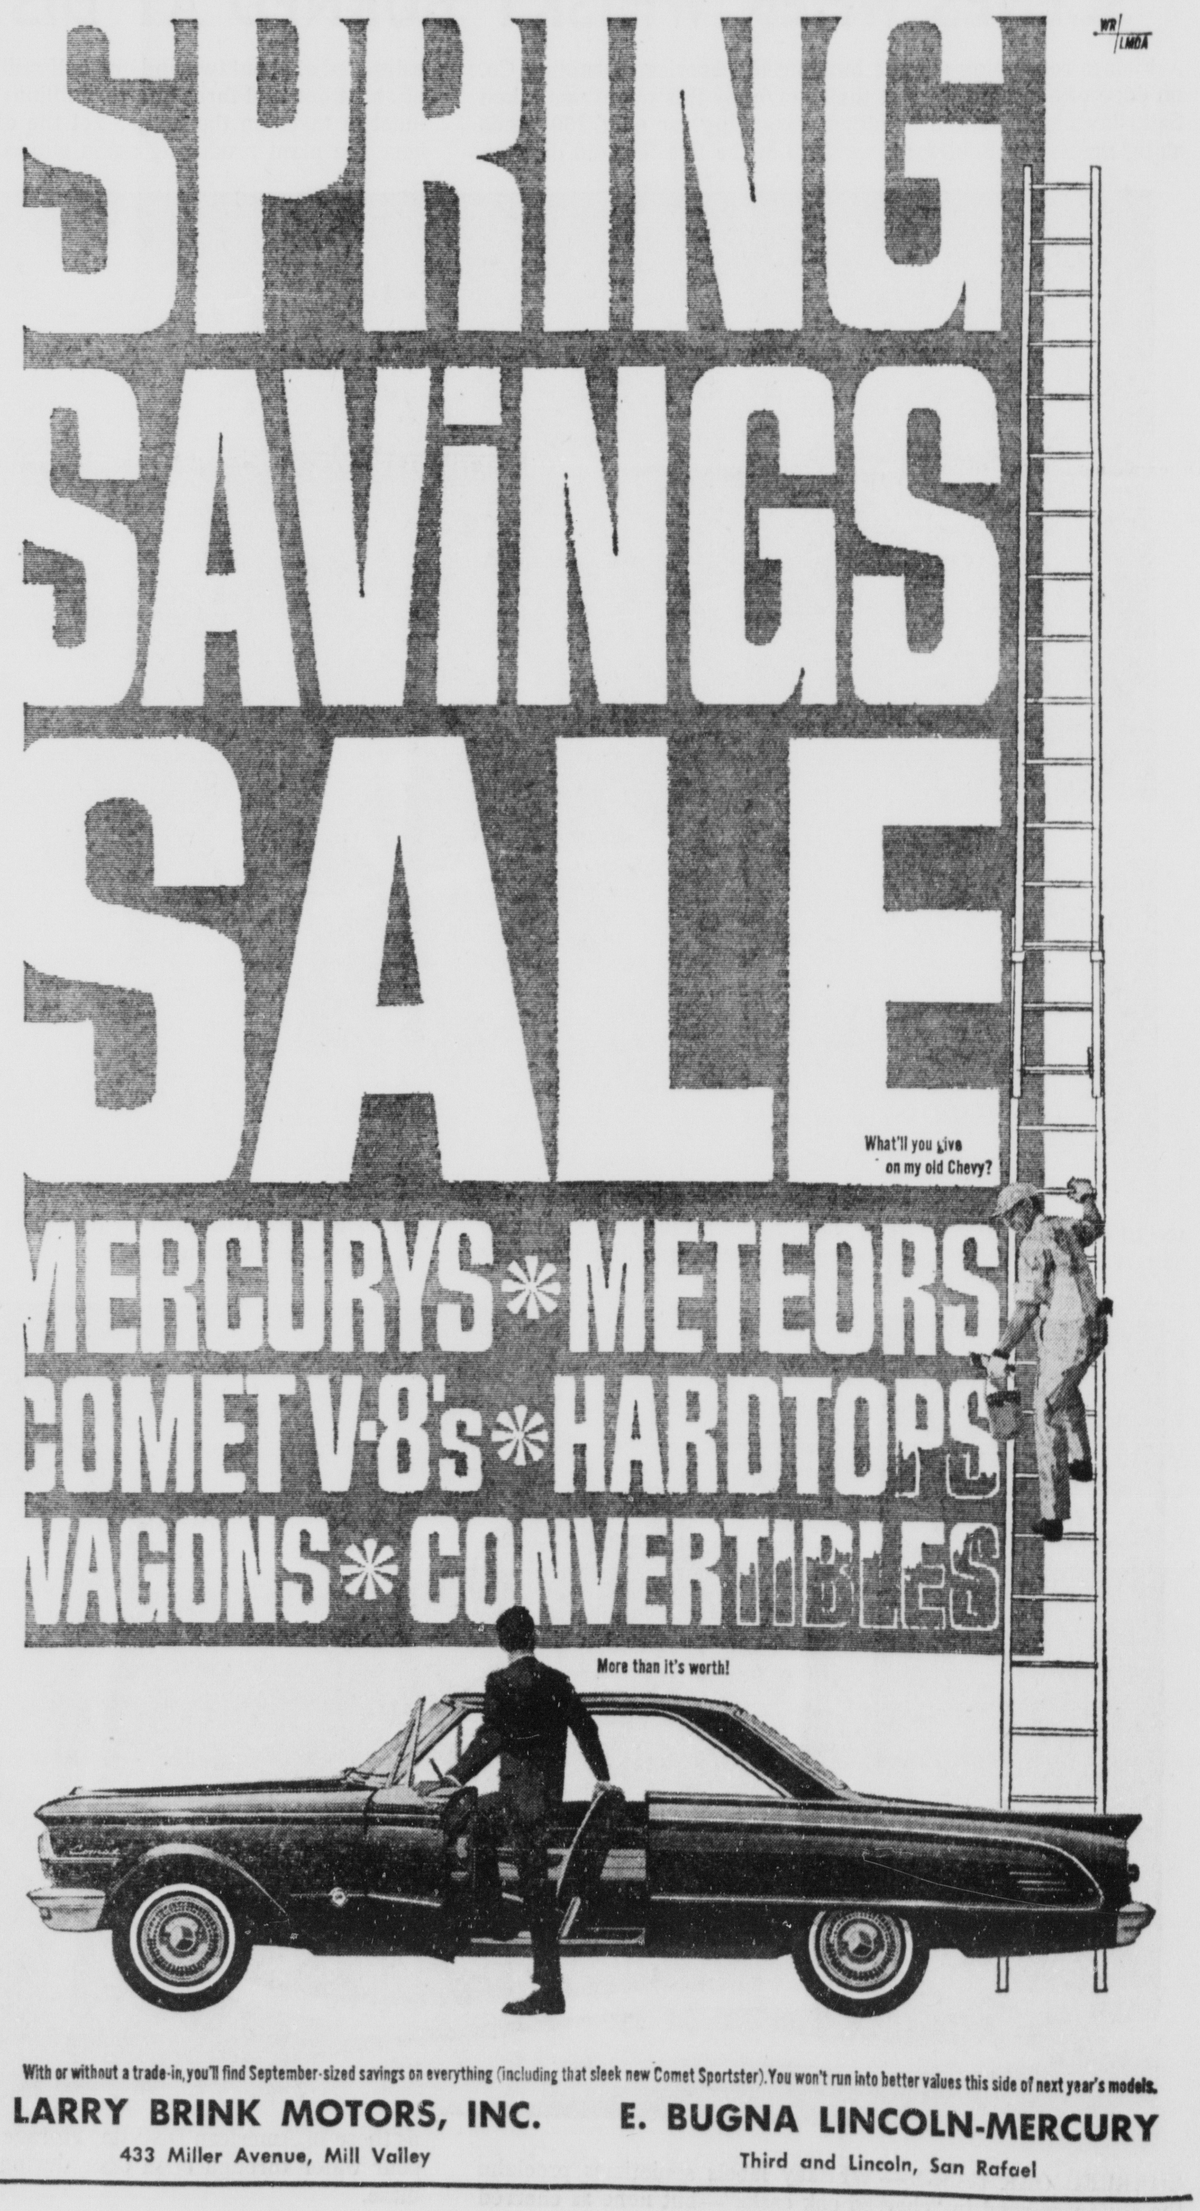

Richardson Bay Flood Control Is Subject

Proposed legislation affecting the Richardson Bay flood control project will be discussed at a meeting of the Marin County Flood Control Advisory Commission today at 8 p.m. in Room 413 at the Civic Center.

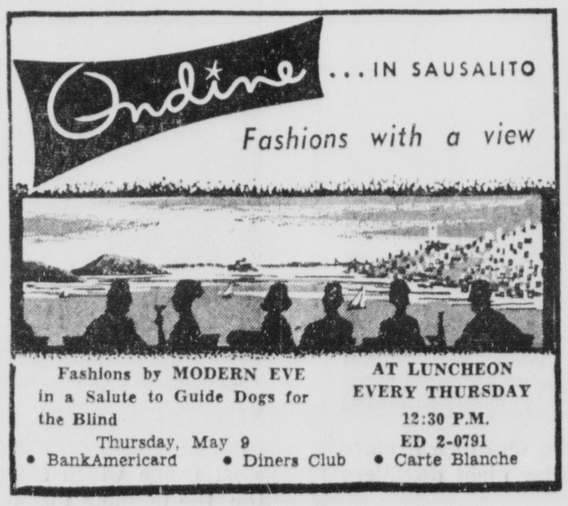

The Army Corps of Engineers will hold a public hearing on the project on May 22 at 2 p.m., in the board of supervisors chambers in the Civic Center.

EUREKA (AP) — A three-time candidate for Congress from the First California District was acquitted of seven counts of assault with a deadly weapon.

Watkins contended that he merely intended to scare them by shooting near them. He told jurors he planned to turn his 1,200-acre property into a hunting and fishing resort.

Negro Loses Bitter Fight To Head Young Demo Unit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A group of young liberals, who beat down an attempt by a Negro to be elected president of the California Federation of Young Democrats, today had control of the 5,000-member volunteer organization.

They retained the leadership yesterday in a bitterly-fought battle for the presidency between Josiah Beeman, 27, of San Francisco, and Negro Bill Greene, 31, of Los Angeles.

The fight at one point led to a walkout from the convention by Greene forces, both Negroes and whites, and a threat that they would form their own organization with Greene as its president.

If Greene had been elected, he would have been the first member of his race to head the federation in its 13-year history. But he lost on a roll call vote, 2,241 to 2,421, a margin of 180.

Before adjourning the convention, delegates adopted a resolution agreeing to send a letter to President John F. Kennedy, the governor of Alabama and the mayor of Birmingham expressing their concern over recent racial incidents in the Southern city.

Greene backers bolted the convention Saturday afternoon when they lost a test challenge of the credentials committee over accreditation of some delegates from San Francisco State College.

But they returned early yesterday morning after a series of "summit" conferences. Turner Bobbitt, president of the 646-member Frederick Douglas Club in Los Angeles, announced they had reconsidered "for the good of the Democratic Party."

Greene, in an obvious reference to an anonymous letter charging that Negroes were trying to "take over" the federation, told the delegates: "There has been a lot of mystery and intrigue surrounding this convention and there have been an awful lot of attempts to manipulate things."

Beeman called upon the delegates to "be about your work," said he stood for a "liberal, independent organization" and that he didn't owe my soul nor my livelihood to any other man."

This was an obvious reference to the fact that Greene is a state Assembly clerk. Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Inglewood) has been a target of attack by liberal groups.

Greene, a former freedom rider arrested a number of times in the South, said he was hurt by his close identification with Unruh and also because he "couldn't go for the ultra-liberal resolutions."

The federation's platform and resolution committee adopted a 1963 platform calling, among other things, for elimination of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and favoring admission of Red China to the United Nations.

But the 13th annual convention ran out of time before the resolutions could reach the floor for action.

Astronaut Candidate Speaks Out

OAKLAND (AP) — "They tell me that by the time you get into orbit, it's just like driving your car down to the supermarket."

The first Negro picked for the man-in-space program of the United States is speaking.

Edward J. Dwight Jr., a 29-year-old Air Force captain of Edwards Air Force Base, has been visiting with his wife and two children at the Oakland home of his aunt, Mrs. Rona Dennis. They returned last night to Edwards.

Since the March 30 announcement of his selection:

"I've received between 500 and 600 letters from all over the United States and abroad. Not one has been derogatory. It's had nothing but good effect."

NASA Head Says Russ May Get To Moon First

CHICAGO (UPI)—The nation's top space official conceded today the Russians may beat the United States to the moon.

But James E. Webb, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said this nation is making a vigorous effort "which gives us a chance to be first and assurance that in any event we will not be out-distanced."

Webb keynoted the opening of a four-day national conference on the peaceful uses of space.

The meeting concludes Midwest space month, an event sponsored by the NASA and Midwestern businessmen to outline the progress of space reserch and to tell area companies how to get a larger share of contracts. About 1,000 businessmen and 900 teachers and students attended the opening session.

Webb told the conference lunar exploration "will have scientific, psychological and strategic value" for the United States.

Most important, he said, it will "assure that space, as the oceans and the atmosphere, will be used for the benefit of all mankind and not as a theater for communist aggression or communist propaganda."

Being second on the moon would be "serious," Webb said, but "not being in the competition at all would be a severe defeat for America and for the cause of democracy and freedom."

Webb said NASA is carefully considering a recommendation by scientists attending a space seminar at the State University of Iowa last summer that scientists accompany the astronauts in voyages to the moon.

The first landing will require men "with the maximum of test flight experience and highly conditioned reflexes," he said. Thoroughly trained scientists with knowledge of geology, astronomy and biology may go along on subsequent flights.

Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. is scheduled to make his 22-orbit flight around the earth on May 14. The flight could go more than 22 orbits or less, Webb said, depending on how scientists are satisfied with the flight data.

Lobbyists' Fees Are Barred In Philippine War Claims Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate negotiators gave in today and accepted a House plan for paying Philippine war damage claims to individual claimants but barring fees to lobbyists who pushed the bill.

They agreed to a compromise retaining the basic form of the 1962 claims law and scraps a Senate-approved rider to pay the 73 million dollar maximum involved directly to the Philippine government.

The measure, however, bars any payment in a claims case to any "corporation, association, firm or other individual or party whatsoever."

No claimant could receive his money until he certified that he was not paying anything to any agent.

The provision was written into a 1.5 billion dollar catch-all supplemental money bill. The Senate-House conferees also agreed on all other differences. Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Tex) chief house conferee, said he hoped to bring the bill before the House later today.

The Senate had voted overwhelmingly to pay the claims money directly to the Philippine government after disclosures that Washington lobbyists, including attorney John A. O'Donnell, stood to reap huge fees from the present law.

The Senate foreign relations committee also disclosed that O'Donnell made campaign contributions to more than 20 members of Congress in 1960 while lobbying for the present act.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Expense Account Rules Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Witnesses told an Internal Revenue Service hearing today that proposed expense account regulations have businessmen completely confused and even cringing from their legal right to wine and dine business prospects.

They charged that the question "to spend or not to spend" now is so baffling that the average expense account executive is keeping a tight zipper on his wallet.

DISRESPECT

Arthur J. Packard, representing the American Hotel and Motel Assn., said the new rules "will causes a disrespect for the law comparable to the prohibition era."

Others said the regulations were putting a crimp in business and causing unemployment, particularly in the restaurant and hotel industries.

FAVORABLE

Spokesmen for salesmen groups, clubs, hotels, accounting firms, and restaurants took turns verbally flailing the new code.

The only favorable sentiment came from Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, who said the regulations "reflect a liberal view" and strike a fair balance between restricting abuses . . . and not imposing undue restrictions on legitimate business activity."

Dangling Soldier Saves Self

A man seen dangling below Yellow Point near the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday "rescued" himself before Coast Guardsmen could get to him.

Fort Baker officials got a call from the Coast Guard saying "a boy" had been dangling from a rope over the sheer face of the cliff.

The "boy" turned out to be T/Sgt. Oliver B. Cleavenger, 35, of the 78th Air Police Detachment of Hamilton Air Force Base.

He said that following old practice he had tied a 100-foot rope to a tree at the top of the bluff and lowered himself to a ledge to fish.

Cleavenger had collected his limit and started back up the rope about the time the Coast Guard saw him.

Car Hits Tree In San Anselmo

Two persons were treated for cuts and bruises early today after the car they were in hit a tree in front of 12 Lincoln Avenue, San Anselmo, around 2:30 a.m.

Elizabeth McIntosh, 45, 363 Hibiscus Way, San Rafael, was reported in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today after treatment for bruises and knee scratches. She told San Anselmo police she didn't know why she had hit the tree.

Her passenger, Joseph Ferg, 60, of 240 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, was released from the same hospital after treatment for a chest pain and abrasions.

Man Is Jailed For Assault

A 36-year-old Kentfield man was jailed last night for assault and battery and disturbing the peace by San Rafael police after he allegedly hit a San Rafael man who was trying to place him under citizen's arrest.

Officer Phillip Green responded to a call to the Pago Pago Bar at 803 Fourth Street, San Rafael, at 5:08 p.m. Bartender John Goviea said Owen K. Perry of 946 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, had started several fights with customers.

Robert Wunder of 1 West End Avenue, San Rafael, attempted to place Perry under citizen's arrest. Perry, according to Officer Green, responded by hitting Wunder in the face. Green then arrested Perry and took him to jail, where he was held on $472.50 bail for a hearing in court today.

Mill Valley 'Can't Afford Raise Plan'

Mill Valley City Council decided Saturday that the city can't afford a two-step pay raise across-the-board for city employees without a substantial tax increase.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants' two-step pay hike proposal, estimated to cost $34,000, was toned down to a one-step raise totaling $17,000, plus $6,700 worth of upward adjustments to "integrate" the city schedule with a standardized state step plan.

The councilmen said they'd like to pay more, but just couldn't finance it.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said a check of the records showed that five years ago, 47.5 per cent of the city budget went for salaries, and the new proposed budget, with a two-step increase and additional positions, would devote 56.5 per cent to salaries.

At that rate, in another 10 years, salaries and benefits would be up to 75 per cent and there would be nothing left for streets or anything else," Sheeks said.

Almcrants said Mill Valley's present salaries are lower than those of several other cities in Marin. He compared the basic police and fire salary of $515 per month to $589 in San Rafael and $608 for the sheriff's office.

Councilman George Blackwell didn't think such comparison was appropriated because "San Rafael is a richer city."

Almcrants said city employees shouldn't be paid on that basis, but should receive "equal pay for equal work."

"Well, then," replied Blackwell, "we should pay you $30,000 a year like the city manager of San Francisco."

Councilman William M. Secor said he couldn't agree to a two-step increase because the city adopted an improved pension system last year "in lieu of a step increase."

Another comment by Secor touched off spirited rebuttals from Police Chief Dan Terzich and Ross Benson, superintendent of public works. Secor said that if a man "wants to be a policeman and wants to make more money he should get out and go to San Francisco" where salaries are higher.

"It's all very well to talk about 'letting him go' where he can make more," declared Terzich, "but we don't want them to go.

"We've got the best damn police department in the State of California, whether you know it or not."

Benson said he couldn't "keep them happy" on a step or step-and-a-half pay increase in his department. "I just can't hire people at $365 a month," he said.

The councilmen left it up to Almcrants to work out a schedule of increases within the $23,000 which they decided the city could afford.

State Insurance Industry Fighting Brown's Accelerated Tax Program

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's insurance industry came out fighting today against Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax acceleration program.

John McFarland, a San Francisco attorney acting as spokesman for 700 life insurance companies, told a news conference: "The insurance industry would be used as a convenient conduit from the taxpayers to the administration."

He said the insurance firms would be forced by the program now before the legislature, to pay an additional 66 million dollars in calendar 1964.

"Like in any other business," he said, "this would be passed on to the public. It would mean another raise in insurance rates."

McFarland estimated the boost could be as much as 2 per cent.

Brown hopes to raises 163 million dollars extra money for fiscal 1963-64 by accelerating business taxes and having them paid on a quarterly basis.

The Assembly revenue and taxation committee Wednesday will consider administration-sponsored bills on the acceleration.

McFarland made public findings of Joseph Froggatt and Co. Inc., an accounting and auditing firm, claiming that the insurance industry in California already is paying more than a fair share of state taxes.

The report showed that in the four-year period from 1958-62 the insurance industry paid state taxes totaling 189 million dollars more than they would have paid if they had been assessed in the same manner as all banks and corporations doing business in the state.

'Pillow Case' Burglar Strikes In Sausalito

Two homes were entered in Sausalito Friday, police reported today, with $1,500 in furs and cameras stolen and one burglar apparently using a pillow case to carry off his loot.

Alice Stohler reported at 9:25 p.m. Friday she returned to her apartment at 50 Rodeo Avenue at 6:30 p.m. to find a mink stole, a hip-length mink coat, and two cameras were missing.

Her bed had been turned back, she said, and a pillow slip taken. The front door was unlocked and a ladder was against the south side of her apartment near an overhanging porch. She placed $1,500 value on the belongings taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon O'Brien reported at 5:35 p.m. Friday their home at 138 Buchanan Drive had been entered sometime during the day and a Norwegian fox stole and a television set taken.

They gave no estimate of the value. There was no sign of forced entry, police said, but the O'Briens said doors and windows had been locked.

Driver Injured; Hit Light Pole

Howard J. Adrian, 32, of 84 Cypress, Mill Valley, was in fair condition today at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco with a head injury suffered in an automobile accident Saturday night.

Adrian was observed driving erratically on Almonte Boulevard at 7:35 p.m., according to the California Highway Patrol. Witnesses told the patrol his car drifted off the road near Helen Avenue and hit a light pole.

Marin General Hospital treated Adrian for a concussion, then transferred him to Kaiser Hospital. There was no other occupant of the car.

1,800 At Stinson Wild Flower Show

There were 1,800 visitors over the week end to the sixth annual Stinson Beach wild flower show.

Admissions brought in about $1,000, Mrs. William Sherfey, co-sponsor, said, which will be used to landscape Stinson's three community buildings, the firehouse, chapel and center.

Six hundred varieties of flowers were displayed, Mrs. Sherfey reported, but none was from above the 1,000-foot altitude owing to late rains making it a late flowering season. Also due to rains, the four sponsors drove more miles to collect the flowers. Mrs. Charles Griffin of San Diego drove 2,000 miles; Mrs. Sherfey, Mrs. Edward E. Leary and Mrs. Kenneth Shockey each drove 1,500 miles.

Giants Wondering: What's Wrong With Billy Pierce?

MILWAUKEE (AP) — What, if anything, is wrong with Billy Pierce?

It's a question that San Francisco Giants supporters are asking with increasing concern today as the defending National League champions take an off-day in Milwaukee before facing the Braves tomorrow night.

Pierce, the 16-6 veteran wonder of 1962, is only 1-3 in 1963 and he's been knocked from the box three straight times—the most recent by the lowly New York Mets.

The 36-year-old left-hander didn't make it through four innings yesterday as the Giants lost the second game of a double-header to the Mets 4-2 after taking the opener 6-3.

The split left them tied with the St. Louis Cardinals for second place, four percentage points behind Pittsburgh. Because the Pirates have played five fewer games than the Giants or Cards, they're actually a half-game behind the second-placers.

Pierce wasn't bombed too hard by the Mets but neither did he display last year's effectiveness.

Since shutting out Houston April 16, he's been knocked out by Chicago in the fifth inning, by St. Louis in the sixth and in one relief appearance walked the only man he faced.

Pierce served up a two-run homer to Cliff Cook in the first inning that put the Mets ahead to stay. He departed in the fourth after Charlie Neal doubled and Gil Hodges singled him home with none out.

Don Larson and Jim Duffalo held the Mets to one run after that but the Giants could manage to score only twice off Carl Willey.

Jim Davenport, back in the lineup for the second day since his left thumb was injured by a line drive April 29, scored in the fifth on Willie Mays' single.

Tom Haller pinch-hit a triple with two out in the ninth and drove in an unearned run.

The opener was brighter for the Giants as Jack Sanford won his fifth game against one loss, striking out ten and giving up eight hits.

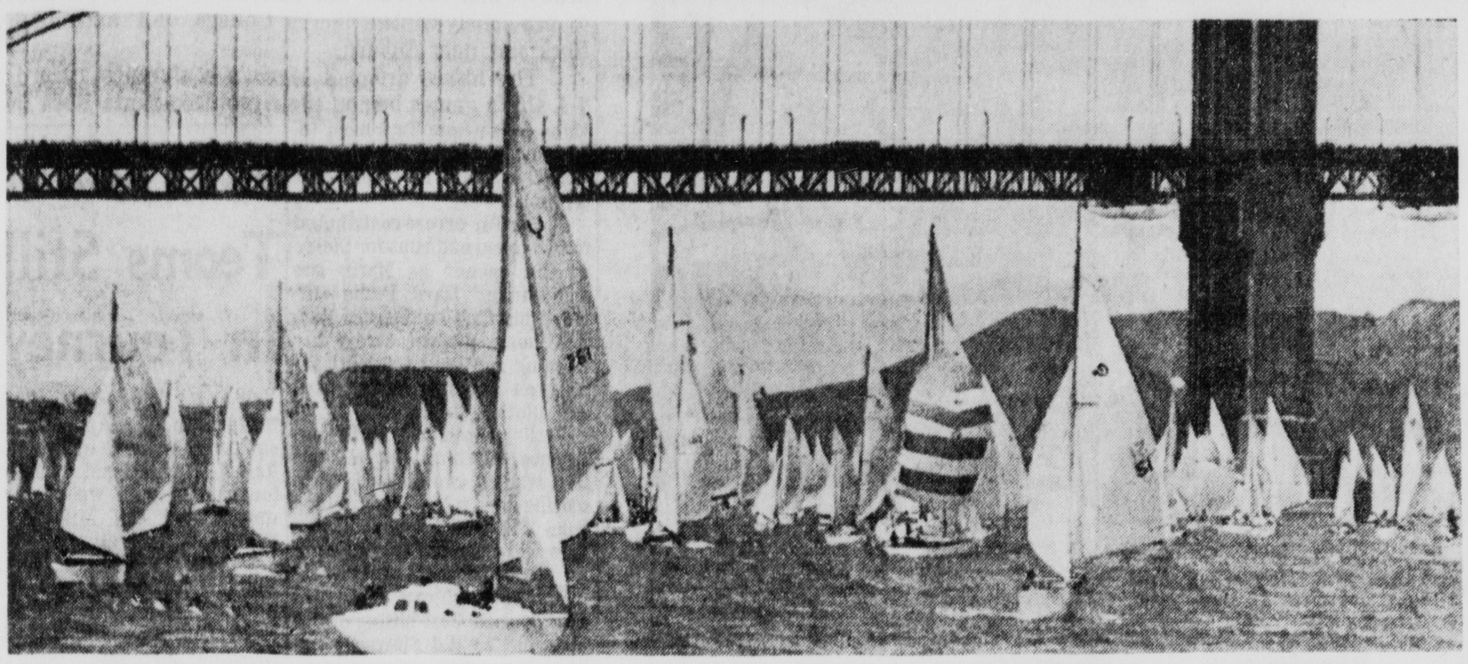

Willie Mays belted a three-run homer in the first inning that proved tne winning margin. Mets' starter Galen Cisco walked Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou ahead of Mays' homer.

The Mets scored once in the second but Alou belted a two-run homer off Cisco in the fourth. The Giants picked up another run in the fifth as for a time heavy rain threatened to halt the game before it had gone the legal five innings.

The homers were Nos. 5 for Mays and Alou.

Juan Marichal, 3-2, is expected to open the Braves series for the Giants.

YACHTS OPEN SEASON WITH BREATHTAKING PARADE

This crowded scene of billowing sails beneath the Golden Gate bridge signaled the opening of the yacht season yesterday on San Francisco Bay. Hundreds of sail boats and power cruisers, all dolled up in a festive mood, paraded around the bay in a day filled with fun and plenty of color.

NICKLAUS HASN'T EVEN REACHED HIS PEAK YET

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, who owns virtually all the prized possessions of the golfing game as well as the most dollars for the year, has unpleasant news for his fellow gentlemen of the greens.

He isn't even at his peak yet.

Jack, richer by $13,000 after his almost casual victory in the $60,000 Tournament of Champions yesterday, was asked if he thinks he is at the top of his game.

Eyebrows raised in surprise, he exclaimed: "I certainly hope not. I feel and hope I can improve.

"A man wants to improve at anything he does. That's how I feel about my future in golf."

Nicklaus capped his brilliant rounds of 64-68-72 with a 69 yesterday. He won the Las Vegas classic by five strokes with a 72-hole score of 273, 15 strokes under par.

CASPER WITHDRAWS

Bill Caspar Jr. was forced to withdraw because of a swollen, aching left hand after eight holes so Nicklaus' closest competitors were Arnold Palmer, the former king of the pros, and Tony Lema, who came in with a 66 to tie with Palmer at 278.

Palmer finished with a 68, but said, "I had a very unimpressive round. I was scrambling. I had quite a few putts that came up short."

The turning point of the tournament, Nicklaus said came on the 11th hole of the third round Saturday. He was paired with Casper who had just inched up to within one stroke of Nicklaus.

"I sank a good putt for a birdie two, and Bill missed his," said Jack. "That put me two shots ahead. Then Bill bogeyed the 12th to give me a three-shot edge. That gave me a big boost and confidence for the rest of the tournament."

Palmer and Lema each collected $5,300 for their second place tie.

Gardiner Dickinson, Ted Kroll and Bob Goalby were tied for the next spot and each won $2,900.

N.L. Dopesters Finding Entire Giants Lineup Unpredictable

CONNOLLY

As the handicappers around the hoss tracks would say—the S.F. Giants are not a formful team. You can's really make book on them, either on a day-to-day, week-to-week, or on a series-to-series basis.

Being a retired racetrack handicapper whose "Goose Pimples Selections" never caused any widespread comment, I have to classify the Giants as a very unpredictable entry in the National League flag race. They play in fits and jumps, being great one day, ordinary the next, and then awful. Baseball dopesters really get the whips and jingles trying to figure if the team will ever play back to its best form, and if it does, how long will it last. That sort of rating goes for almost every member of the club and doesn't refer alone to the pitchers.

This week may find the Giants staying on the beam as they've done since taking to the road. They meet Milwaukee tomorrow and Wednesday nights with the third and last game of the return series being an afternoon affair on Thursday.

Three times in succession the Braves stung the Giants at Candlestick Park. Two of those losses were downright gifts from our big-hearted team.

IF YOU really want to be honest about the Giants you have to admit they're a high-strung outfit, moody to the point at times of acting like they don't care. But it isn't so. They do care. When the Giants are steamed up they look like champions and act like they are unbeatable. Maybe they'll be charged up for Milwaukee and, if they are, you can wager they'll get revenge for the recent blow-up series in S.F.

After three games with Milwaukee, Manager Dark takes his crew into Los Angeles for a weekend three-games series, the first of the season with the Dodgers, playing two night games on May 10 and 11th and an afternoon setto on May 12. All games between these club will be televised in S.F. so the home folks will get closer to the Giants than if listening to radio.

FOR A club that is rated as not being formful, you'll have to agree they looked great against the N. Y. Mets. It was the first time this season the boys had an oldtime batfest and everybody looked to be in shape.

When fellows like Cepeda and Bailey start rolling, something has to give, but when the window smashers like Jimmy Davenport start hitting homers, you can just bet the 1962 champions are catching up with some of the pitchers who have had things pretty much their own way so far.

Before the Giants return to Candlestick Park on Tuesday night, May 14, they have a chore to take care of, like meeting the Santa Clara Broncos next Monday evening at the Buck Shaw Stadium on the university campus.

INASMUCH AS Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, is a regent of Santa Clara, there isn't much the players can say to donating their off day.

Pastrano, Thornton All Even In Ring; May Fight Again

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Light heavyweight boxers Willie Pastrano and Irish Wayne Thornton, all even after three whacks at each other, may try it a fourth time.

There had been one decision by the 23-year-old Thornton, from Fresno, Calif., in February, and a draw in the rematch in March, both in New York.

Co-promotors Mel Greb and Jack Doyle indicated interest in another rematch. And matchmaker Teddy Brenner of New York's Madison Square Garden, which promotes the Saturday night television bouts lost no time at ringside in urging the fourth match.

IT'S CRAZY, BUT . . .

Pennant For Cubs?

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Think you've heard everything?

Then just listen to those incredible Chicago Cubs talking pennant

Ernie Banks started the ball rolling this spring when he first planted the idea that the Cubs could win and now the notion is starting to take root among some of the other Chicago players.

Naturally, the Cubs aren't claiming any pennant yet but they are saying it's possible. And you know something? It is—the way they're playing now.

They climbed to within 1½ games of the National League lead yesterday by completing a three-game sweep against the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2 for their sixth victory in the last seven starts.

NO MANAGER

Sudden thought: Wouldn't that be a gasser if they did win? They'd become the first major league club ever to win the pennant without a manager. Bob Kennedy officially is still listed as "head coach" although he's carrying out all managerial duties.

Anyway, Ken Hubbs supplied what proved to be the winning run yesterday with a fifth inning sacrifice fly that scored Lou Brock. Merritt Ranew's first homer of the year gave the Cubs their first run off loser Tony Cloninger in the third inning and Ranew then singled home another run in the fourth. Cal Koonce was the winner although Jim Brewer and Lindy McDaniel both were summoned in from the bullpen in the ninth.

Elsewhere in the N. L., the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3; the San Francisco Giants split a doubleheader with the New York Mets, winning the opener, 6-3, and losing the nightcap, 4-2; Philadelphia beat Houston, 6-5, in the first game but dropped the second one, 6-2, and Cinncinati took the opener from St. Louis, 5-4, then lost the 10-inning nightcap, 7-4.

In the American League, the Minnesota Twins thumped the New York Yankees, 4-1; the Chicago White Sox blanked the Washington Senators, 8-0, but lost the nightcap, 8-7; the Boston Red Sox edged the Kansas City A's, 3-2; the Cleveland Indians defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 4-3, and the Detroit Tigers crushed the Baltimore Orioles, 12-4.

Pinch-hitter Lee Walls' three-run homer in the ninth powered the Dodgers to victory over the Pirates. Walls connected off reliver Harvey Haddix, who took over for loser Vern Law, making his first start of the season after being recalled from the minors. Reliever Ron Perranoski was credited with his fourth victory.

COLTS BLOW

The Colts blew a 5-0 lead to the Phillies in the opener but won the second game on Dick Farrell's seven-hit pitching. Bob Lillis and Bob Aspromonte each drove in two runs in the nightcap for the Colts, who had dropped three games in a row to the Phils this year and 17 out of 18 to them last year.

Southpaw Jim O'Toole won his sixth game for the Reds in their opener with the Cardinals although Al Worthington helped him out with three scoreless innings in relief. Worthington, however, was tagged for a two-run homer by Gene Oliver in the 10th inning of the nightcap. The blow climaxed a four-run rally and earned Bobby Shantz his first victory.

Reed, Jane Albert Reign As King, Queen Of Tennis

Reed, veteran international star from Alameda, had his hands full with Jim McManus of Berkeley yesterday before winning out 6-4, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4, in the finals of the state tourney here.

Miss Albert, daughter of the famed quarterback Frankie Albert, polished off Mimi Arnold of Santa Barbara 6-1, 6-3, teamed with Arvilla Manning of San Francisco to win the doubles against Rosemary Cassals of San Francisco and Jean Danilovich of Jackson, 6-3, 7-5; and then joined Ron Lowell of Fort Ord to win the mixed doubles.

Men's doubles were won by McManus and Don Jacobus of Berkeley over Cliff Mayne and Hugh Ditzler of Berkeley, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

San Rafael May Lose Swim Title On Technicality

Bulldogs Win Two Titles; Controversy In Varsity

But tomorrow is uncertain.

Scoring a total of 88 points in the varsity competition of the Marin Athletic League swim meet Saturday, San Rafael won over second place Tamalpais which scored 76 points. They were followed by Redwood with 59, Drake with 27 and Terra Linda with 10.

But a technicality caused much concern following the meet held in Tam's pool and it threatens to change the entire standings of the meet which would give Tamalpais High School the victory and San Rafael the second place spot.

San Rafael's Tom Brockband swam in the 200-yard medley relay instead of the listed Steve Graham. San Rafael won the event, with Tam coming in second. But a San Rafael disqualification would give Tam the event win and the triumph in the entire meet.

RULING LATER

Novato principal Robert McKeay, president of the Board of Managers of the MCAL, said today the board will meet to rule on the matter later this week.

Tamalpais High School principal Robert H. Prather was asked by the Independent-Journal if he thinks a ruling which would give his school a victory over San Rafael would be fair to the youngsters which competed for San Rafael, since the error was unintentional.

He replied:

"I feel that in an important meet such as this the league rules should be followed, even if it disappoints the boys. We would have had to take our lickings if it were our boys."

It was a walk-away for coach Larry Lack's lightweight swimmers as they scored 114½ points to 60 for Tam, 42½ for Terra Linda, 26 for Drake and 13 for Redwood.

It was a gala day for record crashing as five records were set in the 11 varsity events and seven marks established out of ten events in Class 8 competition.

Redwood's Don Keller, a double-winner last year, repeated again as a double winner and also set a record. He won the 200-yard freestyle in record time of 1:59.2 and then won the 400-yard freestyle in 4:22.4.

Tam's Tinsley Stetson also was a double winner, winning the 200-yard individual medley in record time of 2:14.2 and then winning the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:08.0.

DOUBLE WINNERS

In the lightweight competition, San Rafael had a pair of double winners. Jim Allen set a record of 1:58.6 in winning the 200-yard freestyle and came back to set another record in the 100-yard freestyle, winning in 53.9.

Tom Knopf of San Rafael won the 100-yard individual medley with a record swim of 1:03 and then came back with a victory in the 50-yard butterfly event. In one of the heats, he set a new record of 25.6, but won the final match in 26.3.

Other varsity records established were by Tam's Steve Bush with a 58.9 victory in the 100-yard butterfly and Dean Ferrandini's winning time of 1:02.5 in the 100-yard backstroke.

MARIN SUFFERS DOUBLE SETBACK

College of Marin's ambitions for a Golden Valley Conference baseball title were given a rude setback Saturday when the Tars lost both ends of a double-header to previously-winless Sierra College, 4-3 and 10-6 at Rockland, near Auburn.

The losses dropped Marin's conference record to 4-4, three games behind the first place Santa Rosa Bear Cubs (7-1) whom Tars meet tomorrow at Santa Rosa in an attempt to jump back into contention.

Three Tar errors contributed to two unearned runs for Sierra in the opener as Marin ace righthander Dave Perlis suffered his first conference loss. The hosts pushed across the winning run in the seventh inning on a single, stolen base and another single.

Perlis, who is now 2-1 in conference pitching, struck out five, walked two and hit a run-scoring triple. Rightfielder Mike Walsh had a double. The Tars were limited to four hits.

SIERRA RALLY

In the nightcap the Tars showed their best hitting of the year, but so did Sierra as the Wolverines rallied for all 10 of their runs in the last three innings.

Each team had 11 hits. For Marin Jerry Smith had a triple, double and single in five tries; Jim Lucas had a homer and single in five at-bats for three runs-batted-in; Perlis cracked a two-run double and single in five tries and Russ Honeyman also had a double and single in four at-bats.

Starter Ken Becker was the losing pitcher. He was relieved in the eighth by Honeyman.

The Tars committed five errors in the nightcap, giving Sierra two unearned runs. Sierra now has a 2-4 record.

Two Marin Teams Still In Tourney

The Billings-Hutchison Builders and San Anselmo Merchants remained in the San Rafael Invitational baseball tournament with weekend triumphs, but the Mill Valley Merchants were eliminated.

It took 11 innings for the Builders to defeat the Gino Benedetti from San Francisco 12-10 Saturday, and the San Anselmo Merchants knocked the Merchants of Mill Valley out of the tourney with a 9-1 victory in the Saturday nightcap.

Yesterday's action in the double-elimination affair saw Gateway Chevrolet drop Misracks 5-2 and Acme of Oakland fall to the Flying Goose team of San Francisco 7-5.

For the Builders, it was their second straight extra-inning game in the tourney, but this time they won. Bob DeRosa was the winning hurler after following four other pitchers to the mound.

In the top of the 11th, with two runners on base and two outs, the Builders scored the winning runs on a throwing error. Big hitting for the Builders was once again featured by Don Lauters with his second tournament home run.

Ernie Demattei smashed a double and two singles and Larry Smoot and Bob LeRosa each had a pair of singles.

PIERETTI LOSER

Ex-major leaguer Marino Pieretti was the losing picther for the San Franciscans and their hitting was topped by Walt Williams with a single and two doubles.

The Mill Valley-San Anselmo game was called after five innings because of the tourney rule that calls for a game to be called after five innings if one of the teams is in front by seven or more runs.

Laddie Richardson, winning pitcher for the San Anselmo nine, allowed four hits. Heavy hitting for San Anselmo was handled by third baseman Terry Farrell, who had two singles, and left fielder Ken Becker, who also collected a pair of hits.

Nicasio Softball Team Wins Season Opener On Homer

Bob Thompson smashed a two-out, three-run homer in the seventh inning to lead Rancho Nicasio softballers to a 9-7 victory over Misracks Friday in San Francisco.

Thompson's homer climaxed a four-run uprising as Nicasio won its opening game of the season. Dick Johnson pitched a seven-hitter for the victory, and aided his cause with two hits.

John Brookman hit a home run in the first inning for Nicasio. Brookman, the manager, said his team is on the lookout for a pitcher. Interested persons should get in touch with Brookman or Buzz Keaton.

In semi-final action, McCoy and Peg defeated Tom and Jean Price, 8-3, 8-3, and Colleto and Pat defeated Wayne and Jean Swigert, 8-3, 9-7.

TROUT SEASON OPENS

Plenty Of Fish For All

Marin's army of trout fishermen opened the 1963 season with a bang Saturday, relieving local lakes and streams of thousands of fish, including some whoppers.

For quantity, Lagunitas and Phoenix lakes shared honors as each had been stockpiled with 10,000 catchables by the Department of Fish and Game and each reportedly produced 7,000 for hungry anglers on the opening day.

But, for quality, Nicasio Lake was the champion, according to Game Warden Al Giddings, as it yielded the biggest fish of the day.

Kurt Kalemba, president of the Woodacre Improvement Club, apparently was the individual champion as he hauled in a four and on-quarter pound Rainbow trout that measured 22 inches in length. Unlike most other anglers, Kalemba left his bait on the bottom of the lake and played a waiting game that paid off in the fat and beautiful fish.

With Kalemba were two 11-year old lads who also struck it rich. They were Andy Giddings, the game warden's son, and his pal, Jeff Tachet. Andy had fish measuring 19 and 15 inches and Jeff a pair that were 14 inches.

Another youngster, 15-year-old John Thorne of Novato, showed a beautiful string of six trout that weighed a total of nine pounds, the largest tipping the scales at three and a half pounds.

The father-son team of Nat and 12-year-old Richard Romanin of Novato took fish measuring 18½, 15 and 12 inches from Nicasio, the largest weighing two and a half pounds.

About 600 anglers were at Nicasio's shores, and just about everyhone caught a creel-ful of blue gills.

Phoenix and Lagunitas lakes were jammed for the opener with many anglers arriving as early as 2 a.m. The anglers who fished shoulder-to-shoulder were rewarded with many limits. Giddings estimated 7,000 fish were taken from each lake, with some limits scored within an hour of opening time.

The Phoenix, Lagunitas fish averaged seven to nine inches.

Other lakes were slow, Giddings said.

Approximately 150 fished Papermill Creek and many got their limits, but the fish were small, on the average of only five inches long.

Game wardens reported the opening day throng was well-behaved and every angler who was checked had the required fishing license and two stamps.

HOCKEY FINALE TONIGHT

Seals, Seattle Go Down To The Wire

The San Francisco Seals, who appeared to be finished a week ago in the Western Hockey League playoffs, meet the Seattle Totems again tonight and this time the winner goes home with the loop championship.

A 45-foot blast by Danny Belisle at 2:01 in a sudden death period gave the Seals a 3-2 victory over the Totems last night at the Cowpalace and deadlocked the best-of-seven-games series at three victories apiece.

"We got the breaks tonight and whoever gets the breaks tomorrow will win it," Bud Poile, the Seals coach, said afterward while enjoying a beer in his team's crackerbox dressing room.

On the other side of the Cow Palace, Seattle coach Keith Allen stood back in the shadows and murmered, "our club has done things the hard way all season, so we're still keeping our form."

Allen said that he wished the decisive game could be played at Seattle instead of the Cow Palace where the entire series has been held.

SEATTLE NIXED

League President Al Leader said before last night's game that arrangements had been made so that the Totems could have returned home for the final contest. But the Seals nixed the idea and a playoff cannot be transferred unless both clubs agree to it.

The Seals, who were trailing Seattle three games to one earlier in this series, led 2-1 going into the final period last night only to have Jim Powers tie the score for Seattle at 8:13 of the third period.

Then came the third overtime of the series, Belisle ended it by hypnotizing goal-tender Al Millar with a 45-foot rocket some 30 seconds after the Totems net-minder had made a fine stop on Nick Mickoski.

George Konik got the Totems off to a 1-0 lead at 14:07 of the first period with a backhander past San Francisco's Jim McLeod. The Seals squared it a minute and one second later on Len Haley's shot while Seattle's Gordon Sinclair was in the penalty box.

Mickoski gave San Francisco a 2-1 edge with 1:10 played in the middle period when he broke loose for a solo dash and sank a 25-foot screamer. But Guyle Fielder set up Powers' tying goal with some deft stickhandling before the last regulation period ended.

Only two penalties were called after Leader warned both clubs that a repetition of Thursday night's rhubarbs — which featured 23 infractions —would result in fines starting from $25 up.

Apparently the fisticuffs didn't hurt the game any as a total of 11,869 turned out for last night's cleanly played contest. Tonight's final game will start at 8 o'clock.

COLLEGE TRACK

Stanford Thrower Sets Discus Mark

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

As the collegiate dual track meet season came to a close in California and near the end in the Northwest, Southern California remained "The Team" and C. K. Yang "The Man."

The weather remained "The Worst" for the thinclad participants on the Pacific Coast, who are developing into a hardy breed, even if they don't have good suntans.

Dave Weill, wearing a warm-up shirt against the cold winds in Berkeley, spun the discus 193 feet, 2 inches Saturday for a new NCAA record as his Stanford mates rolled to a 92-53 triumph over California in the 68th Big Meet.

The eclipsed record of 191-7½ also was the property of the 6-foot-7 270-pound senior from Walnut Creek. The world's record of 204-10½ belongs to Al Oerter, who has a pending 205-5½ achieved at the Mt. San Antonio Relays April 27.

Yang piled up 14 points for UCLA, but the rest of the Bruins were no match for USC, which won the meet, 99-46. USC has never lost to UCLA.

Yang won the broad jump and the pole vault, placed second in the javelin and third in the 120-yard high hurdles. The decathalon champion, who established a new point record for the 10 events at Mt. San Antonio, failed in three attempts to better the world pole vault record after winning with a 15-6 vault.

Brian Sternberg, who one week ago had the record at 16-5 before John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State soared 16-6¾ three days later, made 15-3¾ Saturday. He didn't try to go higher because of a sore arm.

His Washington team bowed 74-71 to Washington State as the meet went down to the mile relay, won by WSU in miserable weather.

No rain fell during the Oregon-Oregon State meet, but the track was sloshy from previous downpours. Defending NCAA champ Oregon triumphed, 80-65.

Todd Gaskill of California, helped by a 6.9 miles per hour wind, won the triple jump with the best mark in the nation this season, 49-11¾. Steve Cortright of Stanford finished second, but took both hurdle events and finished as the meet's high scorer. Larry Questad won the dash double for the victorious Indians.

U.S. Bags 108 Pan-Am Gold Medals

The track team led the American forces who collected 108 gold medals of 157 awarded at the Games, along with 55 silver and 37 bronze for second and third places.

That was more than twice as many as all the other nations combined in the two-week carnival which ended Sunday. Brazil was second with 14 golds.

The Yankee track forces, although they were weak in the sprints, grabbed 16 of the 23 track gold medals on the line, losing the 100, 200, 800 and 5,000 meters and 400-meter hurdles, plus the marathon and the 20,000-meter walk.

The girl track athletes won six of the 10 in their division.

Many U. S. track stars chose not to leave school or their jobs for the Games, especially with the Olympics coming up in Tokyo next year, which puts extra pressure on the lesser-knowns who came.

"This was a terrific demonstration by an American squad which was the best available at a bad time in the college academic year," said head coach Lou Montgomery of Cornell.

"Furthermore, the United States made a great step forward in Olympic preparations by uncovering a half dozen fine prospects who normally might never have made the Pan-Am squad.

Lindren won the 110-meter hurdles, Johnson the high jump, Martin the decathlon and the others were runners-up in the 220 meters, shot put and hammer throw, respectively.

S.R. Golfers Defeat Novato

Kentucky Victory 'Easiest' For Surprising Chateaugay

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Derby winner Chateaugay, a colt reportedly months away from his peak as a 3-year-old, may make the public forget the so-called big three of the Triple Crown set.

The son of Swaps carried the Darby Dan Farm colors into the winner's circle at Churchill Downs Saturday after he bowled over the big three like they were not even in the $151,400 race.

"The Derby was theeasiest race he's won since his first victory as a 2-year-old," trainer Jimmy Conway said, "I wasn't surprised that he won it—in fact, I thought he had a real good chance to get home first."

Conway said Chateaugay improves with every race and is far from his peak. "He runs better everytime he goes to the post. We think he will hit his peak next fall sometime, barring mishap."

Chateaugay, taken well off the pace by jockey Braulio Baeza, had so much left for the stretch run in the mile and one-fourth classic that he passed Never Bend and Candy Spots with no effort.

Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, making all the pace, finished second, 1¼ lengths back of Chateaugay.

Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, the 3-2 favorite and unbeaten going into the Derby, was third, a neck back of Never Bend.

Ambush Stable's On My Honor finished fourth and Greentree Stable's No Robbery, the other member of the big three with Candy Spots and Never Bend, was fifth.

The first four finishers now head for Baltimore and the second jewel of the Triple Crown, the Preakness at Pimlico. No Robbery, who bucked his shins, will have to miss this one.

"I told Braulio to just ride the horse," Conway said, "I didn't give him any special instructions."

Mesh Tenney, trainer of favored Candy Spots, said his colt "had a run at the leaders but just couldn't get to them."

"It wasn't the jockey," Tenney said, "I just think he came out because he was tired."

The victory, worth $198,900, was Chateaugay's fourth in four starts this year. He has total earning of $134,770, picked up in winning six of nine starts and running two seconds.

Never Bend's torrid fractions of :23 seconds, 46 2-5, 1:10, and 1:35 2-5, pushed Chateaguay across the finish line in good time of 2:01 4-5.

Cal And Washington Crews In Unique Tie

Crew titans Washington and California still don't know which one has the stronger boat this year.

With both schools claiming one of their best crews ever, the two rowed to an unheard of dead heat Saturday over a choppy Lake Washington in the 56th renewal of their series.

One judge saw it as a Bear victory; one as a Husky victory; and the third called it a tie.

Both crews were timed in 14:04 for the 2¾ miles—four seconds off the course record.

The two crews will settle their supremacy in the upcoming national row. Neither has been defeated as yet and one should be this year's national champion, according to the experts.

Knot Tied Tighter In CIBA Race

The knots were tied tighter than ever on the bitterly-disputed California Intercollegiate baseball race today.

Southern California took a tiny lead in the scrambled up race with a 10 decision over UCLA Saturday. The only Trojan run came when Kenny Washington Jr., son of a UCLA football great, doubled home Willie Brown, All-America halfback candidate, in the first inning.

Walt Peterson, now 4-1 in the CIBA, tossed the six-hit shutout.

Meanwhile, Stanford breezed past California 5-1, as lanky Jim Lonburg scattered eight hits. The Card ace is also 4-1 in the CIBA.

Tars Fourth In GVC Meet

College of Marin tied for fourth place in the Golden Valley Conference track meet Saturday in Santa Rosa, with the host school winning with a total of 164 points.

Sierra was second with 126 points, Yuba third with 46, followed by Marin and Shasta each with 28 points, Napa with 20, and Siskiyou with 8.

Marin's Dennis Nickel, Rich Brown and Barney Hope qualified for the Northern California Junior College trials which will be held in Modesto on May 14.

College of Marin point-makers:

Discus—Nickel, fourth, 124-3½.
440—Rich Brown, fourth, 52.7.
2 mile — Barney Hope, fourth 10:57.1.

Biggest Show Only One Night Stand

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest show in 50 years played Broadway last night—for just one performance.

To celebrate the golden anniversary of Actors Equity—the union of performers—a galaxy that no management could afford paraded across the stage of the Majestic Theater in highlights of many memorable Broadway hits.

Nostalgia jostled excitement all the way.

Participating in the program were Robert Preston, Barbara Cook, Vivian Blaine, William Warfield, David Wayne, Art Lund, John Forsythe, Paul Ford, Sally Ann Howes and Carol Channing.

The biggest ovations of the evening went to Bea Lillie, hilariously reprising a skit from the 1927 "Charlot's Revue," and Helen Hayes in the final, touching scene of "Victoria Regina."

Playwright Marc Connelly took part in an epsiode from Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," and even the White Goat turned up for a bit of "The Teahouse of the August Moon." There also was a special dance in memory of Bill Robinson.

Major attention was given to musicals, including "Oklahoma!" "My Fair Lady," "Porgy and Bess," "Guys and Dolls," and—representing the current season—"Little Me."

The anniversary show was produced by Jean Dalrymple, with all receipts going to the Museum of the City of New York.

"Isn't it nice," quipped master of ceremonies Cyril Ritchard as the show began, "to see so many actors working—for free."

Watching the one-only spectacular in the audience of 1,400 were four members of the original group of 112 performers who formed Equity in May, 1913.

Almost two-fifths of the brides and one-eighth of the grooms in 1962 marriages were teen-agers, according to the Population Reference Bureau.

Marin Concert Goers Have Great Weekend

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A program of classical symphonic music and one of operatic arias and art songs were offered Marin concert goers during the weekend.

Friday night was a memorable evening for lovers of the classic style when the Marin Symphony under Sandor Salgo played an all-Mozart program except for Stravinsky's neoclassic "Pulcinella Suite." Marin Catholic High School auditorium was filled nearly to capacity.

Yesterday afternoon's concert presented by tenor James Schwabacher in Olney Hall at the College of Marin—a benefit for the Tamalpais High School Chapter of the American Field Service—drew a small but enthusiastic audience.

Highlight of the symphony concert was Mozart's piano concerto No. 20, K. 466, with Gertrude Troutman of Novato making her first professional appearance in Marin. Her excellent performance revealed a special feeling for the serene and poetic aspects of Mozart's style, resulting perhaps in understatement of the other elements in this concerto distinguished among all Mozart concerti by passion, pathos and drama.

Salgo's integration and balance of the dialogue between the orchestra and the soloist was superb, with all instruments, both as separate choirs and tutti doing some of their best playing of the evening.

The opening Symphony No. 48 K. 551 went smoothly except for some excessive predominance of the violins at times, and

The opening Symphoany No. art's "The Marriage of Figaro" was given a spirited and most satisfying reading.

Stravinsky's "Pulcinella Suite" provided the humor and somewhat acrid harmonies that sharpened the palate between the Mozart numbers.

In a tastefully chosen and entertaining program that was almost a lecture-recital Schwabacher demonstrated the musicianship, musical intelligence and engaging personality for which he is widely renowned.

His stressing of bel canto in arias by Mozart, Handel, Rossini and Bizet, and songs by Purcell, Schubert and Faure was practically a guarantee of maximum appeal to most music lovers.

Contrasting with these were the very amusing limericks set to music in the contemporary idiom. And the Beethoven arrangements of Scottish, Irish and Welsh songs were interesting because of their revelation of a seldom-heard aspect of the composer's genius.

Pretty smart if you were smart enough to start buying your home instead of renting. Why? Well, as a home buyer you're eligible to borrow $7,500 through Pacific Plan. And you're very smart if you realize that the new low rates of $74.25 per month for a $7,500 loan are pretty low interest only rates for homeowners. And you're really cum laude if you know how much less you pay each month if you borrow from $1,000 to $10,000 through Pacific Plan and repay only $29.92 per $1,000 per month with the fully amortized loan. And take a short term 37 or 55 months to pay—because you're a smart homeowner. If you need a loan, perhaps the smartest thing you've ever done will be to call Pacific Plan. Pacific Plan—a California loan brokerage firm—in your Yellow Pages, of course.

Weaving – Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow

May 18 and 19 loom large on the calendar for a number of Marinites who are preparing for the 11th annual Conference of Northern California Handweavers, to be held then at San Francisco's Jack Tar Hotel.

Mrs. Betty Holcombe of Mill Valley is general chairman for the event, which is expected to draw attendance of nearly a thousand. Theme is "Weaving —Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow."

HIGHLIGHTS of the conference on May 18 will include a keynote speech, "The Civilizing Arts," by Charles Lindstrom, curator and director of art education at M. H. de Young Memorial Museum; demonstration of rug weaving, dyeing and silverwork by three Navajos who drew record crowds with a similar display at de Young Museum last fall; showing of a film, "Navajo Dyeing and Weaving," and a fashion show of handwoven garments and accessories directed by Mrs. Otto Meyer of San Rafael.

OTHER MARIN women assisting in planning for the event are: Mesdames L. Clark Bowles, co-chairman; Sally Vinyard, information chairman; W. F. Rauschnabel, program chairman; Axel Gravander, representative for Gravander Spinners; R. H. Chevalier, secretary; W. F. Wedel, finance chairman; Harry Copestick, commercial exhibits; Jerry Gill, representative for Tamalpais Weavers; Paul Weideman, jury chairman, and John R. Minton, publicity.

The list of judges selected to evaluate handwoven fabrics entered by Northern California's 20 or more weaving guilds includes a Marin woman, Mrs. H. D. Grae of Mill Valley. Mrs. Grae is at present weaving instructor at the Richmond Art Center and Marin Country Day School.

MOST OF the Marin women are members of the local Tamalpais Weavers or Gravander Spinners, groups which share hostessing tasks at the coming conference with the Redwood Empire Weavers and Sonoma County Weavers.

Dominic DiMare of Tiburon, professional weaver and art instructor at Francisco Junior High in San Francisco, will be in charge of an exhibit of youngsters' weaving done under his instruction.

And for the first time in conference history, the traditional fashion show will also be judged. Mrs. Meyer, who holds a master's degree in clothing, textiles and related arts from Oregon State University, has named a three-person panel to judge the show and related fashion exhibit under the general theme "The Peacock Struts."

Garments will be color coordinated and will be judged for quality of craftsmanship as well as style and suitability to wearer.

PERSONS WISHING to register for Saturday's program and luncheon may contact Mrs. Florine Sondergaard, 8490 Kennedy Rd., Sebastopol.

Study Has Surprises On What Makes Good School

An interesting article appeared in the recent issue of "District Doings," the faculty publication of the Tamalpais Union High School District. It was a brief (too brief) summary of a study in depth of 1,353 American High Schools being conducted by Project Talent, a project of the U. S. Office of Education.

The article tells of "Monograph No. 2," which is not available for general distribution. But it shows this:

Four indications of a good high school, as measured by pupil achievement, staying in school and going on to colleges, are teacher salaries, teacher experience, number of books in school library and expenditure per pupil.

Those four aren't so surprising, except for the library's importance, they have been emphasized by educators for years.

What was a little shocking, however, was the list of four factors which are "not so important" in determining what is a good high school. They were listed as school size, average size of class, age of building and suburban location. School size, class size and physical facilities have been stressed around here as of major importance. We've got the suburban location whether it's important or not.

The article came to our attention just as we received the publication "California Schools," which is the official monthly publication of the State Department of Education.

The article showed that the average typical public school in the nation serves a rural or small town community and spends $375 per pupil. The state publication shows that in the year 1961-62, California High Schools spent $552.80 per pupil for current expenses, or if you add in the capital outlay, food service, community service and the like, $593 was spent on each student that year— and the amount is increasing each year.

The article also said the average beginning teacher salary in the nation's high schools is $3,720 to $3,750 per year. In Marin County few teachers start at less than the $5,000 level.

Thus it appears we're in good shape on two of the most important four factors. What about teacher experience and libraries?

We have another word we like better than teacher experience; it is dedication. Sometimes in hearing some people talk, it sounds as if all you need to do to improve teachers is raise their salaries.

Some of the finest teachers we ever knew were teaching long before teacher salaries were in any way commensurate with teacher accomplishments. Money doesn't educate anyone; teachers do. Teachers not dedicated to their profession won't become better teachers just because they are paid more. It's not a simple matter of dollars and cents.

The fourth major factor, libraries, has only recently been getting the attention it deserves. Some of our high schools have a long way to go. We think their governing boards should look carefully at their library facilities.

We shall watch expectantly for more monographs of Project Talent and hope that these interesting studies will be made available for general distribution.

Solitary Quail Of Spring

Quail come into our garden alone this time of the year. They are nesting now and someone has to keep those little, speckled eggs warm, fair weather and foul.

These single quail of spring are alert, but seem more relaxed than the anxious family men they are soon to become.

Later in the season they will ride herd and loudly call the signals for their fluffy families of chicks.

Sometimes we see the plain, brown lady of the family too. But more often it is handsome, blue-suited Papa picking in the lawn for seeds and bugs.

A solitary, sedate gentleman.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Birds Are Plotting To Overthrow Us By Seizing Communications

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a motion picture called "The Birds," our feathered friends lay siege to the human race with intent to do us in.

And in a cartoon strip a raven named "Stoolie" has been acting as a go-between for a group of underworld characters.

Neither of these plots is likely to be endorsed by the Audubon Society and in some quarters they are regarded as ridiculous. But I am here to testify they are not as far-fetched as they might seem.

There is no gainsaying that many birds become thugs and bullies. I myself have been attacked twice recently by a vicious hummingbird that lurks around my morning glory vine.

These ordinary criminal tendencies, however, are not main concern. I am more disturbed by the ornithological underground.

If birds are plotting to overthrow us, as Alfred Hitchcock, Dick Tracy and I suspect, I have reason to believe that the ringleaders are mockingbirds.

According to a press release I recently received from the National Geographic Society, a mockingbird has been known to sing continuously for six hours—from 3 a.m. to 9 a.m. Do you catch the significance of that?

If they can disrupt our slumber, and thus weaken our resistance, it will make the takeover that much easier.

Most people think mockingbirds only do bird imitations, which is a cheap act that went out with vaudeville. That is only a front, or cover, masking a far more sinister talent.

MOCKINGBIRDS ALSO can duplicate the sounds made by peeping tree toads, buzzing locusts, crowing roosters, barking dogs, squeaking gates and whistling policemen.

In other words, they can disguise their voices and penetrate places that otherwise might be barred to birds.

A ham radio operator in Dallas once heard a mockingbird imitating the "dit-dit-dah" signals of the Morse Code. I hardly need add that seizure of our communications systems would be the first target of any uprising.

EQUALLY ALARMING are those fat pigeons that waddle around in Lafayette Park across the street from the White House. It was there that Bernard Baruch used to confer with high government officials.

Is anyone naive enough to think those pigeons are only interested in the peanuts dropped by tourists? Hah! Five will get you ten those pigeons are espionage agents.

I have reported this matter to police several times, but they refuse to take any action. Whither can we turn for protection?

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Reversing a position taken in 1951, Marin supervisors endorsed legislation calling for a $250,000 study of a salt water barrier in San Francisco Bay. Their earlier opposition was based on fear it would prevent construction of a Richmond-San Rafael bridge.

20 YEARS AGO

An upsurge of cattle rustling in Marin County due to wartime meat rationing caused Sheriff Sellmer to call between 500 and 600 special deputies to help curb this by legal means. Ranchers of West and North Marin had threatened to organize vigilante shotgun brigades.

A call was issued by the Naval Net Depot on the Tiburon Peninsula to attract both skilled and unskilled Marin County workers at starting pay of 95 cents an hour.

Welfare Goes To Wrong People

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I read the article in the I-J Tuesday (4/30) about welfare. I agree with that part that if outside income is obtained by the mother working this is wrong, except that the people who really need aid do not get it and if they do, not enough.

I have known people who have received payments far too small to meet the bare existence, yet the other people receive more than needed or deserved.

A man if jailed for reasons, the wife and five children receive in excess of $400 a month, yet a mother with five children and a husband who took off and deserted has problems getting enough to pay the rent.

The payments are made at a rate according to the whim of the worker. If a mother is willing to work to bring enough money in to meet the necessary cost of living standard, she should be allowed to do so.

If it is a legitimate case, welfare does not help the person in the ways it should. Money is not the only answer. Legal aid, domestic aid and just plain common sense are better than the money some get and others don't.

I have been acquainted with all kinds of welfare receivers and my conclusion is that you can get more help if you know the right person.

What does it take to feed a family or clothe a family or house a family, in a way so that the children won't be behind the bars like the mothers who were trying to give them sometimes better care?

Most People Live In Sight Of God

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I have the privilege of complimenting Mrs. McDermmand on her fine letter regarding the courageous fireman who did what he knew was right in the sight of God.

It was a horrifying experience to read an article in the May, 1963 issue of the Reader's Digest, titled "Why Doctors Are 'Bad' Samaritans." This article described two doctors and a lawyer who neglected to assist a hit-and-run victim lying by the road. God have pity on their souls! I'm sure most doctors would've helped the victim.

There are many daily occasions when many persons take known chances of lawsuit but still do what is right in the "sight of God." The only reason they take this chance jeopardizing their careers, their lives, and their family's material standard of living, is their profound faith in God, in Christ's name. They also prove their profound faith in their reward in heaven.

We honor and respect our heroes, Patrick Henry, Nathan Hale, Billy Mitchell, Admiral Rickover, and a long list of other well known heroes as well as those unknown to us but known only to God, to whom we owe our freedom. Most people endeavor to live up to the courage and integrity of these heroes.

We have a tradition of lawyers, doctors, educators, military men, business men, and laymen who had the courage to back up the Declaration of Independence which includes the statement, "And, for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

If we are to overcome oppressions when and where they occur, we must continue to rely "on the protection of Divine Providence." Let us pray that our United States will always remain the "land of the free and home of the brave."

It also takes courage to introduce and amend laws to protect honest individuals.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A Soviet dignitary died and found himself at the entrance to Hell. The demon in charge of admissions said magnanimously, "I'll give you a choice. Do you want to enter the world of perdition through the Capitalist or the Communist gates?"

"The Communist gate, of course," said the experienced Soviet gent without hesitation. "There's bound to be a fuel shortage in that sector."

A young mother, discussing little Billy with her doctor, made no effort to control her son, who, despite the remonstrances of the doctor's secretary, was raising cain in the waiting room. Finally, a crash of bottles disclosed the fact that he had reached the doctor's cabinet of supplies.

"I hope," simpered the mother, "that Billy's mischievous ways are not distracting you."

"Not a bit," replied the doctor grimly. "Besides, he'll be quiet in a minute when he gets to the next shelf. That's where I keep the poisons."

A Square Chaperone Finds Out Teen Dance Is A Delight, Tiring

Once upon a time there was a square chaperone who went to a teen-age dance at Tam High. This is his story:

The chaperones were at their corners, the band was on stage, lights were dimmed and hot dog and soft drink dispensers were at the ready.

"Open the doors," said Larry Counts, fast-footed dance organizer and in came the dancers.

"Alas," cried Your Square Writer, not having seen a teen-age dance in 20 years, "the dancers are adrift."

THEY DANCED about 10 feet apart without conversation, signs or change in facial expressions. Deputy Sheriff Ray von Savoye exclaimed: "Sometimes they dance so far apart you'd think they'd lose their partners."

"They usually dance kind of far out," admitted teenager Jack Dortch. "They dance close together only on the slow ones. That's a version of the 'Mashed Potato'," he said. He advised dancers do mostly the Twist, Mashed Potato and dances of their own creation, sometimes called Miscellaneous.

"It's a primordial rite," said Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks jokingly.

"It's a mystic rite," said Betty Benjamin, a round chaperone.

"I guess we were just as silly at that age," claimed Mrs. William E. Secor, also a chaperone, also round.

STUDYING THE dance forms, we noticed one couple, male and female facing the same direction but about five feet apart, doing different motions. They were apparently in communication. Not verbal but perhaps sonically.

Tom Rogers danced with arms outstretched as if he were flying. Many male dancers were "picking" things out of the air.

Steve Dazy went through motions with his arms as if he were a boxer, his partner, Lynn Farnsworth being more subdued and not a bit startled to see Dazy leap into the air occasionally.

Less energetic dancers did a lot of foot work, appeared to be contemplating. Most girl dancers did something we call a Shimmy or a Shake.

To the square chaperone, the night turned out to be a delight and an education. There were at least 300 dancers, all behaving well and, apparently, none in pain. It struck us that getting to know teen-agers is to understand them and that in all likelihood people go off half-cocked to mis-label these youngsters. On top of it all the benefit brought in $663 to be used for a teen center.

AT ABOUT 9 p.m. the Lords played "Tequila" and sound rose many decibels. At 10 p.m. the girls took off their shoes to dance in stocking feet. "It's easier on feet," we were told.

At 10:15 a short girl with tall hair began to sing "Mash Potatoes and Gravy." Turned out she is Barbara Moyer, who later belted out "Fever" and "Angel, Baby." When she sang it was thunderous.

On rare occasions there was a "slow dance" and dancers looked strange in each others arms. At 11:30 Counts announced hot dogs and soft drinks were free. This was a success.

SAID STUDENT John Pollack, who got a free coke: "That's nothing. I just earned $1 for pulling a girl's wig off." Someone had bet him a dollar he wouldn't do it. "But I gave her 50 cents for going through the pain," said Pollack.

Twelve was the end. Though I didn't dance a dance, I went home tired and it was just as Mrs. John Finn III, mother of a teen-ager had prophesied, "with the loud ringing of music in my ears."

End of square story.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Foreign Relations Unit Unorganized In Senate

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Congress has been in session for four months, but astonishingly one of its most important committees— the lofty Senate Foreign Relations Committee —is still unorganized and largely at loose ends.

Cause of this extraordinary backstage muddle is an apparent effort by Chairman J. William Fullbright (D-Ark.) to set up one-man rule.

Heartily supporting him in this ambitious power grab are key Kennedy administration officials, foremost among them members of the White House staff. Fullbright sees eye-to-eye with the administration on its Cuban, disarmament and nuclear test ban policies—all under fire by Democrats as well as Republicans.

IT IS THIS threatening bipartisan opposition that is prompting the one-man rule drive. Apparently the administration fears that unless a tight rein is imposed on the Foreign Relations Committee, it may get out of hand on these explosive issues.

To that end, Fulbright appears bent on scuttling the committee's system of influential subcommittees which has been in existence since 1950.

SINCE 1950, the Committee of Foreign Relations has maintained a series of subcommittee corresponding generally to the organization of the Department of State . . . . . . The subcommittee system is designed to foster more extensive consultations between the members of the Foreign Relations Committee and officers of the Department of State."

But this year, Fulbright is acting very differently.

As a result, following are highlights of the extraordinary situation that prevails inside this august committee:

Although this session of Congress is about half over, not one of the Foreign Relations subcommittees has been designated. Officially, they are still unorganized and not functioning.

Particular target of Fulbright and the administration is the Disarmament subcommittee headed by Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey (Minn.) A majority of this strategic subcommittee are highly skeptical of the administration's Cuban disarmament and nuclear test ban policies, particularly the latter.

Senators George Smathers (D-Fla.) and Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) named to the Foreign Relations Committee early this year, have yet to be assigned to subcommittees.

SENATO WAYNE MORSE (D-Ore.), head of the Subcommittee on American Republics Affairs, has been unable to launch a probe of the limping Alliance for Progress because his group is not officially organized. His hands are tied because officially his subcommittee doesn't exist.

Foreign relations committeemen are becoming increasingly restive and intimating matters may be taken out of Fulbright's hands and the subcommittees be designated over his head.

San Rafael Council's New Member Due Oath

The San Rafael City Council will add a fifth member tonight and tackle an agenda headed by public hearings on a re-zoning and a subdivision.

Harry A .Barbier of 122 Chula Vista Drive, appointed to the council at a special meeting Friday noon, will receive the oath of office from City Clerk W. L. Morgan. Barbier fills the council vacancy left when David Menary Jr. resigned following his election as city attorney.

Public hearings are on rezoning from single family dwelling to planned community for Racquet Club Estates Unit 5, between Racquet Club Drive and Leafwood Circle, and on Byron W. Leydecker's appeal from conditions placed by the planning commission on a three-lot subdivision on Oakmont Avenue off Chula Vista Drive.

Bids will be called for bonds of the Chula Vista Assessment District.

The council will be asked to authorize sale of three tax-deed lots in the city's northwest hill area.

Although it is not on the agenda, the group of San Rafael architects chosen to design the new city hall is expected to again request signing of a contract. The contract submitted previously was returned for checking and revision.

$68,000 Fire Budget Proposed

A $68,000 budget for the fiscal year 1963-64 was proposed Friday night by the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District Commission.

The budget, to be presented at a public hearing June 7, is identical to the district's budget of last year. It has been drawn to stay within the present tax base of 70 cents per $100 assessed evaluation charged the district taxpayers for fire protection last year said Commissioner Milton L. Stannard of Tiburon.

The budget, if adopted will go into effect July 1 of this year, said Stannard.

Hill Haven Unit Elects Directors

Five new directors of the Hill Haven Property Owners Assn. were elected for two-year terms at the group's annual meeting, with two to remain for another year.

Newly elected were Francis Ryan, Randolph Esplin, Dusty Roads, John Huntington, and Mrs. George Berticevich. Remaining another year will be Lawrence Dewey, outgoing president, and George Dowling.

The members decided to seek additional information regarding Aerojet-General Corp's plans for underwater testing of rocket engines off Angel Island.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Expert Breaks Defensive Rule —And Here Is Result Of It

Bridge is an easy game. After all, how long does it take to learn a few simple rules for play and defense?

Three little words — second hand low—tell you what to do whenever you are the second person to play a trick. Then all you have to do is keep your eyes open the rest of your life for the exceptions to the rule.

Harry Harkavy, of Miami Beach, whose team won the Vanderbilt Cup a few weeks ago, has known the rules of defense for many years. Fortunately for his team, he also has spent years breaking the rules.

LED DIAMOND

Harkavy led the ace of diamonds and continued with a low diamond, forcing South to ruff. Declarer then led a low trump.

This was the turning point of the hand. Harkavy could follow the old rule by playing a low trump since he was second hand on this trick.

Actually, Harkavy stepped up with the ace of trumps and led another diamond. South ruffed again and drew trumps. This exhausted all of South's trumps.

CASHED ACE

Declarer next cashed the ace of clubs, hoping that the king would drop.

It didn't, and South made no more tricks. Down three, for a penalty of 800 points.

Now go back to the third trick, when South led a low heart. What happens if West follows the old rule and plays a low heart?

DUMMY WINS

Dummy wins with the 10 of hearts and returns the jack of clubs for a finesse.

After capturing the king of clubs, South leads the king of hearts to force out the ace.

South ruffs the next diamond and draws trumps.

(He has been forced to ruff only twice, so he can use the rest of his trumps to draw those held by West.)

Then South cashes all of the clubs, winning five hearts and five clubs. South makes his doubled contract with an overtrick.

Breaking the rule made a difference of nearly 2,000 points!

Saturday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Recent Typhoid Outbreaks Serve To Remind Us Of Our Old Enemies

VAN DELLEN

The recent typhoid outbreaks here and there serve to remind us not to be too complacent about some of our old enemies. A few cases are enough to make the front pages of many newspapers today but at one time, more than one-third of all the patients seen by physicians were victims of this disease. This was before the days of modern sanitation and the typhoid vaccine.

The infection continues to plague us because there are many typhoid carriers in the United States and each is a potential source of a widespread epidemic. How troublesome these carriers are depends upon their personal habits, where they live, and what they do.

THOSE WHO handle food for public consumption and dairy workers are the most menacing. Others contaminate the water or milk supply. Food becomes a source of infection when the dishes are washed with infected water or the carrier spreads the germs via the hands. Travelers to countries where sanitary conditions are poor must be on the alert for typhoid and other intestinal disorders because the majority of such diseases are passed along in this way. The vaccine is recommended for those traveling in out of the way places.

The majority of carriers have had typhoid and recovered but nests of organisms remain in the body long after the active stage subsides. The bacilli favor the gall bladder and occasionally the liver. Most of our modern carriers do not remember having the disease because it was missed or was too slight to warrant medical attention.

AS A RULE, men or women with a known case of typhoid fever are followed carefully through convalescence and the discharges are examined periodically until the physician is certain all the typhoid organisms within the body are dead. The physician is at fault when he fails to report a case to health authorities.

Every victim of this disease should remain in bed under isolation conditions until the disorder is brought under control. It is best treated with chloramphenicol, an antibiotic that appears to be specific for this infection. Analgesics control headache and muscle pain. Phenylbutazone, an arthritis remedy, also is used by European and Asian physicians to combat the toxemia of typhoid.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

RELAXING THE VALVES

C. M. writes: Does medicine help a hiatus hernia?

REPLY

HEADACHE AFTER CONCUSSION

J. N. B. writes: Is it unusual for severe headaches to continue three months after a brain concussion?

REPLY

This happens occasionally, especially if the individual worries about injury to the head.

ALL IN GOOD TIME

Mrs. A. writes: Will a flat-chested woman who is pregnant develop so that she can nurse her baby?

REPLY

Yes.

BREAKFAST PORRIDGE

Mrs. A. A. writes: Is a breakfast of oatmeal and fruit considered too starchy for a healthy elderly couple?

REPLY

No. This is a good breakfast.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The Treasury and the Congress are in the midst of their usual spring dance over the official limit on the federal debt.

With fair regularity Congress raises this ceiling, usually on a temporary basis, because the Treasury has to borrow more money or it can't pay its bills. And each time there is a debate over why there should be an official limit since the Treasury is likely to be bumping its head on it.

At the moment the temporary limit is 305 billion dollars. The federal debt is nearing 304 billion. The Treasury expects to borrow sizable sums in the next few months to handle a federal deficit of anywhere up to 12 billion.

Even the present 305-billion-dollar legal ceiling will last only a few weeks longer unless Congress extends it or raises it. Otherwise the limit will revert to a figure well below the current debt and the Treasury, theoretically at least, would have to stop paying its bills, and meeting its payroll—including what congressmen get.

The Treasury will be collecting another installment of income taxes next month, but not enough to hold the federal debt limit within the present limits before the year is over.

The theory on which Congress acts in setting a limit on the federal debt is that this should put a psychological brake on spending.

But Congress soon will be passing the big appropriation bills for the fiscal year starting July 1. And to pay out the money these will call for, the Treasury must borrow still more than its expected tax collections will net, especially if Congress also cuts the tax rates.

Congress can raise the legal debt ceiling — and doubtless will. Or it can cut appropriations sharply—but is unlikely to do that. Or the Treasury could sell part of the assets the government owns as represented by loans and investments of various types. It will sell some in any event, but is more likely to increase their total rather than whittle it.

Those who argue that Americans shouldn't worry about a still larger federal debt, say it should be judged in relation to the output of goods and services in the nation, known as the Gross National Product.

This has grown much faster in recent years than has the federal debt, big as it is. The nation is a lot wealthier even if it's further in hock.

Also private debt has been growing much faster than has the federal debt. At 304 billion dollars the federal debt compares with a public and private debt that has crossed the trillion-dollar mark. Private debt rose 79 per cent from 1945 to 1950, another 60 per cent from 1950 to 1955 and 45 per cent from 1955 to 1960. Compared with that the growth of the federal debt looks sedate.

But those who preach economy say that the federal debt seems set now to take off at a much faster pace than in recent years.

And they argue that the annual debate over raising the legal ceiling, if it does nothing else, calls attention to the trend toward greater spending and thus may put a brake on some of the demands.

'When It Rains It Spores' For Several Trees In Marin County

"When it rains it spores" is an old saw among forest pathologists. This goes far to explain the recent outbreaks of leaf diseases on several kinds of trees in Marin County.

Richard Straw, agricultural commissioner, and Winston Engvall, farm adviser, both report many calls from home owners who are suddenly aware of apparently dying trees. They explain that the California laurel or bay trees seem to be hardest hit, but it is becoming apparent that the deciduous oaks are in for their share of trouble.

The situation is similar to 1958 and this may give some reassurance to home owners that their trees are not apt to be killed. Some growth loss and lowered vigor can be expected.

One disease on the oaks goes under the name oak leaf fungus. It produces dead spots on both sides of the leaves followed by a general browning and shedding of the leaf. Another leaf disease called anthracnose is also prevalent. Ordinarily, both diseases are minor on oaks and attract little or no attention.

At least three different organisms are responsible for the diseased condition of California laurel. Symptoms are small black spots and large irregular brown spots on the leaves, and often dieback and blackening of the tips of branches. Severely infected trees turn brown as if the entire crown had been fire killed. The disease organisms require prolonged periods of rain before they can build up to epidemic proportions.

Other diseases that are troublesome every year, but more so following a wet spring, are sycamore anthracnose, Modesto ash anthracnose and peach leaf curl.

Most of these diseases can be controlled by protective sprays. The spraying should be done just as the leaf buds break open and complete control would probably require several treatments. Unfortunately, the materials used are not sold in small packages for the home owner or are somewhat dangerous and allowed only by permit to licensed pest control operators. These firms have the necessary equipment and are qualified to do the work safely.

The recommended spray for oak and sycamore anthracnose is Puritized Agricultural Spray (it is available only to licensed operators). For ash anthracnose the recommended material is zineb, it is not necessary to obtain permission to use this material but is not generally available in small quantities.

Peach leaf curl can be prevented by using a number of materials readily available in the nursery. Once the disease appears, however, it is too late to do much about it.

Control measures for leaf blight on California laurel have not been tested.

Parish School Is On Agenda

A hearing on the proposed St. Stephen's Parish day school is on the agenda of tonight's meeting of the Belvedere City Council at 8 Community Hall.

A petition signed by 119 persons protesting opening of the school next September was presented at the April 1 meeting. The matter was postponed to permit City Atty. William H. MacKay to meet with the school attorney, James Michael.

Golden Gate Aveune drainage will also be discussed, and a resolution on conduct of council meetings considered.

Kentfield Fire Budget Approval

The Kentfield Fire District board has approved a tentative fiscal 1964 budget of $115,200, an increase of about $12,000 over the present budget, to swell its undistributed reserve fund, Secretary L. F. Kuechler announced today.

"We have two new subdivisions in Kent Woodlands in our area," said Kuechler. He added salary raises and a health plan for the eight paid firemen are being considered.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features . . . designs . . . and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense.

Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Pool Equipment Firm In Hub Has New Function, New Name

No-Vac Pool Equipment Co. in San Anselmo has a new function and a new name. Owner Howard Arneson, who previously had only the Northern California sales agency for products of Anthony Pools in Los Angeles, now has the manufacturing rights in the territory as well. It means that Anthony Hydra-Sweep invented by Anthony Pasani of Greenbrae will be made here in Marin—also other equipment including a leaf trap device. New name for the business is Arneson Products, and it will be expanding.

MOTHERS are looking younger every year. If there's any doubt about it, check the Mother's Day window display of Artificial Garden in Kentfield. That young and pretty mannequin on the rocking chair midst the floral arrangements is "Whistler's Mother"—as visualized by James at an early age, no doubt.

MONTGOMERY WARD has come up with a new employees' benefit program which includes a profit-sharing plan. As outlined by Mrs. A. Seibert, personnel manager of the Corte Madera store, the firm contributes 25 cents to 50 cents for every dollar invested by an employee. The plan provides health care paying 80 per cent of most hospital and surgical expenses. It also includes a 50 per cent reduction in employee contributions toward retirement with no change in benefits; and an extended vacation program. Selling employees' salaries are to be paid on a basis of previous year's total earnings. It's effective June 1.

PROMOTIONS have gone through for two men at Southern Pacific's San Francisco headquarters: Robert C. Hudson of Sausalito has been made traffic manager for rates and divisions. He was assistant freight traffic manager. Jack McGowan, also of Sausalito but moving back to San Rafael, has been appointed a special rate assistant, from general chief clerk.

NINE MARIN MEN have received notification of membership in the 1963 Million Dollar Round Table of the National Assn. of Life Underwriters. Listed are Douglas J. Boswell and Robert A. Davies of New York Life; Nicholas Dollwet, Minnesota Mutual Life; Allen S. Feder and William D. Epstein of Provident Life and Accident; Edward K. Wachsman, Provident Mutual; Thomas R. Nelson, Penn Mutual; James L. Placek, Connecticut General Life, and Carroll Walker, Equitable Life of New York.

TRAVEL NOTES. Redwood Travel Advisors of San Rafael has been appointed Marin County agent for "Bachelor Party" tours and cruises—an organization offering package tours to single people who don't like to travel alone. They travel with their own age group with varied numbers of men and women. Excursions are around the world, to Hawaii and the Orient, through the Caribbean and in the United States . . .

Budd's Travel and Tours notes that Matson Navigation Co. will offer a Christmas cruise to Hawaii this year which will take in Oahu's neighboring islands Kauai, Maui and Hawaii (Big Island). The trip will originate in San Francisco Dec. 20 and last for 16 days.

Communist Aims, Hopes Will Be Aired On KTIM

A half-hour program on the Communists' aims and how they hope to achieve them will be aired at 3 p.m. May 12 over Radio Station KTIM.

The program, prepared and distributed by the Southern Baptists' Radio-Television Commission, will include interviews with five men. They are:

Dr. John Drakeford, professor of religious psychology and counseling at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex.; Dr. Gordon Clinard, professor of preaching at Southwestern; John H. Noble, an author who was a prisoner of the Russians for 10 years; Fern Stukenbroker, associate director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, and Hans Kramer, editor and commentator for RIAS radio in West Germany.

Orientation Day

Annual Orientation day for new freshmen entering Sir Francis Drake High School next year will be held from 1 until 3 p.m. on Wednesday.

Business Report In Marin Good

Business in Marin County was generally good through last year, according to an annual report by the Marin County Development Assn.

Its "Trend in Economic Vital Statistics" contains figures on 14 business activity indicators indicating that theira verage gain was 13.1 as compared with 8.9 for 1961.

Only three oft he indicators showed lesser gains than the prior year and all these differences were relatively small. The lower increases were for water meters (3.5 gain as compared with 4.8), assessed valuation (9.9 and 10.6) and public school enrollment (7.0 and 7.6).

Daniel C. Davis, association president, said one of the more significant changes was in cash savings. Bank deposits were up 17.2 per cent as compared with 7.0 in 1961, and savings and loan savings reached 33.4 per cent as compared with 27.9.

Report On Diseases Completed

Dr. E. P. Mumford, professor and chairman of the biology department of Dominican College in San Rafael, has just completed an initial report on studies on the distribution of parasitic diseases in the Middle East.

He has worked with Dr. H. S. Carroll under a grant from the federal government, received through the Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation.

Seventy-four individuals and their organizations throughout the Middle East are co-operating in the work by forwarding material from the field.

The first new material will be on disease carried by mosquitoes, ticks, flease and other creatures. Special attention is being paid to infectious diseases of animals transmissable to man, such as plague taken by fleas from rats to human beings.

New Salvation Army Drop Box

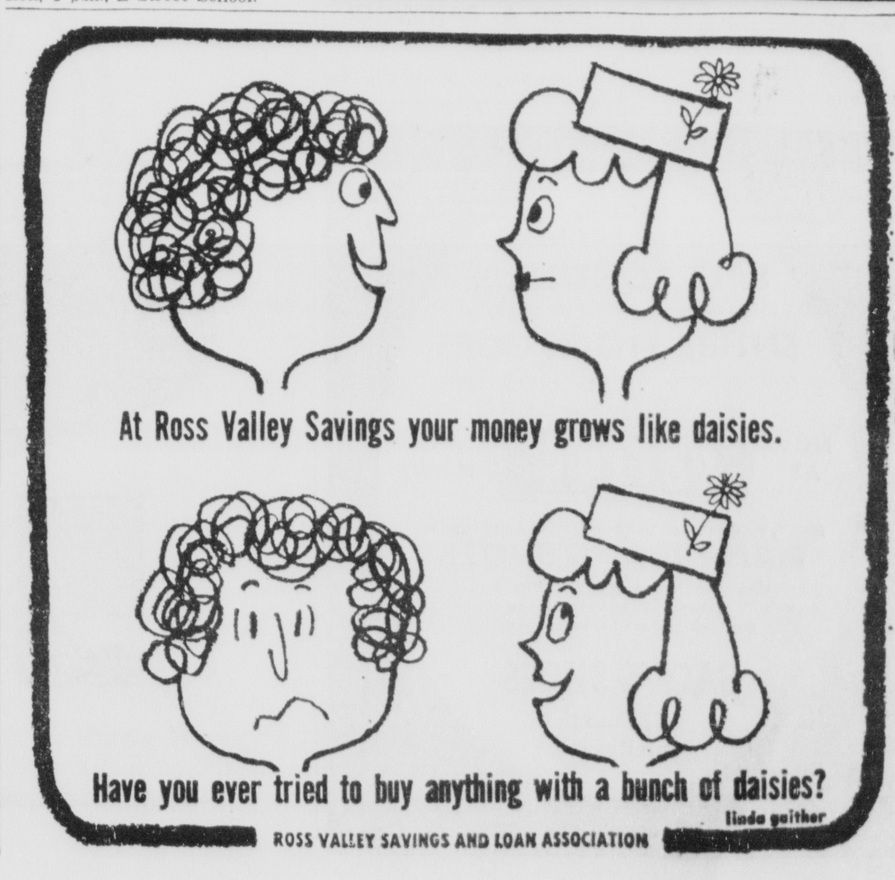

The Salvation Army has announced location of a drop box at Kent-Woodlands Shopping Center in Kentfield.

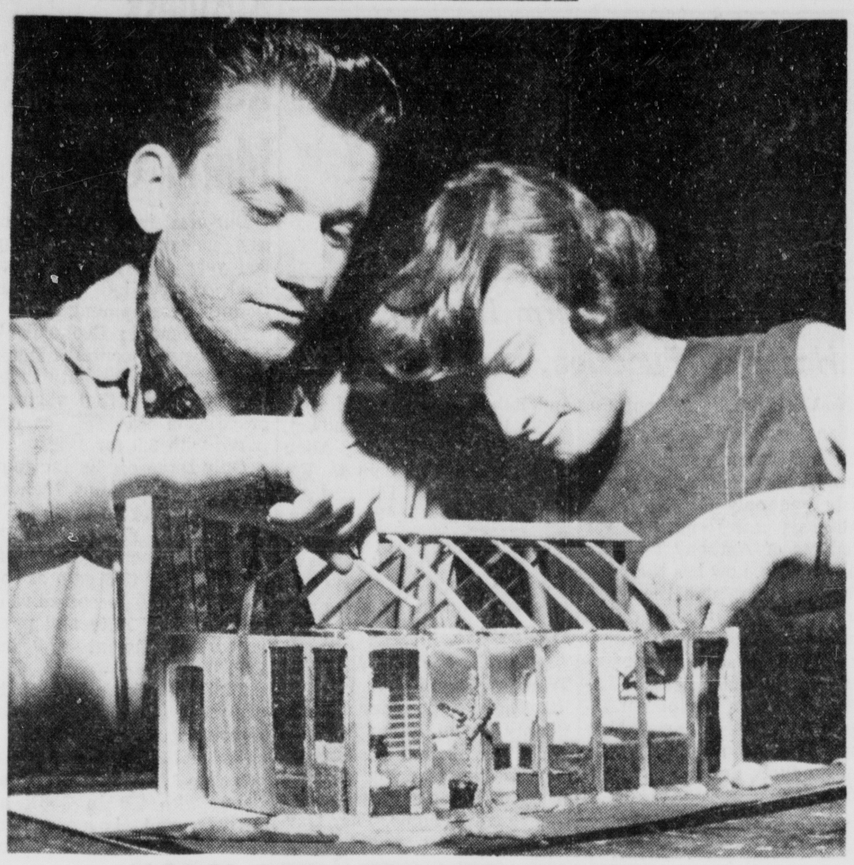

Repairable clothing, toys, shoes, hats, and other small items may be dropped in the box and will be picked up daily by army workers.

Freight Office May Be Moved

Frankly confessing a sentimental attachment to the old building, Lester Gorsline of Lester Gorsline Associates, planning consultants, is hoping to move the old Tiburon freight office building from its present location to a site behind the Belvedere-Tiburon postoffice.

The two-story building now stands on the Tiburon waterfront next to the ferry slip. At one time it was used for ticket sales and freight transactions by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

According to local historians it was originally located on concrete pilings off shore.

Permission to move it to Belvedere Land Co. property is being sought at today 8 p.m. meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission. If succesful, Gorsline, whose present office is at 1640 Tiburon Boulevard, will convert the old building to a professional office building for his firm. He would remove vents and exterior plumbing pipes.

He has promised he will leave the old "Tiburon" sign on the building.

Particularly interested in the project is Mrs. Robert Bastian, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society, who had hoped the building might be used as a public library.

"The present library is certainly not adequate for the needs of this community," she said.

However, Gorsline said that both stories, each measuring 1,600 square feet, will be needed for his business offices.

Four In Bolinas Untility Race

Four Bolinas residents are seeking election to fill two available posts on the Bolinas Public Utility Board.

However, the number of seats available on the board may be affected by the district voting at the same election on a proposal to increase the board from three to five members.

If the proposal is adopted, appointments to fill the two extra positions will be made by the board after the election, said chairman Sherman R. Smith.

Seeking election to the two available seats are: incumbents Lewis G. Pepper and James D. Bourne, Peter Martin, and James Dougan.

San Rafael Planners To Act On 9 Requests

The San Rafael Planning Commission will hold a special meeting at 4 p.m. tomorrow at the E Street School at act on nine requests for architectural approval, use permits, and variances.

All three—use permit, variance and architectural approval—are involved in the application of designer Edward Hageman for an office building at Lincoln and Maple avenues. The building would be remodeled from a residence. The variance is sought to permit the second story to extend within the 15-foot setback area.

Tiniest variance is that request by Paul Mendelsohn for an apartment house on Prospect Drive. The ordinance requires 1,000 square feet of land for dwelling unit. Mendelsohn wants to be allowed one unit for each 996 square feet.

Mill Valley Man Injured In Crash

Roy Albert Pyle, 53, of 262 Summit Avenue, Mill Valley, was treated at Marin General Hospital Friday for a cut forehead after his car was hit from behind on Tiburon Boulevard, east of Blackfield Road, at 4:35 p.m.

Evelyn Marie Swanson, 40, of 7 Roger Drive, San Rafael, told the California Highway Patrol that Pyle drove out into the path of her car, traveling east on Tiburon Boulevard.

Pyle was cited by the patrol for failure to yield the right-of-way when leaving a private driveway. Pyle's car was pushed into a parked car belonging to Ernest H. Vasheresse of South San Francisco.

Sausalito's Spectacular Distillery Blaze Leaves Damage In Millions

CUBAN VOLUNTEER?—No. It's just Inspector Harold V. Sleezer of the Marin sheriff's office taking aim with an antique cannon which officers picked up from two boys in Kentfield yesterday afternoon. The youths stuffed the muzzle with chemicals and paper wadding and fired several salvos that alarmed residents along Goodhill Road.

IT'S NOT WAR

Boys Have Blast With Old Cannon

Residents in Kentfield feared for a moment yesterday that the Cuban War was being fought along Goodhill Road.

But it turned out to be two teen-aged boys, with a knowledge of chemistry, experimenting with a muzzle-loading cannon that appears to be at least a century old.

The resulting explosions sent Sheriff's Inspector Harold V. Sleezer and Deputy Dennis Shine racing to the end of Goodhill Road. But by then, the "war" had ended.

James Solinski, 16, and Craig Leon Liever, 17, had fired their last ammunition, loaded up the 75-pound cannon into their car and were about to beat a strategic withdrawal when the officers arrived.

"The boys had mixed magnesium, a pinch of sulphur and another chemical and were shooting paper wadding into the air," said Inspector Sleezer. The boys said they had bought the cannon from another friend for $15.

Investigators were trying to trace the origin of the antique. The bronze cannon is about four feet long, has a one and one-fourth inch bore, a pivot hinge in the center, and a small hole at the top of the base for firing.

The cannon has writing which appears to be Arabic. "We don't know where it came from," said Inspector Sleezer. "But it appears to be an antique of some value."

Youths Play 'Detective,' Help Nab Wanted Man

Two San Rafael youths, playing "detectives" yesterday, helped San Rafael police capture a man who said he was "wanted all over the country" by police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Whether Dale Lyle Addison, 40, of 911 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was actually wanted all over the country was something San Rafael police and FBI agents were trying to check today.

This much is known:

Modesto police have a warrant for Addison's arrest on a forgery charge. The State Criminal Investigation and Identification bureau notified San Rafael police that Addison, also known as John Lyle Mead, had a seven-page "rap sheet" for kidnaping, bank robbery, auto theft, assault with intent to do great bodily harm, rape, forgery, theft, drunkenness and assault and battery.

Addison was held on $5,200 bail today in Marin County Jail. He was scheduled to appear in court today.

Henry Joseph Aigner Jr., an employee of the Rossi and Hook Signal Gas Station at 902 Irwin Street, called police at 4:40 p.m. yesterday. He said Addison had just cashed a check for $25 at the station. Aigner was suspicious.

Dennis Gerald Leduc, 19, of 455 Canal Street, and Norman Albert Stuart Jr., 18, of 116 Villa Avenue, who were at the gas station when Addison cashed the check, trailed him to the Old Fashioned Bar at 1105 Fourth Street.

The youths called police. Officer Gilbert Freitas and Sgt. Carl Selby took Addison to jail where he was questioned.

SAN RAFAEL 'DISTRESS' PUT-UP JOB

San Rafael was in "distress" for about four hours today.

An upside down State of California flag on the flagpole in front of the city hall was not discovered until shortly before noon by Thomas Goodale, assistant city manager, when he went to the top of the city hall to take weather measurements.

Policemen on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift are responsible for putting up the American and California flags.

An upside down flag is the international signal for distress.

Grim New Sight For Tourists

By FRED WYATT

Sausalito had a grim new tourist attraction today: a partly burned-out distillery.

A $4,240,000 loss for the American Distilling Co. and the federal government was estimated in the fire Saturday night that razed two buildings on two acres of the firm's 14-acre site north of Sausalito.

Explosions and flames hundreds of feet high devoured about 167,250 gallons of bourbon, Scotch and tequila plus an unestimated amount of other types of liquors.

For two hours the inferno roared and boomed out of control like a crashed bomber. Even after sunup yesterday an occasional whisky barrel exploded like cannon.

The general alarm fire was the first major disaster in the firm's 28-year operation of the plant. With only two injured, it was far less tragic than a fire in its main plant at Pekin, Ill., on Aug. 6, 1954, which killed six persons and injured 42.

The most imposing building of the Sausalito operation, the one first seen from Bridgeway Boulevard, reaching six stories high and lying to the north, was not burned.

Spared also was a brick building southwest of the fire scene containing thousands of gallons of 195 proof alcohol. Firemen played hoses on it to

School Aide For County Quits Job

Resignation of Charles J. Vento of Terra Linda as director of county schools instructional materials center will be presented to the Marin County Board of Education at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Civic Center.

Vento disclosed today that he handed his resignation to County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis "three or four weeks ago."

He declined to give his reason for quitting the job on which he started only last July 1, declaring: "I feel a little concerned about my future." He would say only that he quit "of my own free will."

Some members of the county board reportedly learned of Vento's resignation and planned to question Hollis about it at tonight's meeting.

Vento said he had been offered the job in Trinity County which he left to accept the Marin job last year. He had just set up an audio-visual center for schools in Trinity when he moved here. Previous-

TWO DAYS AGO, BIG BUILDINGS STOOD HERE—This was the scene on day after fire consumed major portion of American Distilling Co. in Sausalito, doing damage estimated at $2,400,000 to the property and costing the United States government nearly one and three-quarter millions in taxes on liquor that was destroyed. Distillery hopes to be operating again within three weeks. Rectifying and distilling units were saved.

Distillery Dates Back To 1888 In Marin

The American Distilling Co. plant in Sausalito, hit by a fierce alcohol-fed fire Saturday night, has a long history as one of Marin's older institutions.

A Marin Magazine story Dec. 13, 1958, by the late Independent-Journal reporter, Larry Lovett, reported the Sausalito operation older than its parent company organization in Pekin, Ill.

The plant along Bridgeway Boulevard began, wrote Lovett, as the Mason By-Products Co. in 1888. American Distilling Co. was started in Illinois in 1892.

The Sausalito plant was started as a source of palatable water for San Francisco and for ships going to sea, besides as an adjunct to Mason's malt products operation.

The plant was built at the site of Waldo Springs, which still existed in 1958, surrounded by a group of willows, which supposedly gave the city its name, Sausalito, meaning "little willow."

Lovett wrote that Mason "fell into bad times and his financial backers — who included such names as Adolph Spreckels, John Buck and Ohlandt— subsequently took over the operation."

Buck's son, Walter, is still executive vice president, with offices in San Francisco.

"In 1926 while prohibition was still in force and the distillery was producing industrial alcohol, it became the Industrial Solvents Corp., and in 1929 the American Commercial Alcohol Corp.," wrote Lovett.

In 1935, two years after prohibition was repealed, the plant was purchased by its present operator.

The 1958 article quoted E. F. Greenwood, sales manager of the company's Pacific division, as asserting: "There are only six major distillers in the United States. American is one of these and is number one of the independents."

Greenwood was quoted at that time as saying, "Our Sausalito operation alone represents about a 12 and one-half million dollar investment and has 225 employees."

Bishop Pike Orders Episcopalians To Stop 'Speaking In Tongues'

A strongly worded order to Episcopalians from Bishop James A. Pike to stop "speaking in tongues" during parish services will be followed at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera.

Rev. Tod W. Ewald, parish rector, read the six-page directive to parishoners yesterday. He said today that "speaking in tongues" has been practiced "very infrequently" during healing services held at the parish at noon Wednesdays and 8 p.m. Thursdays.

"Speaking in tongues," a practice common to Pentacostal denominations, occurs when a church goer believes the Holy Spirit is speaking through him and utters whatever sounds come to mind.

Such utterances, said Bishop Pike, who head the Episcopal Church in California, are expressions in unknown tongue or in a known language which the subject has not learned." The heavily subjective emphasis upon a private personal relationship with Jesus, continued Bishop Pike, tends to neglect the objective terms of the full Christology of the Catholic Faith.

Rev. Ewald said he will follow the directive in church services "completely. It is something that should be used in private devotion," he said.

"I don't think speaking in tongues is essential," he con-

Boys Catch Peahen, But Wrong One

Two Mill Valley boys thought they caught Evelyn yesterday, but what they caught was Ethel and poison oak.

At 5 p.m. yesterday, Mrs. David Lister of 1 Morningsun Avenue telephoned Parker that her son David Jr., 14, and his friend, Paul Jarecki, 15, of 53 Homestead Boulevard had chased a peahen into blackberries and poison oak and captured it.

"Is it penned up?" asked Parker.

Mrs. Lister said no, the boys were holding it, and it was very tame.

When Parker arrived, he took one look and shook his head sadly.

"That's not Evelyn," he

Residents In Area Evacuated

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Many Sausalitans in the immediate area of the American Distilling Co. were evacuated temporarily from their homes Saturday night, jumping in their cars and taking a few belongings with them.

Residents on Tomales, Wateree, Nevada, Olima and Coloma streets and Buchanan Avenue were asked by police at about 10:30 p.m. to move from their homes, Police Chief Howard Goerndt said, when it was feared one of the huge tanks containing alcohol might explode. Approximately 200 people got out after Officers Tom Zink, John Higgins and Herb Smith made a door-to-door alert.

Some people stayed right where they were while others drove off a distance to watch the fire and then returned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Brainerd of 24 Tomales Street, who live directly behind the distillery, took their three-week old daughter, Julie. Their neighbor, Barbara Harvey, put some baby bottles and diapers in the car and drove to Bridgeway to wait.

Leonard Beckett was asleep at his home at 77 Tomales Street when the fire broke out. His wife, Natalie, was watching "Have Gun, Will Travel," she said, on television.

She awakened her husband, who then tried to get his wife to leave their home. "She refused to leave," said Beckett. The Becketts have two sons, a dog, two cats and two birds.

Beckett sat on the porch of his white frame house, dressed in pajamas and a robe, and commented: "I'm sitting here with temerity in my heart." He said, though the fire had died down from its high point, he was disturbed about the four tanks a few hundred yards away upon which firemen were playing hoses.

Philosophically, he noted the blue flame burning on the

MONTY WOOLLEY
"The Beard"

Monty Woolley Dies At 74

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Veteran stage and screen actor Monty Woolley died early today at Albany Medical Center Hospital. He had been in declining health in recent months.

Woolley, 74, whose trademark was a neatly trimmed white beard and mustache, had lived for many years in Saratoga Springs. He had spent much of his boyhood in the resort city and considered it his home town.

The actor, often called "The Beard," probably was best known for his portrayal of Sheridan Whiteside, the lead role in "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

Woolley originated the role on Broadway, where the comedy ran for two years, and later starred in the film version of the play.

He also recreated Sheridan Whiteside in a 1954 network television production of "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

The cause of death was listed as a kidney failure with related heart disease.

Rickover In Sub Test

MARE ISLAND NAVAL STATION (UPI)—Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover was aboard America's 31st nuclear submarine yesterday when it departed from Mare Island in its first sea trials.

The Andrew Jackson, which was launched here Sept. 15, is participating in the first such trials since the Thresher tragedy April 10. Rickover refused to elaborate on what tests the submarine would be given, but said the undersea craft would be gone for a "few days."

Survives Air Crash

DOUALA, Cameroon (AP)—An American diplomatic courier is the only survivor from a four-engine African airliner which plowed into a mountain Saturday night, killing 54 persons.

The survivor, who was seriously injured, is Joseph P. Capozzi of Elmira, N.Y. who was on a courier run from Douala to Lagos, Nigeria.

Phone Rates Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Reduced rates for certain nighttime long distance telephone calls within California went into effect at 12:01 a.m. today.

They apply to station-to-station calls of more than 110 miles made between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. California telephone users will save an estimated 3.2 million dollars each year.

The rates establish an 85-cent maximum charge for a three-minute call. A San Francisco-to-Los Angeles call drops from $1.05 to 80 cents for the first three minutes.

Kindergarten Signups Set

Registration for next fall's kindergarten at West Marin School in Point Reyes Station will be in the kindergarten room at 1 p.m. Friday.

To qualify, a child must be 5 years old on or before Dec. 2 of this year. The state law requires that parents must have proof of the child's birthdate, either a birth certificate, baptismal record or sworn affidavit.

Children not now in kindergarten who will be ready for first grade next fall, should be registered at Inverness School at 2:45 p.m., May 12. Proof that the sixth birthday falls on or before Dec. 2 will be required.

According to employees of the 14-story cooperative building, Nixon inspected a nine-room apartment on the fifth floor Saturday and plans to move in within three weeks. He is scheduled to join the law firm of Budge, Stern, Baldwin and Todd on June 1.

The price of the apartment selected by Nixon was said to be about $200,000.

Anti-Death Penalty Measure

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Mandatory capital punishment in New York, the only state in the union with such legislation, is nearly dead.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office announced yesterday he has signed a bill providing that the penalty for first degree murder and kidnaping, effective July 1, shall be life imprisonment "unless the jury recommends the death penalty." Currently the death penalty is mandatory for the two crimes.

The adviser's death raised to 81 the number of Americans killed in South Viet Nam since the United States began helping the government.

Russ Spy Trial

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry announced today that the spy trial of British businessman Greville Wynne will begin tomorrow.

The announcement, confirming an earlier report from the British Embassy, broke an official Soviet silence surrounding the trial. It said the proceedings would start at 10 a.m.

It was believed Wynne would be tried with former Soviet scientific official Oleg Penkovsky, who is alleged to have worked for an Anglo-American espionage ring operating in Moscow.

Gloom In Algeria

ALGIERS —The death of Algeria's foreign minister and the worst Nile River tragedy in modern history cast gloom today over the triumphal visit to Algeria of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Festivities in Nasser's honor were called off as the Algerian government proclaimed a day of national mourning for Mohamed Khemisti, the foreign minister. Khemisti, 33, died yesterday after a fanatic assassin fired a bullet into his head.

Rockefeller, New Bride Are On Honeymoon

Rockefeller and his bride, the former Margaretta Fitler Murphy, arrived yesterday at his 1,235-acre Monte Sacro ranch about 110 miles southwest of Caracas.

The smiling couple flew to the honeymoon retreat by private plane after arriving in Caracas from New York on a commercial airliner. The New York governor said they expect to remain in Venezuela about two weeks.

It was drizzling when they landed and a shower of rice greeted the newlyweds as they stepped out of the plane.

Chatting in Spanish with newsmen, Rockefeller predicted his second marriage will be blissful. He said they decided to spend their honeymoon here "because we love Venezuela."

The governor, 54, and his bride, an attractive woman of 36, stood atop a wing of their private plane for the brief news conference.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who has the nickname "Happy," appeared radiant. She wore a plain wedding band, a sleeveless blue blouse, brown skirt and brown shoes. She carried a brown purse.

Mrs. Rockefeller said she was thrilled over her first visit to Venezuela and hopes to learn some Spanish.

She said she looks forward to horseback riding at the Rockefeller ranch which has a big stable and swimming pool. The governor translated her remarks into Spanish.

Rockefeller, considered a leading candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, brushed aside questions about his political future.

He showed the same reticence as he left New York's Idlewild Airport telling newsmen there:

"I know you would like to discuss politics with me, but I don't think this is the time or the place. There will be plenty of chances for the subject and decisions at another time."

Political circles in the United States were divided over the effect the marriage will have on Rockefeller's career.

Some felt the romance was an act of political suicide for the governor. They noted that no divorced man has won the presidency of the United States.

Others believed Rockefeller's emergence into a new life of happiness with an attractive wife might enhance his popularity.

Russians Admit Recovering Body Of Hitler In Berlin

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russians have broken 18 years of silence and admitted they recovered Adolf Hitler's burned body when they smashed into Berlin at the end of World War II, it was disclosed yesterday.

Up to now the official Soviet position has been that Hitler may have escaped to Spain or Argentina.

The Soviet admission was made by Marshal Vasili Sokolovsky to Cornelius Ryan, American author of "The Longest Day," who has completed a two-week study of top secret archives of the Red Army's final assault on Berlin.

Ryan said he had obtained from the Russians "the fullest version of what happened in Hitler's bunker the last few days of the war, an account which differs substantially from the one accepted in the West.

Sokolovsky was Marshal Georgi Zhukov's chief of operations during the Battle of Berlin and until recently was chief of staff of the Soviet armed forces.

In what diplomats consider a major academic breakthrough, Ryan was permitted to interview all surviving key Soviet commanders during the Battle of Berlin except the now-disgraced former war minister, Marshal Zhukov.

He photographed scores of classified documents and closely questioned about 50 top ranking officers including Marshals Ivan Konev, Konstantin Rokovosky and Vasily Chuikov. He was assisted by John Ericson, English military historian and author of "The Soviet High Command."

Ryan said Sokolovsky told him: "You should be informed the Soviet Union officially regards Hitler as dead."

Sokolovsky's aides, Marshal Chuikov, hero of the decisive Battle of Stalingrad (now Volgograd), and General Tolbukhovsky then gave Ryan the following account of Hitler's death:

A charred body, presumably Hitler's, was found in the bunker wrapped in a blanket. A bullet had blown in the right temple and knocked out some of the teeth. The Russians flushed out the fuehrer's dentists who, on the basis of their records, identified the teeth as Hitler's.

It was indicated the body was not burned completely beyond recognition.

Earlier, Gen. Hans Krebs, who under Hitler's will was named chief of the German land forces had informed Chuikov Hitler was dead and agreed to capitulate to the Russians.

He offered evidence to the skeptical Soviet commanders in the form of affidavits, a letter from Hitler's first deputy, Martin Borman, and a document purporting to be Hitler's third personal will.

Sokolovsky said the Russians have the will but he declined to divulge it s contents except for the first sentence which reads:

"I have married my friend Eva Braun."

Eva had been Hitler's mistress for many years and apparently Hitler decided to marry her just before both committed suicide.

Ryan said he has already interviewed all the surviving German commanders in connection with his forthcoming book "The Last Battle."

Sokolovsky's admission of Hitler's death contradicts that which was told by Marshal Zhukov whom this correspondent interviewed in his Berlin headquarters a week after the Red Army captured the German capital.

Zhukov then said: "We have found no body definitely identifiable as Hitler's. For all we know he may be in Spain or Argentina."

prevent its heating and exploding.

Also undamaged and watered down were four huge, empty, glass-lined concrete fermenters of 83,925 gallons capacity apiece used to hold cooked grains on their way to the stills.

But the heat was so tremendous that residents behind the fire scene were evacuated.

The stench of raw and burning and exploding alcohol was almost overpowering. Rivers of the stuff burned with an eerie blue flame.

The flames were seen over a wide area of Marin and as far away as the Oakland hills. The fire was heard over a smaller area as barrels full of liquor exploded.

Loss to the firm was estimated at two and one-half million dollars by plant Supt. Fred A. Schmidt of Tomales Street, reported Chief Mathew J. Perry of the Sausalito Fire Department. Loss to the federal government was estimated at more than $1,740,000 in internal revenue taxes gone with the wind.

The fire was considered contained about 11:30 p.m. but chiefs did not begin releasing 175 firemen with 15 pieces of equipment until about 5 a.m. yesterday.

The Marin sheriff's log notes that the alarm was sent out by the County Communications Center at 9:36 p.m. Within minutes the general alarm was sounded.

Asst. Fire Chief John L. Terris of Sausalito suffered a right leg injury when a two and one-half inch hose buckled and knocked him down. He limped with pain yesterday and was to see his doctor.

An unidentified reporter or photographer fell from a ladder and was treated by a Marin Ambulance crew.

Fire units were sent from Sausalito, Tiburon, Alto, Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Tamalpais Valley, Sixth Army Headquarters at Presidio of San Francisco, Fort Baker, and the Marin County Fire Department. San Anselmo sent two policemen to help keep order.

"We had manpower from the San Francisco Fire Department," said Chief Perry.

Perry was in charge of fire-containing efforts. Though the firm is in county territory, it has a contract with Sausalito for fire protection.

Volunteers aided firemen with hoses and some passersby assisted police in placing flares for traffic.

Possibly 2,000 persons were attracted to the scene and both approaches to Bridgeway were snarled until the California Highway Patrol and Sausalito police blocked it off. Southbound cars were diverted at the Marin City underpass back to Highway 101.

Police and sheriff's deputies blocked northbound traffic to Nevada, Buena Vista and Ebbtide Avenue. Deputies also helped direct Marin and San Francisco Army units to the fire.

The scene today was under 24-hour guard by the sheriff's office to prevent looting.

Up in smoke went two buildings and their contents: the wholesale liquor dealers premises, maintenance machine shop, importers' bonded warehouse, Internal Revenue Service bonded warehouse, rack warehouse (containing 50-gallon barrels of liquor), and an office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Exploded or burned to kingdom come was liquor including 3,000 barrels of bourbon, 273 barrels of Scotch, 100 50-gallon drums of tequila, said plant superintendent Schmidt. Other company aides said the buildings contained other types of high grade imported and domestic whisky.

One deputy said some of the Scotch had come over on a ship that caught fire on the Atlantic. "They saved it there so it could burn up here," he said wryly.

Chief Perry said the fire began at the shipping dock. No one had been in the building after 4:30 p.m. Friday except for watchman Fred Stohr, who saw nothing amiss when he made his rounds after 9 p.m. Saturday, Perry was told.

Asst. Chief Terris was in charge at the start because Perry was at a benefit ball at the Meadow Club, Fairfax. He learned of the fire at 10:20 p.m. and went to the scene.

"The cause of the fire is unknown," said Perry.

Terris said firemen could not get close enough to the fire because of the heat. He said they had to stay back 50 to 60 feet and thus could only confine the fire. One fireman observed, "Some of the water from the hoses didn't even reach the fire."

Flaming flying debris threatened the Industrial Center Building.

Perry said the last fire Sausalito had that could be compared with this was the one that destroyed the Madden and Lewis boatyard March 6, 1960. Damage from the 1960 fire was estimated by Perry at $250,000.

In a red muumuu, red coat and fur collar, Juanita Musson, proprietor of Juanita's Galley on Richardson Bay just north of the distillery, supplied hot coffee to firemen and volunteers.

"I've been off the stuff three years but it still smells good," she observed as she stepped over a large puddle of liquor diluted with water.

Some Sausalito firemen had been up since 3:30 a.m. Saturday after answering a false alarm from a fire box on Bulkley Avenue.

Burning liquor flowed downhill in a river as barrels burst in the storage building. Firemen pushed it back with streams from their hoses to contain the fire. In the words of another onlooker barrels of alcohol in one area were "beautiful pots of fire, with blue flames licking up their sides."

Firemen played hoses on still smouldering areas yesterday afternoon.

Robert McGregor of San Francisco, chemist and rectifier, said the large building to the north, unburned, contains much bottled liquor ready to send out. The firm blends bourbons from choice brands of high proof whisky, that is reduced in strength, he said.

Plant superintendent Schmidt said he expects to have the plant back in partial operation in two or three weeks. First the firm must await investigations by insurance and government agents.

Internal Revenue agent Edward Pries, who lost his records in the fire, said "The government gets $10.50 in taxes on each gallon of whisky."

Marin County Planners Turn Down Bid For Forest Knolls Rest Home

A proposed rest home for Forest Knolls was unanimously denied today by Marin County planning commissioners.

Lawrence A. Moulton, owner of the site at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Arroyo Road, asked permission to establish a 20-bed "boarding house for elderly persons" in what is now a three-bedroom house, built in 1960. Moulton proposed to add extra bedrooms to the two-story house.

Thirty-five residents of the Forest Knolls area signed a petition of protest, saying it was an undesireable use for a residential area.

"If a rest home cannot be built in Forest Knolls, what can be built there?" Moulton asked.

Chairman William Upton said rest homes are necessary, but "we have to be careful where they are located." He agreed with protesting residents that a rest home might detract from the essentially residential nature of the area.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said other uses, including a motel and apartments, had been suggested by Moulton for the large house but had been discouraged by the planning staff. "Merely as an idea, we thought a rest home would be a rather subdued use," Dobbs said.

"As a matter of philosophy," said Commissioner Felix M. Warburg, "I don't personally feel that old people should all be put together in one place anyway. They should generally be happier in dwellings."

Edwin C. Jones of Redwood Drive, Woodacre, who led the petitioners, complained of the danger of traffic to old people, and said the steep hillside lot would be an unlikely place for their recreation. "Any old lady who could walk around that steep ground wouldn't need to be in a rest home," he commented.

The request will be heard May 14 at 2 p.m. by the board of supervisors.

San Marin Unit Gets Approval

Marin County planning commissioners today approved two new units for the huge San Marin planned community west of Novato.

Tentative subdivision maps for a development of nearly 200 residential lots were submitted by Sunset International Petroleum Corp., developers of San Marin. One unit, of 58 lots, six of which will be used for apartment houses and one for commercial use, will include a total 20 acres. The second unit, on 33 acres, will be for about 115 homes.

A third unit for more residential lots on a 36-acre site was continued at the request of principal Planner David Van Pelt.

Van Pelt said there were "some unresolved matters, chiefly involving school site requirements and streets in conformity with the master plan."

The new subdivisions are south of San Marin Unit No. 2, and are bounded on the west by the proposed San Andreas Drive.

ly for over eight years he was assistant director of instructional materials in charge of the audio-visual and production center for Alameda County schools.

The board also will hear a report on new "programmed textbooks," patterned after teaching machines, which have been tried out in some San Rafael schools and are to be tried in Tamalpais High School District.

It will also hear a review of courses of study in elementary schools by a board committee, and consider adoption of a 1963-64 school calendar for rural school districts.

Easter Seal Drive Gains

Contributions totaling $11,448 have been received so far in the Marin County Easter Seal campaign, chairman Rodric L. Robinson said today.

Robinson said that this is a slightly greater return than last year with 7,516 persons contributing so far. The money is used by the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

Those who have not yet returned their contribution are urged to do so, Robinson said.

self one heck of an arrest. I am wanted all over the country."

Addison also said, "If I had the 30-20 pistol which I threw away yesterday, I would have blown your brains out."

He said he was wanted for forgery in Seattle, Portland, Eureka and Modesto. He said he robbed a Yakima, Wash., bank of $13,000 two weeks ago.

He said he killed Morris Denning, a bank robbery partner in July, 1936, and buried his body in South Dakota. He said Denning was setting a trap for him to turn him over to the FBI.

Addison said he stole some drugs last week from the Ross General Hospital. Hospital officials today said that no drugs have been missed.

Burglar Takes Wrong Machine

He broke through the front door of Kim's Sound Center at 1423 Grant Avenue in the Town and Country Shopping Center between 6 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. yesterday, and took a phonograph and several long playing records valued at $130.

Lauren Elkins Sr. of 1955 Center Road, who was cleaning the court in the shopping center, discovered the break-in, according to Novato police.

Kim McCune, owner, was called by police. He reported the record player had been brought in for repairs and could not play the records.

Boy Rides Bike Into Path Of Moving Car

Six-year-old Mathew Gregory of 788 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, suffered minor injuries Saturday afternoon when he rode his bicycle in front of a car driven by Berridge Lee Marsh of 1012 Las Gamos Road, Terra Linda.

The car was being parked in a shopping center area behind Scotty's Market and struck the bicycle only lightly. The California Highway Patrol issued no citation.

Terra Lindan Head Of Hotel Greeters

Russell Snow of 595 Tanbark Terrace, Terra Linda, was installed as president of the Far Western Regional Hotel Greeters of America at a recent ceremony in Brawley, Imperial County. The region extends west and south from Salt Lake City to the coast.

Snow became international treasurer of the Hotel Greeters of America last year and will continue in this office until next month. He is manager of the Beverly-Plaza Hotel in San Francisco.

tinued. "I thought it was 'way out in the weeds. It's the fruit of it that counts. A lot of our churches are nothing but tombs. We do need something. The early Church knew a living presence. We need to capture this. . .

"We have order in our church. We know how we're going to come out. If we translate this Pentacostal praise into the historical idiom, we will have something wonderful."

Rev. Ewald said the "speaking in tongues" movement is having an "outpouring" in Presbyterian church in Tracy, Live Oak and Bakersfield. Holy Innocents parishioners began speaking in tongues about 10 years ago and are in Marin to practice it, he said The Episcopalian All Saints Church in San Leandro holds similar meetings.

"You can't tell if speaking in tongues is successful," he said. "You are casting your bread upon the waters. We have people waiting to attend our healing meetings. We must be filling a need. The bishop did this out of love, to maintain future unity. It wasn't for excesses present now."

But Rev. Pike, in his pastoral letter, said: "Every one of the dangers pointed out by St. Paul and by the House of Bishop's statement (concerning new movements within the church) have by now already become evident here. And this in spite of the patent sincerity and the good intentions of the priests in this movement."

Collects Stamps The Wrong Way

Mrs. Dorothy B. Gorman notified the sheriff last night that mail has been missing from her mailbox and possibly from the boxes of her neighbors.

Deputy Sheriff James L. Current said he talked to a 7-year-old boy, who admitted taking a letter from the Gorman mailbox last month but denied he had ever done it since.

Gallinas Apartment Plan Out

The wishes of Gallinas Village residents seem to carry considerable weight with subdividers of the small Santa Venetia community.

A request for county planning commission approval of an apartment house near the Gallinas Village shopping center was withdrawn today after residents had submitted protests to the commission and board of supervisors.

Three weeks ago, subdividers withdrew an application for permission to build duplexes in the same area when residents raised cries that any multiple housing would be a detriment to the single-family residential area.

Jonwil Corp. of Oakland had applied for permission to build the apartments on a 1.9-acre site at Adrian Way and North San Pedro Road. International Investment Corp. of Oakland, affiliated with the Jonwil firm, had proposed the duplexes.

said. "This bird's too tame; besides, she has a clipped wing."

Somewhat nonplussed to find that other peafowl are flying around loose in Mill Valley, Parker took the hen home to keep in his aviary until someone claims her. He said he'd call her Ethel.

And Mrs. Walter Jarecki reported this morning that Paul caught poison oak along with the bird.

Stalled Auto Rammed By Car

An Independent-Journal report last Friday of a highway accident last Wednesday night erroneously said a vehicle driven by Marlon A. Wolcott of 24 Buena Vista Drive, San Anselmo, struck one driven by David R. Young of 170 San Jose Boulevard, Hamilton Air Force Base.

Wolcott's car stalled on the Richardson Bay Bridge and was rammed by one driven by Young.

Puppetry Classes Starting Tomorrow

Puppetry classes will be held tomorrow from 3:45 to 5:30 p.m. in the Santa Venetia School kitchen and continue for four weeks under the sponsorship of the San Rafael Recreation Department.

The children will be divided into three different groups and present plays entitled "The Magician, The Three Bears and The Three Wishes" at the end of June.

OBITUARIES

Little Heart Surgery Girl Loses Her Fight For Life

Four-year-old Stephanie Halcro of Mill Valley lost her fight for life Saturday after undergoing open heart surgery Wednesday in a San Francisco hospital.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halcro, was operated on by a famous open heart surgery team. She was reported to have been in surgery for several hours. She died after developing heart and lung difficulties. Stephanie was born with a congenital heart defect.

A Mass of the Angels will be said at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Mill Valley. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

The child is survived by her parents and five sisters, Victoria, Pauline, Roberta, Mary Beth and Peggy Halcro.

She was born in California.

The family requests that tributes be contributions to the Marin County Heart Assn.

EDWARD LITTLE

Graveside services for Arthur Edward Little, who died in his San Rafael apartment last week, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Little, an unemployed painter, was found Thursday by John Raymond Campbell of 1520 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, who said he had become worried after not seeing Little for three days. Little's death was attributed to natural causes by Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Little, a native of Ohio, lived in Marin County about 30 years, most recently at 1137 C Street.

VERYL WILSON

Funeral services for Veryl Chandis (Pop) Wilson, 74, of Sonoma, father of Howard Wilson of San Rafael, were scheduled today in Sonoma.

The elder Wilson died Friday after collapsing in a Sonoma store. Death was tentatively attributed to a heart attack.

Wilson, a native of Iowa, had lived in California for 40 years and in Sonoma Valley since 1938. He had worked as a carpenter and machinist.

Surviving are six sons, Howard; Richard Wilson of San Francisco, Roy O. Wilson of Oakland, and Harry N., Walton T. and George G. Wilson of Sonoma; a daughter, Mrs. Doretta Shaw of Sonoma, and three brothers, Alford, Taylor and George Wilson of Iowa; also 16 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

MRS. BEERS

Mrs. Catherine M. Beers, 85, who had lived in Marin County for about 65 years, died in a San Rafael rest home yesterday after a two-year illness.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church. Burial will be private.

Born in Ireland, Mrs. Beers was brought to California as a girl of 16 and she initially attended school at the Dominican convent located at that time in Benecia, Solano County.

She later married the late Harry G. Beers who became a state architect, but predeceased her by 20 years. The family home in San Rafael was at 1702 Fifth Avenue.

Survivors include two sons and a daughter, Edward A. and Lewis H. Beers and Mrs. Beatrice M. Rutland of San Rafael, as well as five grandchildren.

Negroes Plan Demonstrations

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Hundreds of young Negroes began congregating today at headquarters of integration activities in Birmingham and indications were that they were planning another mass demonstration.

An initial survey of Negro public schools showed that attendance was extremely light this morning — apparently the result of an announced plan to boycott classes.

Negro integration leaders said there would be no letup in the campaign to destroy racial barriers in this Deep South industrial city.

That's what most parents say or assume—without really knowing.
Precisely how much time and how often? Precisely what kind of physical activity?
All parents should know these facts. If your child's school doesn't have a daily program that provides at least fifteen minutes of vigorous physical exercise, now's the time to act. SCENES WHEN WHISKY BURNED AT DISTILLERY

Flames consuming storage building of American Distilling Co. on edge of Sausalito were at their height as this photo was taken Saturday night. Three buildings, extending for over 100 yards along Bridgeway Boulevard, went up in the fire that did damage estimated at about two and one-half million dollars—to say nothing of about one and three-quarter millions lost to the federal government in taxes on the booze. Yet the distilling company hopes to have the plant producing again within three weeks.

CHARRED OAK CASKS — Whiskey labels sometimes proclaim the stuff was aged in "charred oak casks"—but none as charred as those in American Distilling storage building on which firemen pour water through open door during Saturday night distilliery blaze.

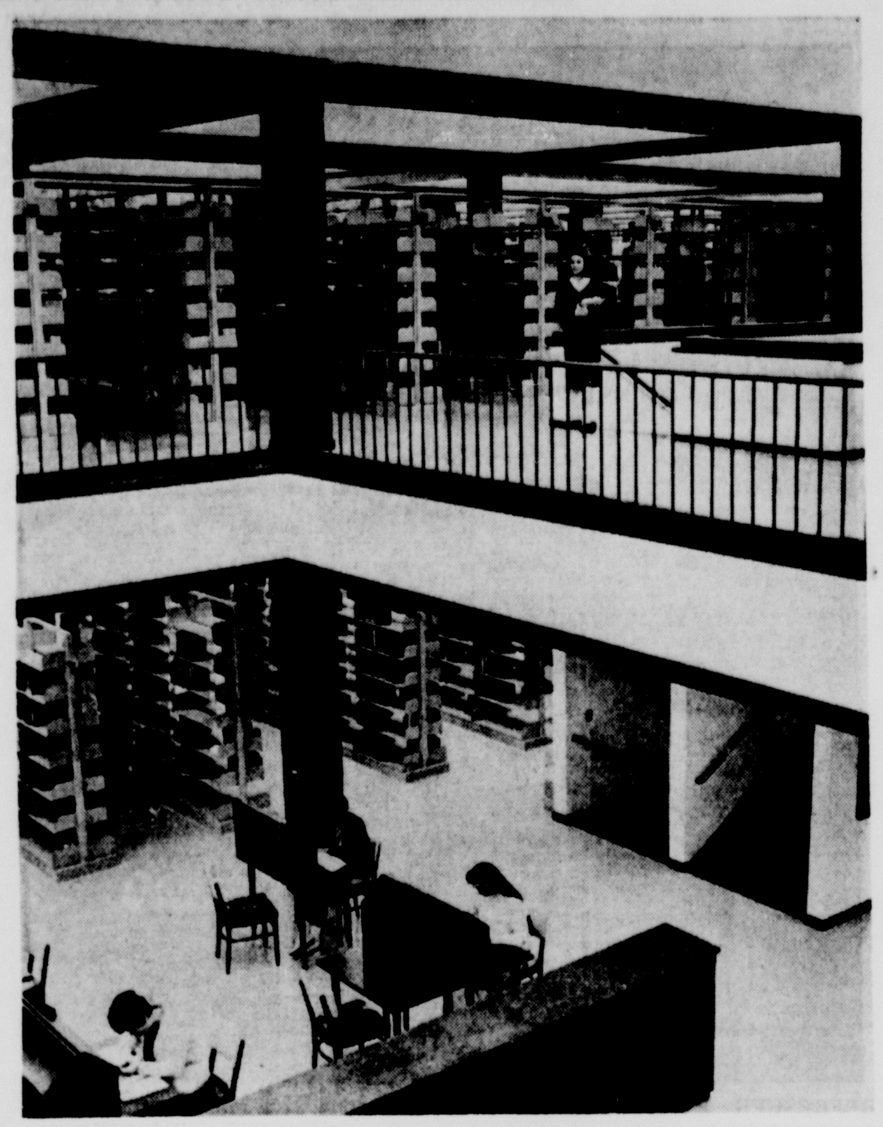

REFRESHER FOR FIREMEN — Juanita Musson, a raincoat over her muumuu, pours coffee for County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom at distillery fire scene. Mrs. Musson was on hand with coffee from Juanita's Galley for the throng of smoke-eaters who fought the blaze.

MANY DEPARTMENTS ON HAND —Tiburon Fire Department was among many that assisted Sausalito and Marin County in fighting distillery fire. Here, Tiburon firemen play hose on barrels of whisky in storage building. Many barrels exploded, but some survived the blaze.

STILL INTACT—After the fire was over, unbroken barrels remained on steel frame which stood like skeleton, the building that housed it consumer by fire. (All photos on this page by Bob Hax and Harold Mathias, Independent-Journal photographers)

NEW LIBRARY AT DOMINICAN—Ample shelf and study space is provided in the million-dollar Archbishop Alemany Library at San Rafael's Dominican College, which will be dedicated by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken of the San Francisco Catholic Archdiocese in ceremonies at 5 p.m. Wednesday. (Jim Kean photo)

New Library At Dominican College Will Be Dedicated On Wednesday

Dedication of the Archbishop Alemany Library on the campus of San Rafael's Dominican College will be conducted at 5 p.m. Wednesday by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken.

Allowing Dominican space to double its present book collection, the new building is notable for its open quality with tree and hill vistas from all windows, together with an enclosed garden for outdoor study, combined with practical arrangements of lobby, reading areas, reference rooms, and space for movement without disturbance of readers.

An indoor nook with easy chairs and fireplace provides for relaxed reading while smoking will be permitted in the outside area. A large foyer contains circulating desk, card catalogs and exhibition cases. Open-shelf reference and general volumes are in two areas leading right and left from the vestibule.

Bound periodicals and other general reading volumes will be located on a second floor which will also contain four seminar rooms, listening rooms, curriculum library, faculty reading room and staff room. Downstairs in the same area are administration offices and processing rooms.

The building is named after the first archbishop of San Francisco, a Spanish Dominican friar. Archbishop Joseph Sadoc Alemany was responsible for establishing in California the order now including the Dominican Sisters of San Rafael.

Wednesday's dedication program will start with an academic procession to the new library where Archbishop McGucken will bless the library and the crucifix for its foyer.

Conferring of academic honors will follow with Dr. Marshall Dill Jr. representing the college faculty and receiving nine new members into Gamma Sigma, the college honor society.

The archbishop will be honored at a 6:30 p.m. dinner in Caleruega Hall with Judge Carlos R. Freitas of San Rafael presiding and attorney William L. Ferdon of San Francisco as speaker.

Taxable Sales Are Up 9.8% In County

Taxable sales in Marin retail stores last year were 9.8 per cent above the previous twelve months, according to figures released to the Independent-Journal by the State Board of Equalization.

Total of taxable retail sales was given as $145,606,000 for 1963, compared with $132,781,000 the previous year.

Biggest percentage gain was in building materials, which climbed 17.5 per cent from $13,130,000 to $15,435,000.

Only decrease was in drug store sales, down 17.5 per cent from $7,920,000 to $6,531,000. Believed to account for this drop was exemption of prescription drugs from the sales tax, which went into effect last year under a law sponsored by Marin's State Sen. John F. McCarthy.

Automotive sales were up 15 per cent; home furnishings and appliances, 11.2 per cent; taxable items in food stores, 10.9 per cent; apparel and general merchandise stores' sales, 9.8 per cent; eating and drinking places, 6.3 per cent; packaged liquor stores, 4.6 per cent, and "other retail stores," 9.2 per cent.

Fairfax led in percentage gain among the cities, with 13.3 per cent, closely followed by San Rafael with 12.9 per cent, Mill Valley with 12.8 per cent, and Corte Madera with 12 per cent. Only city with a decline in taxable retail sales was Larkspur, where the total dropped 5.8 per cent.

Novato retail sales were up 8.2 per cent; Sausalito, 2.6 per cent, and San Anselmo, 1 per cent. Sales in the unincorporated areas increased 5.5 per cent. No totals were announced for Belvedere and Ross.

Total taxable sales by cities were: San Rafael, $66,753,000; Mill Valley, $14,136,000; Corte Madera, $11,755,000; Novato, $8,234,000; Sausalito, $8,795,000; San Anselmo, $7,859,000; Fairfax, $4,251, and Larkspur, $3,417,000. Novato passed up Sausalito to place third among the cities. Sales in the unincorporated areas totaled $19,096,000.

Biggest dollar total in any classification was in the automotive group, which did $33,976,000 of taxable business. Next came eating and drinking places, with $18,899, followed by taxable items in food stores, $17,671,000, and general merchandise stores, $17,247,000.

They Hate To Hike Supervisors' Pay

The lawmakers themselves get $6,000 a year. More and more supervisors are getting paid more than that. But the supervisors get pay raises voted by the legislature. The lawmakers must go to the people.

The electorate is perennially tightfisted with the salaries of senators and assemblymen. It turned down two ballot propositions raising their pay just last year.

But the legislators, albeit with much grumbling, usually go along with higher salaries for the supervisors.

At least 12 bills have been introduced to this effect this year. All are believed assured of passage. The increases would go to supervisors in Mono, Nevada, Madera, Marin, San Diego, Plumas, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Butte, Tulare, San Bernardino and Fresno counties.

In sparsely-populated Mono County, for example, supervisors would get $3,000 a year rather than $2,400. Other proposed increases include Marin ($6,000 to $9,600), San Diego ($8,400 to $12,500), San Mateo ($9,600 to $12,000), Santa Barbara ($7,500 to $10,000) and Tulare ($9,000 to $10,200).

On the Assembly side, these bills are first considered by the municipal and county government committee, headed by John T. Knox, (D-Richmond).

Knox's administrative assistant, Tom Willoughby, remarks that the committee has two rules of thumb for passing a bill onto the Assembly floor:

1. The board of supervisors in question must endorse it.

2. The county's grand jury must recommend it.

Bills for salary increases seldom, if ever, are introduced without such endorsements.

When the bills come to either the Assembly or Senate floor a ritual ensues which may send vistors in the galleries home with a funny feeling about the sanity of some of their representatives in Sacramento.

Everyone whistles in great surprise that anyone could contemplate raising a supervisor's pay over that of a legislator.

But the bills invariably get a unanimous vote.

There have been proposals, half-seriously made, to pass a statute giving the people the final say-so over supervisorial salaries.

Some lawmakers have a sneaking suspicion that electorate would be about as generous with its supervisors as with its legislators.

Marin County Board To Meet On Franchise For Television Booster

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will be asked to grant a franchise for distribution television booster signals to a San Rafael television repair service.

Robert D. Lewis, operator of Bob's TV and Sound of San Rafael, in a letter to the board, has requested the franchise "to provide reception for both television and FM stereo in areas where it is difficult to obtain adequate reception."

Lewis' firm already operates signal booster equipment in San Geronimo Valley.

Supervisors William D. Fusselman and George Ludy have said they have received "many complaints" about Lewis' service here, and asked for discussion of the franchise.

Lewis stated his request for the franchise "has nothing to do with other communications you may have received. I have intended for some time to communicate with you on the franchise request."

He said Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. requires the franchise so that reception equipment may be hooked up with telephone poles.

The board will meet at 9 p.m. in the Civic Center, and the franchise request will be heard at 11 a.m.

Other matters to be considered include proposed mutual fire protection of Angel Island by the county and state, and further discussion of recreation facilities for senior citizens.

Richardson Bay Flood Control Is Subject

Watkins contended that he merely intended to scare them by shooting near them. He told jurors he planned to turn his 1,200-acre property into a hunting and fishing resort.

Negro Loses Bitter Fight To Head Young Demo Unit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A group of young liberals, who beat down an attempt by a Negro to be elected president of the California Federation of Young Democrats, today had control of the 5,000-member volunteer organization.

They retained the leadership yesterday in a bitterly-fought battle for the presidency between Josiah Beeman, 27, of San Francisco, and Negro Bill Greene, 31, of Los Angeles.

The fight at one point led to a walkout from the convention by Greene forces, both Negroes and whites, and a threat that they would form their own organization with Greene as its president.

If Greene had been elected, he would have been the first member of his race to head the federation in its 13-year history. But he lost on a roll call vote, 2,241 to 2,421, a margin of 180.

Before adjourning the convention, delegates adopted a resolution agreeing to send a letter to President John F. Kennedy, the governor of Alabama and the mayor of Birmingham expressing their concern over recent racial incidents in the Southern city.

Greene backers bolted the convention Saturday afternoon when they lost a test challenge of the credentials committee over accreditation of some delegates from San Francisco State College.

But they returned early yesterday morning after a series of "summit" conferences. Turner Bobbitt, president of the 646-member Frederick Douglas Club in Los Angeles, announced they had reconsidered "for the good of the Democratic Party."

Greene, in an obvious reference to an anonymous letter charging that Negroes were trying to "take over" the federation, told the delegates: "There has been a lot of mystery and intrigue surrounding this convention and there have been an awful lot of attempts to manipulate things."

Beeman called upon the delegates to "be about your work," said he stood for a "liberal, independent organization" and that he didn't owe my soul nor my livelihood to any other man."

This was an obvious reference to the fact that Greene is a state Assembly clerk. Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Inglewood) has been a target of attack by liberal groups.

Greene, a former freedom rider arrested a number of times in the South, said he was hurt by his close identification with Unruh and also because he "couldn't go for the ultra-liberal resolutions."

The federation's platform and resolution committee adopted a 1963 platform calling, among other things, for elimination of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and favoring admission of Red China to the United Nations.

But the 13th annual convention ran out of time before the resolutions could reach the floor for action.

Astronaut Candidate Speaks Out

OAKLAND (AP) — "They tell me that by the time you get into orbit, it's just like driving your car down to the supermarket."

The first Negro picked for the man-in-space program of the United States is speaking.

Edward J. Dwight Jr., a 29-year-old Air Force captain of Edwards Air Force Base, has been visiting with his wife and two children at the Oakland home of his aunt, Mrs. Rona Dennis. They returned last night to Edwards.

Since the March 30 announcement of his selection:

"I've received between 500 and 600 letters from all over the United States and abroad. Not one has been derogatory. It's had nothing but good effect."

NASA Head Says Russ May Get To Moon First

CHICAGO (UPI)—The nation's top space official conceded today the Russians may beat the United States to the moon.

But James E. Webb, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said this nation is making a vigorous effort "which gives us a chance to be first and assurance that in any event we will not be out-distanced."

Webb keynoted the opening of a four-day national conference on the peaceful uses of space.

The meeting concludes Midwest space month, an event sponsored by the NASA and Midwestern businessmen to outline the progress of space reserch and to tell area companies how to get a larger share of contracts. About 1,000 businessmen and 900 teachers and students attended the opening session.

Webb told the conference lunar exploration "will have scientific, psychological and strategic value" for the United States.

Most important, he said, it will "assure that space, as the oceans and the atmosphere, will be used for the benefit of all mankind and not as a theater for communist aggression or communist propaganda."

Being second on the moon would be "serious," Webb said, but "not being in the competition at all would be a severe defeat for America and for the cause of democracy and freedom."

Webb said NASA is carefully considering a recommendation by scientists attending a space seminar at the State University of Iowa last summer that scientists accompany the astronauts in voyages to the moon.

The first landing will require men "with the maximum of test flight experience and highly conditioned reflexes," he said. Thoroughly trained scientists with knowledge of geology, astronomy and biology may go along on subsequent flights.

Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. is scheduled to make his 22-orbit flight around the earth on May 14. The flight could go more than 22 orbits or less, Webb said, depending on how scientists are satisfied with the flight data.

Lobbyists' Fees Are Barred In Philippine War Claims Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate negotiators gave in today and accepted a House plan for paying Philippine war damage claims to individual claimants but barring fees to lobbyists who pushed the bill.

They agreed to a compromise retaining the basic form of the 1962 claims law and scraps a Senate-approved rider to pay the 73 million dollar maximum involved directly to the Philippine government.

The measure, however, bars any payment in a claims case to any "corporation, association, firm or other individual or party whatsoever."

No claimant could receive his money until he certified that he was not paying anything to any agent.

The provision was written into a 1.5 billion dollar catch-all supplemental money bill. The Senate-House conferees also agreed on all other differences. Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Tex) chief house conferee, said he hoped to bring the bill before the House later today.

The Senate had voted overwhelmingly to pay the claims money directly to the Philippine government after disclosures that Washington lobbyists, including attorney John A. O'Donnell, stood to reap huge fees from the present law.

The Senate foreign relations committee also disclosed that O'Donnell made campaign contributions to more than 20 members of Congress in 1960 while lobbying for the present act.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Expense Account Rules Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Witnesses told an Internal Revenue Service hearing today that proposed expense account regulations have businessmen completely confused and even cringing from their legal right to wine and dine business prospects.

They charged that the question "to spend or not to spend" now is so baffling that the average expense account executive is keeping a tight zipper on his wallet.

DISRESPECT

Arthur J. Packard, representing the American Hotel and Motel Assn., said the new rules "will causes a disrespect for the law comparable to the prohibition era."

Others said the regulations were putting a crimp in business and causing unemployment, particularly in the restaurant and hotel industries.

FAVORABLE

Spokesmen for salesmen groups, clubs, hotels, accounting firms, and restaurants took turns verbally flailing the new code.

The only favorable sentiment came from Mortimer M. Caplin, commissoiner of internal revenue, who said the regulations "reflect a liberal view" and strike a fair balance between restricting abuses . . . and not imposing undue restrictions on legitimate business activity."

Dangling Soldier Saves Self

A man seen dangling below Yellow Point near the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday "rescued" himself before Coast Guardsmen could get to him.

Fort Baker officials got a call from the Coast Guard saying "a boy" had been dangling from a rope over the sheer face of the cliff.

The "boy" turned out to be T/Sgt. Oliver B. Cleavenger, 35, of the 78th Air Police Detachment of Hamilton Air Force Base.

He said that following old practice he had tied a 100-foot rope to a tree at the top of the bluff and lowered himself to a ledge to fish.

Cleavenger had collected his limit and started back up the rope about the time the Coast Guard saw him.

Man Is Jailed For Assault

A 36-year-old Kentfield man was jailed last night for assault and battery and disturbing the peace by San Rafael police after he allegedly hit a San Rafael man who was trying to place him under citizen's arrest.

Officer Phillip Green responded to a call to the Pago Pago Bar at 803 Fourth Street, San Rafael, at 5:08 p.m. Bartender John Goviea said Owen K. Perry of 946 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, had started several fights with customers.

Robert Wunder of 1 West End Avenue, San Rafael, attempted to place Perry under citizen's arrest. Perry, according to Officer Green, responded by hitting Wunder in the face. Green then arrested Perry and took him to jail, where he was held on $472.50 bail for a hearing in court today.

Car Hits Tree In San Anselmo

Two persons were treated for cuts and bruises early today after the car they were in hit a tree in front of 12 Lincoln Avenue, San Anselmo, around 2:30 a.m.

Elizabeth McIntosh, 45, 363 Hibiscus Way, San Rafael, was reported in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today after treatment for bruises and knee scratches. She told San Anselmo police she didn't know why she had hit the tree.

Her passenger, Joseph Ferg, 60, of 240 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, was released from the same hospital after treatment for a chest pain and abrasions.

Mill Valley 'Can't Afford Raise Plan'

Mill Valley City Council decided Saturday that the city can't afford a two-step pay raise across-the-board for city employees without a substantial tax increase.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants' two-step pay hike proposal, estimated to cost $34,000, was toned down to a one-step raise totaling $17,000, plus $6,700 worth of upward adjustments to "integrate" the city schedule with a standardized state step plan.

The councilmen said they'd like to pay more, but just couldn't finance it.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said a check of the records showed that five years ago, 47.5 per cent of the city budget went for salaries, and the new proposed budget, with a two-step increase and additional positions, would devote 56.5 per cent to salaries.

At that rate, in another 10 years, salaries and benefits would be up to 75 per cent and there would be nothing left for streets or anything else," Sheeks said.

Almcrants said Mill Valley's present salaries are lower than those of several other cities in Marin. He compared the basic police and fire salary of $515 per month to $589 in San Rafael and $608 for the sheriff's office.

Councilman George Blackwell didn't think such comparison was appropriated because "San Rafael is a richer city."

Almcrants said city employees shouldn't be paid on that basis, but should receive "equal pay for equal work."

"Well, then," replied Blackwell, "we should pay you $30,000 a year like the city manager of San Francisco."

Councilman William M. Secor said he couldn't agree to a two-step increase because the city adopted an improved pension system last year "in lieu of a step increase."

Another comment by Secor touched off spirited rebuttals from Police Chief Dan Terzich and Ross Benson, superintendent of public works. Secor said that if a man "wants to be a policeman and wants to make more money he should get out and go to San Francisco" where salaries are higher.

"It's all very well to talk about 'letting him go' where he can make more," declared Terzich, "but we don't want them to go.

"We've got the best damn police department in the State of California, whether you know it or not."

Benson said he couldn't "keep them happy" on a step or step-and-a-half pay increase in his department. "I just can't hire people at $365 a month," he said.

The councilmen left it up to Almcrants to work out a schedule of increases within the $23,000 which they decided the city could afford.

State Insurance Industry Fighting Brown's Accelerated Tax Program

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's insurance industry came out fighting today against Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax acceleration program.

John McFarland, a San Francisco attorney acting as spokesman for 700 life insurance companies, told a news conference: "The insurance industry would be used as a convenient conduit from the taxpayers to the administration."

He said the insurance firms would be forced by the program now before the legislature, to pay an additional 66 million dollars in calendar 1964.

"Like in any other business," he said, "this would be passed on to the public. It would mean another raise in insurance rates."

McFarland estimated the boost could be as much as 2 per cent.

Brown hopes to raises 163 million dollars extra money for fiscal 1963-64 by accelerating business taxes and having them paid on a quarterly basis.

The Assembly revenue and taxation committee Wednesday will consider administration-sponsored bills on the acceleration.

McFarland made public findings of Joseph Froggatt and Co. Inc., an accounting and auditing firm, claiming that the insurance industry in California already is paying more than a fair share of state taxes.

The report showed that in the four-year period from 1958-62 the insurance industry paid state taxes totaling 189 million dollars more than they would have paid if they had been assessed in the same manner as all banks and corporations doing business in the state.

'Pillow Case' Burglar Strikes In Sausalito

Two homes were entered in Sausalito Friday, police reported today, with $1,500 in furs and cameras stolen and one burglar apparently using a pillow case to carry off his loot.

Alice Stohler reported at 9:25 p.m. Friday she returned to her apartment at 50 Rodeo Avenue at 6:30 p.m. to find a mink stole, a hip-length mink coat, and two cameras were missing.

Her bed had been turned back, she said, and a pillow slip taken. The front door was unlocked and a ladder was against the south side of her apartment near an overhanging porch. She placed $1,500 value on the belongings taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon O'Brien reported at 5:35 p.m. Friday their home at 138 Buchanan Drive had been entered sometime during the day and a Norwegian fox stole and a television set taken.

They gave no estimate of the value. There was no sign of forced entry, police said, but the O'Briens said doors and windows had been locked.

Driver Injured; Hit Light Pole

Howard J. Adrian, 32, of 84 Cypress, Mill Valley, was in fair condition today at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco with a head injury suffered in an automobile accident Saturday night.

Adrian was observed driving erratically on Almonte Boulevard at 7:35 p.m., according to the California Highway Patrol. Witnesses told the patrol his car drifted off the road near Helen Avenue and hit a light pole.

Marin General Hospital treated Adrian for a concussion, then transferred him to Kaiser Hospital. There was no other occupant of the car.

1,800 At Stinson Wild Flower Show

There were 1,800 visitors over the week end to the sixth annual Stinson Beach wild flower show.

Admissions brought in about $1,000, Mrs. William Sherfey, co-sponsor, said, which will be used to landscape Stinson's three community buildings, the firehouse, chapel and center.

Six hundred varieties of flowers were displayed, Mrs. Sherfey reported, but none was from above the 1,000-foot altitude owing to late rains making it a late flowering season. Also due to rains, the four sponsors drove more miles to collect the flowers. Mrs. Charles Griffin of San Diego drove 2,000 miles; Mrs. Sherfey, Mrs. Edward E. Leary and Mrs. Kenneth Shockey each drove 1,500 miles.

Giants Wondering: What's Wrong With Billy Pierce?

MILWAUKEE (AP) — What, if anything, is wrong with Billy Pierce?

It's a question that San Francisco Giants supporters are asking with increasing concern today as the defending National League champions take an off-day in Milwaukee before facing the Braves tomorrow night.

Pierce, the 16-6 veteran wonder of 1962, is only 1-3 in 1963 and he's been knocked from the box three straight times—the most recent by the lowly New York Mets.

The 36-year-old left-hander didn't make it through four innings yesterday as the Giants lost the second game of a double-header to the Mets 4-2 after taking the opener 6-3.

The split left them tied with the St. Louis Cardinals for second place, four percentage points behind Pittsburgh. Because the Pirates have played five fewer games than the Giants or Cards, they're actually a half-game behind the second-placers.

Pierce wasn't bombed too hard by the Mets but neither did he display last year's effectiveness.

Since shutting out Houston April 16, he's been knocked out by Chicago in the fifth inning, by St. Louis in the sixth and in one relief appearance walked the only man he faced.

Pierce served up a two-run homer to Cliff Cook in the first inning that put the Mets ahead to stay. He departed in the fourth after Charlie Neal doubled and Gil Hodges singled him home with none out.

Don Larson and Jim Duffalo held the Mets to one run after that but the Giants could manage to score only twice off Carl Willey.

Jim Davenport, back in the lineup for the second day since his left thumb was injured by a line drive April 29, scored in the fifth on Willie Mays' single.

Tom Haller pinch-hit a triple with two out in the ninth and drove in an unearned run.

The opener was brighter for the Giants as Jack Sanford won his fifth game against one loss, striking out ten and giving up eight hits.

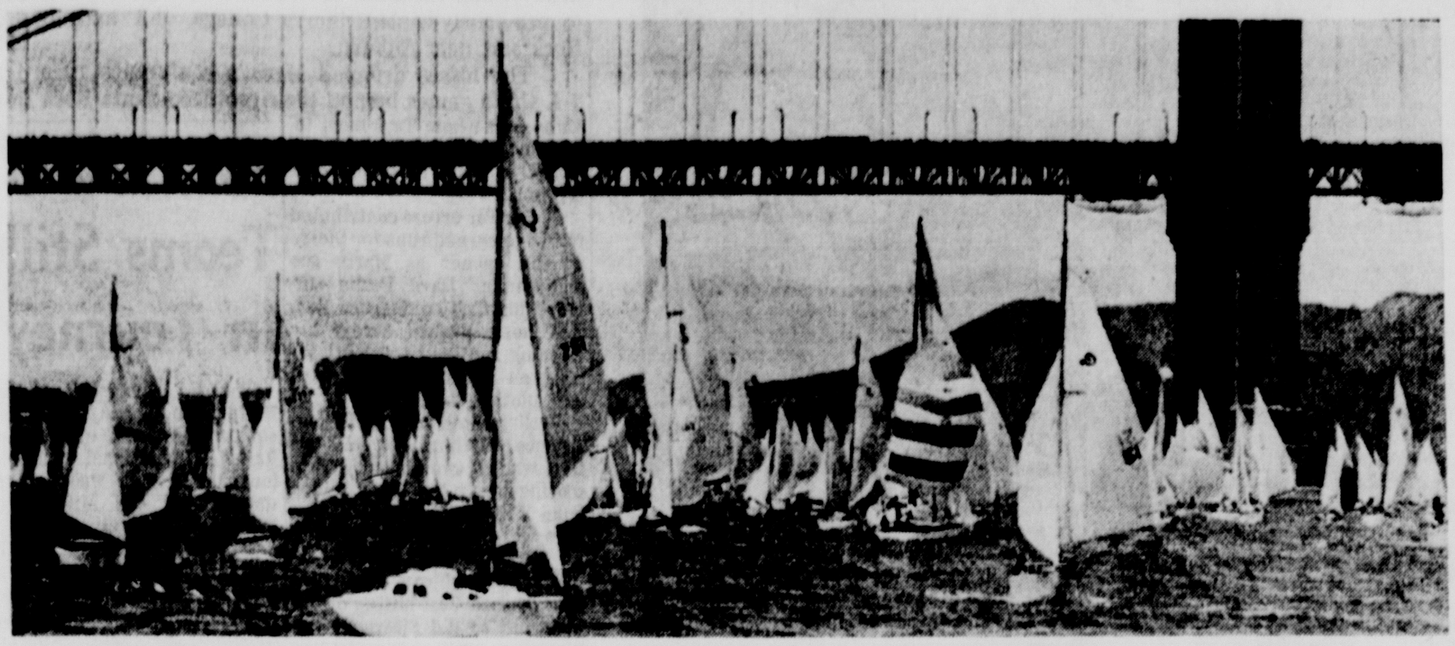

Willie Mays belted a three-run homer in the first inning that proved the winning margin. Mets' starter Galen Cisco walked Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou ahead of Mays' homer.

The Mets scored once in the second but Alou belted a two-run homer off Cisco in the fourth. The Giants picked up another run in the fifth as for a time heavy rain threatened to halt the game before it had gone the legal five innings.

The homers were Nos. 5 for Mays and Alou.

Juan Marichal, 3-2, is expected to open the Braves series for the Giants.

YACHTS OPEN SEASON WITH BREATHTAKING PARADE

This crowded scene of billowing sails beneath the Golden Gate bridge signaled the opening of the yacht season yesterday on San Francisco Bay. Hundreds of sail boats and power cruisers, all dolled up in a festive mood, paraded around the bay in a day filled with fun and plenty of color.

NICKLAUS HASN'T EVEN REACHED HIS PEAK YET

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, who owns virtually all the prized possessions of the golfing game as well as the most dollars for the year, has unpleasant news for his fellow gentlemen of the greens.

He isn't even at his peak yet.

Jack, richer by $13,000 after his almost casual victory in the $60,000 Tournament of Champions yesterday, was asked if he thinks he is at the top of his game.

Eyebrows raised in surprise, he exclaimed: "I certainly hope not. I feel and hope I can improve.

"A man wants to improve at anything he does. That's how I feel about my future in golf."

Nicklaus capped his brilliant rounds of 64-68-72 with a 69 yesterday. He won the Las Vegas classic by five strokes with a 72-hole score of 273, 15 strokes under par.

CASPER WITHDRAWS

Bill Caspar Jr. was forced to withdraw because of a swollen, aching left hand after eight holes so Nicklaus' closest competitors were Arnold Palmer, the former king of the pros, and Tony Lema, who came in with a 66 to tie with Palmer at 278.

Palmer finished with a 68, but said, "I had a very unimpressive round. I was scrambling. I had quite a few putts that came up short."

The turning point of the tournament, Nicklaus said came on the 11th hole of the third round Saturday. He was paired with Casper who had just inched up to within one stroke of Nicklaus.

"I sank a good putt for a birdie two, and Bill missed his," said Jack. "That put me two shots ahead. Then Bill bogeyed the 12th to give me a three-shot edge. That gave me a big boost and confidence for the rest of the tournament."

Palmer and Lema each collected $5,300 for their second place tie.

Gardiner Dickinson, Ted Kroll and Bob Goalby were tied for the next spot and each won $2,900.

CONNOLLY

As the handicappers around the hoss tracks would say—the S.F. Giants are not a formful team. You can's really make book on them, either on a day-to-day, week-to-week, or on a series-to-series basis.

Being a retired racetrack handicapper whose "Goose Pimples Selections" never caused any widespread comment, I have to classify the Giants as a very unpredictable entry in the National League flag race. They play in fits and jumps, being great one day, ordinary the next, and then awful. Baseball dopesters really get the whips and jingles trying to figure if the team will ever play back to its best form, and if it does, how long will it last. That sort of rating goes for almost every member of the club and doesn't refer alone to the pitchers.

This week may find the Giants staying on the beam as they've done since taking to the road. They meet Milwaukee tomorrow and Wednesday nights with the third and last game of the return series being an afternoon affair on Thursday.

Three times in succession the Braves stung the Giants at Candlestick Park. Two of those losses were downright gifts from our big-hearted team.

IF YOU really want to be honest about the Giants you have to admit they're a high-strung outfit, moody to the point at times of acting like they don't care. But it isn't so. They do care. When the Giants are steamed up they look like champions and act like they are unbeatable. Maybe they'll be charged up for Milwaukee and, if they are, you can wager they'll get revenge for the recent blow-up series in S.F.

After three games with Milwaukee, Manager Dark takes his crew into Los Angeles for a weekend three-games series, the first of the season with the Dodgers, playing two night games on May 10 and 11th and an afternoon setto on May 12. All games between these club will be televised in S.F. so the home folks will get closer to the Giants than if listening to radio.

FOR A club that is rated as not being formful, you'll have to agree they looked great against the N. Y. Mets. It was the first time this season the boys had an oldtime batfest and everybody looked to be in shape.

When fellows like Cepeda and Bailey start rolling, something has to give, but when the window smashers like Jimmy Davenport start hitting homers, you can just bet the 1962 champions are catching up with some of the pitchers who have had things pretty much their own way so far.

Before the Giants return to Candlestick Park on Tuesday night, May 14, they have a chore to take care of, like meeting the Santa Clara Broncos next Monday evening at the Buck Shaw Stadium on the university campus.

INASMUCH AS Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, is a regent of Santa Clara, there isn't much the players can say to donating their off day.

Pastrano, Thornton All Even In Ring; May Fight Again

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Light heavyweight boxers Willie Pastrano and Irish Wayne Thornton, all even after three whacks at each other, may try it a fourth time.

There had been one decision by the 23-year-old Thornton, from Fresno, Calif., in February, and a draw in the rematch in March, both in New York.

IT'S CRAZY, BUT . . .

Pennant For Cubs?

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Think you've heard everything?

Then just listen to those incredible Chicago Cubs talking pennant

Ernie Banks started the ball rolling this spring when he first planted the idea that the Cubs could win and now the notion is starting to take root among some of the other Chicago players.

Naturally, the Cubs aren't claiming any pennant yet but they are saying it's possible. And you know something? It is —the way they're playing now.

They climbed to within 1½ games of the National League lead yesterday by completing a three-game sweep against the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2 for their sixth victory in the last seven starts.

NO MANAGER

Sudden thought: Wouldn't that be a gasser if they did win? They'd become the first major league club ever to win the pennant without a manager. Bob Kennedy officially is still listed as "head coach" although he's carrying out all managerial duties.

Anyway, Ken Hubbs supplied what proved to be the winning run yesterday with a fifth inning sacrifice fly that scored Lou Brock. Merritt Ranew's first homer of the year gave the Cubs their first run off loser Tony Cloninger in the third inning and Ranew then singled home another run in the fourth. Cal Koonce was the winner although Jim Brewer and Lindy McDaniel both were summoned in from the bullpen in the ninth.

Elsewhere in the N. L., the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3; the San Francisco Giants split a doubleheader with the New York Mets, winning the opener, 6-3, and losing the nightcap, 4-2; Philadelphia beat Houston, 6-5, in the first game but dropped the second one, 6-2, and Cinncinati took the opener from St. Louis, 5-4, then lost the 10-inning nightcap, 7-4.

In the American League, the Minnesota Twins thumped the New York Yankees, 4-1; the Chicago White Sox blanked the Washington Senators, 8-0, but lost the nightcap, 8-7; the Boston Red Sox edged the Kansas City A's, 3-2; the Cleveland Indians defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 4-3, and the Detroit Tigers crushed the Baltimore Orioles, 12-4.

Pinch-hitter Lee Walls' three-run homer in the ninth powered the Dodgers to victory over the Pirates. Walls connected off reliver Harvey Haddix, who took over for loser Vern Law, making his first start of the season after being recalled from the minors. Reliever Ron Perranoski was credited with his fourth victory.

COLTS BLOW

The Colts blew a 5-0 lead to the Phillies in the opener but won the second game on Dick Farrell's seven-hit pitching. Bob Lillis and Bob Aspromonte each drove in two runs in the nightcap for the Colts, who had dropped three games in a row to the Phils this year and 17 out of 18 to them last year.

Southpaw Jim O'Toole won his sixth game for the Reds in their opener with the Cardinals although Al Worthington helped him out with three scoreless innings in relief. Worthington, however, was tagged for a two-run homer by Gene Oliver in the 10th inning of the nightcap. The blow climaxed a four-run rally and earned Bobby Shantz his first victory.

San Rafael May Lose Swim Title On Technicality

Bulldogs Win Two Titles; Controversy In Varsity

But tomorrow is uncertain.

Scoring a total of 88 points in the varsity competition of the Marin Athletic League swim meet Saturday, San Rafael won over second place Tamalpais which scored 76 points. They were followed by Redwood with 59, Drake with 27 and Terra Linda with 10.

But a technicality caused much concern following the meet held in Tam's pool and it threatens to change the entire standings of the meet which would give Tamalpais High School the victory and San Rafael the second place spot.

San Rafael's Tom Brockband swam in the 200-yard medley relay instead of the listed Steve Graham. San Rafael won the event, with Tam coming in second. But a San Rafael disqualification would give Tam the event win and the triumph in the entire meet.

RULING LATER

Novato principal Robert McKeay, president of the Board of Managers of the MCAL, said today the board will meet to rule on the matter later this week.

Tamalpais High School principal Robert H. Prather was asked by the Independent-Journal if he thinks a ruling which would give his school a victory over San Rafael would be fair to the youngsters which competed for San Rafael, since the error was unintentional.

He replied:

"I feel that in an important meet such as this the league rules should be followed, even if it disappoints the boys. We would have had to take our lickings if it were our boys."

It was a walk-away for coach Larry Lack's lightweight swimmers as they scored 114½ points to 60 for Tam, 42½ for Terra Linda, 26 for Drake and 13 for Redwood.

It was a gala day for record crashing as five records were set in the 11 varsity events and seven marks established out of ten events in Class 8 competition.

Redwood's Don Keller, a double-winner last year, repeated again as a double winner and also set a record. He won the 200-yard freestyle in record time of 1:59.2 and then won the 400-yard freestyle in 4:22.4.

Tam's Tinsley Stetson also was a double winner, winning the 200-yard individual medley in record time of 2:14.2 and then winning the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:08.0.

DOUBLE WINNERS

In the lightweight competition, San Rafael had a pair of double winners. Jim Allen set a record of 1:58.6 in winning the 200-yard freestyle and came back to set another record in the 100-yard freestyle, winning in 53.9.

Tom Knopf of San Rafael won the 100-yard individual medley with a record swim of 1:03 and then came back with a victory in the 50-yard butterfly event. In one of the heats, he set a new record of 25.6, but won the final match in 26.3.

Other varsity records established were by Tam's Steve Bush with a 58.9 victory in the 100-yard butterfly and Dean Ferrandini's winning time of 1:02.5 in the 100-yard backstroke.

MARIN SUFFERS DOUBLE SETBACK

College of Marin's ambitions for a Golden Valley Conference baseball title were given a rude setback Saturday when the Tars lost both ends of a double-header to previously-winless Sierra College, 4-3 and 10-6 at Rockland, near Auburn.

The losses dropped Marin's conference record to 4-4, three games behind the first place Santa Rosa Bear Cubs (7-1) whom Tars meet tomorrow at Santa Rosa in an attempt to jump back into contention.

Three Tar errors contributed to two unearned runs for Sierra in the opener as Marin ace righthander Dave Perlis suffered his first conference loss. The hosts pushed across the winning run in the seventh inning on a single, stolen base and another single.

Perlis, who is now 2-1 in conference pitching, struck out five, walked two and hit a run-scoring triple. Rightfielder Mike Walsh had a double. The Tars were limited to four hits.

SIERRA RALLY

In the nightcap the Tars showed their best hitting of the year, but so did Sierra as the Wolverines rallied for all 10 of their runs in the last three innings.

Each team had 11 hits. For Marin Jerry Smith had a triple, double and single in five tries; Jim Lucas had a homer and single in five at-bats for three runs-batted-in; Perlis cracked a two-run double and single in five tries and Russ Honeyman also had a double and single in four at-bats.

Starter Ken Becker was the losing pitcher. He was relieved in the eighth by Honeyman.

The Tars committed five errors in the nightcap, giving Sierra two unearned runs. Sierra now has a 2-4 record.

Two Marin Teams Still In Tourney

The Billings-Hutchison Builders and San Anselmo Merchants remained in the San Rafael Invitational baseball tournament with weekend triumphs, but the Mill Valley Merchants were eliminated.

It took 11 innings for the Builders to defeat the Gino Benedetti from San Francisco 12-10 Saturday, and the San Anselmo Merchants knocked the Merchants of Mill Valley out of the tourney with a 9-1 victory in the Saturday nightcap.

Yesterday's action in the double-elimination affair saw Gateway Chevrolet drop Misracks 5-2 and Acme of Oakland fall to the Flying Goose team of San Francisco 7-5.

For the Builders, it was their second straight extra-inning game in the tourney, but this time they won. Bob DeRosa was the winning hurler after following four other pitchers to the mound.

In the top of the 11th, with two runners on base and two outs, the Builders scored the winning runs on a throwing error. Big hitting for the Builders was once again featured by Don Lauters with his second tournament home run.

Ernie Demattei smashed a double and two singles and Larry Smoot and Bob LeRosa each had a pair of singles.

PIERETTI LOSER

Ex-major leaguer Marino Pieretti was the losing picther for the San Franciscans and their hitting was topped by Walt Williams with a single and two doubles.

The Mill Valley-San Anselmo game was called after five innings because of the tourney rule that calls for a game to be called after five innings if one of the teams is in front by seven or more runs.

Laddie Richardson, winning pitcher for the San Anselmo nine, allowed four hits. Heavy hitting for San Anselmo was handled by third baseman Terry Farrell, who had two singles, and left fielder Ken Becker, who also collected a pair of hits.

Nicasio Softball Team Wins Season Opener On Homer

Bob Thompson smashed a two-out, three-run homer in the seventh inning to lead Rancho Nicasio softballers to a 9-7 victory over Misracks Friday in San Francisco.

Thompson's homer climaxed a four-run uprising as Nicasio won its opening game of the season. Dick Johnson pitched a seven-hitter for the victory, and aided his cause with two hits.

In semi-final action, McCoy and Peg defeated Tom and Jean Price, 8-3, 8-3, and Colleto and Pat defeated Wayne and Jean Swigert, 8-3, 9-7.

TROUT SEASON OPENS

Plenty Of Fish For All

Marin's army of trout fishermen opened the 1963 season with a bang Saturday, relieving local lakes and streams of thousands of fish, including some whoppers.

For quantity, Lagunitas and Phoenix lakes shared honors as each had been stockpiled with 10,000 catchables by the Department of Fish and Game and each reportedly produced 7,000 for hungry anglers on the opening day.

But, for quality, Nicasio Lake was the champion, according to Game Warden Al Giddings, as it yielded the biggest fish of the day.

Kurt Kalemba, president of the Woodacre Improvement Club, apparently was the individual champion as he hauled in a four and on-quarter pound Rainbow trout that measured 22 inches in length. Unlike most other anglers, Kalemba left his bait on the bottom of the lake and played a waiting game that paid off in the fat and beautiful fish.

With Kalemba were two 11-year old lads who also struck it rich. They were Andy Giddings, the game warden's son, and his pal, Jeff Tachet. Andy had fish measuring 19 and 15 inches and Jeff a pair that were 14 inches.

Another youngster, 15-year-old John Thorne of Novato, showed a beautiful string of six trout that weighed a total of nine pounds, the largest tipping the scales at three and a half pounds.

The father-son team of Nat and 12-year-old Richard Romanin of Novato took fish measuring 18½, 15 and 12 inches from Nicasio, the largest weighing two and a half pounds.

About 600 anglers were at Nicasio's shores, and just about everyhone caught a creel-ful of blue gills.

Phoenix and Lagunitas lakes were jammed for the opener with many anglers arriving as early as 2 a.m. The anglers who fished shoulder-to-shoulder were rewarded with many limits. Giddings estimated 7,000 fish were taken from each lake, with some limits scored within an hour of opening time.

Other lakes were slow, Giddings said.

Approximately 150 fished Papermill Creek and many got their limits, but the fish were small, on the average of only five inches long.

Game wardens reported the opening day throng was well-behaved and every angler who was checked had the required fishing license and two stamps.

Vet Equipment Man Dies, Dodgers Stunned

Black Sox Hero Dickie Kerr Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — Funeral services were to be held today for Dickie Kerr, the little left-handed pitcher who won lasting fame as the honest hero of the Chicago Black Sox scandal.

Kerr died Saturday of cancer. He was 69 and had spent most of his adult life in baseball as a player, manager and scout.

HOCKEY FINALE TONIGHT

Seals, Seattle Go Down To The Wire

The San Francisco Seals, who appeared to be finished a week ago in the Western Hockey League playoffs, meet the Seattle Totems again tonight and this time the winner goes home with the loop championship.

A 45-foot blast by Danny Belisle at 2:01 in a sudden death period gave the Seals a 3-2 victory over the Totems last night at the Cowpalace and deadlocked the best-of-seven-games series at three victories apiece.

"We got the breaks tonight and whoever gets the breaks tomorrow will win it," Bud Poile, the Seals coach, said afterward while enjoying a beer in his team's crackerbox dressing room.

On the other side of the Cow Palace, Seattle coach Keith Allen stood back in the shadows and murmered, "our club has done things the hard way all season, so we're still keeping our form."

Allen said that he wished the decisive game could be played at Seattle instead of the Cow Palace where the entire series has been held.

SEATTLE NIXED

League President Al Leader said before last night's game that arrangements had been made so that the Totems could have returned home for the final contest. But the Seals nixed the idea and a playoff cannot be transferred unless both clubs agree to it.

The Seals, who were trailing Seattle three games to one earlier in this series, led 2-1 going into the final period last night only to have Jim Powers tie the score for Seattle at 8:13 of the third period.

Then came the third overtime of the series, Belisle ended it by hypnotizing goal-tender Al Millar with a 45-foot rocket some 30 seconds after the Totems net-minder had made a fine stop on Nick Mickoski.

George Konik got the Totems off to a 1-0 lead at 14:07 of the first period with a backhander past San Francisco's Jim McLeod. The Seals squared it a minute and one second later on Len Haley's shot while Seattle's Gordon Sinclair was in the penalty box.

Mickoski gave San Francisco a 2-1 edge with 1:10 played in the middle period when he broke loose for a solo dash and sank a 25-foot screamer. But Guyle Fielder set up Powers' tying goal with some deft stickhandling before the last regulation period ended.

Only two penalties were called after Leader warned both clubs that a repetition of Thursday night's rhubarbs — which featured 23 infractions —would result in fines starting from $25 up.

Apparently the fisticuffs didn't hurt the game any as a total of 11,869 turned out for last night's cleanly played contest. Tonight's final game will start at 8 o'clock.

COLLEGE TRACK

Stanford Thrower Sets Discus Mark

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

As the collegiate dual track meet season came to a close in California and near the end in the Northwest, Southern California remained "The Team" and C. K. Yang "The Man."

The weather remained "The Worst" for the thinclad participants on the Pacific Coast, who are developing into a hardy breed, even if they don't have good suntans.

Dave Weill, wearing a warm-up shirt against the cold winds in Berkeley, spun the discus 193 feet, 2 inches Saturday for a new NCAA record as his Stanford mates rolled to a 92-53 triumph over California in the 68th Big Meet.

The eclipsed record of 191-7½ also was the property of the 6-foot-7 270-pound senior from Walnut Creek. The world's record of 204-10½ belongs to Al Oerter, who has a pending 205-5½ achieved at the Mt. San Antonio Relays April 27.

Yang piled up 14 points for UCLA, but the rest of the Bruins were no match for USC, which won the meet, 99-46. USC has never lost to UCLA.

Yang won the broad jump and the pole vault, placed second in the javelin and third in the 120-yard high hurdles. The decathalon champion, who established a new point record for the 10 events at Mt. San Antonio, failed in three attempts to better the world pole vault record after winning with a 15-6 vault.

Brian Sternberg, who one week ago had the record at 16-5 before John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State soared 16-6¾ three days later, made 15-3¾ Saturday. He didn't try to go higher because of a sore arm.

His Washington team bowed 74-71 to Washington State as the meet went down to the mile relay, won by WSU in miserable weather.

Todd Gaskill of California, helped by a 6.9 miles per hour wind, won the triple jump with the best mark in the nation this season, 49-11¾. Steve Cortright of Stanford finished second, but took both hurdle events and finished as the meet's high scorer. Larry Questad won the dash double for the victorious Indians.

U.S. Bags 108 Pan-Am Gold Medals

The track team led the American forces who collected 108 gold medals of 157 awarded at the Games, along with 55 silver and 37 bronze for second and third places.

That was more than twice as many as all the other nations combined in the two-week carnival which ended Sunday. Brazil was second with 14 golds.

The Yankee track forces, although they were weak in the sprints, grabbed 16 of the 23 track gold medals on the line, losing the 100, 200, 800 and 5,000 meters and 400-meter hurdles, plus the marathon and the 20,000-meter walk.

The girl track athletes won six of the 10 in their division.

Many U. S. track stars chose not to leave school or their jobs for the Games, especially with the Olympics coming up in Tokyo next year, which puts extra pressure on the lesser-knowns who came.

"This was a terrific demonstration by an American squad which was the best available at a bad time in the college academic year," said head coach Lou Montgomery of Cornell.

"Furthermore, the United States made a great step forward in Olympic preparations by uncovering a half dozen fine prospects who normally might never have made the Pan-Am squad.

Lindren won the 110-meter hurdles, Johnson the high jump, Martin the decathlon and the others were runners-up in the 220 meters, shot put and hammer throw, respectively.

S.R. Golfers Defeat Novato

Kentucky Victory 'Easiest' For Surprising Chateaugay

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Derby winner Chateaugay, a colt reportedly months away from his peak as a 3-year-old, may make the public forget the so-called big three of the Triple Crown set.

The son of Swaps carried the Darby Dan Farm colors into the winner's circle at Churchill Downs Saturday after he bowled over the big three like they were not even in the $151,400 race.

"The Derby was theeasiest race he's won since his first victory as a 2-year-old," trainer Jimmy Conway said, "I wasn't surprised that he won it—in fact, I thought he had a real good chance to get home first."

Conway said Chateaugay improves with every race and is far from his peak. "He runs better everytime he goes to the post. We think he will hit his peak next fall sometime, barring mishap."

Chateaugay, taken well off the pace by jockey Braulio Baeza, had so much left for the stretch run in the mile and one-fourth classic that he passed Never Bend and Candy Spots with no effort.

Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, the 3-2 favorite and unbeaten going into the Derby, was third, a neck back of Never Bend.

Ambush Stable's On My Honor finished fourth and Greentree Stable's No Robbery, the other member of the big three with Candy Spots and Never Bend, was fifth.

The first four finishers now head for Baltimore and the second jewel of the Triple Crown, the Preakness at Pimlico. No Robbery, who bucked his shins, will have to miss this one.

"I told Braulio to just ride the horse," Conway said, "I didn't give him any special instructions."

Mesh Tenney, trainer of favored Candy Spots, said his colt "had a run at the leaders but just couldn't get to them."

"It wasn't the jockey," Tenney said, "I just think he came out because he was tired."

The victory, worth $198,900, was Chateaugay's fourth in four starts this year. He has total earning of $134,770, picked up in winning six of nine starts and running two seconds.

Never Bend's torrid fractions of :23 seconds, 46 2-5, 1:10, and 1:35 2-5, pushed Chateaguay across the finish line in good time of 2:01 4-5.

Cal And Washington Crews In Unique Tie

Crew titans Washington and California still don't know which one has the stronger boat this year.

With both schools claiming one of their best crews ever, the two rowed to an unheard of dead heat Saturday over a choppy Lake Washington in the 56th renewal of their series.

One judge saw it as a Bear victory; one as a Husky victory; and the third called it a tie.

Both crews were timed in 14:04 for the 2¾ miles—four seconds off the course record.

The two crews will settle their supremacy in the upcoming national row. Neither has been defeated as yet and one should be this year's national champion, according to the experts.

Knot Tied Tighter In CIBA Race

The knots were tied tighter than ever on the bitterly-disputed California Intercollegiate baseball race today.

Southern California took a tiny lead in the scrambled up race with a 10 decision over UCLA Saturday. The only Trojan run came when Kenny Washington Jr., son of a UCLA football great, doubled home Willie Brown, All-America halfback candidate, in the first inning.

Walt Peterson, now 4-1 in the CIBA, tossed the six-hit shutout.

Meanwhile, Stanford breezed past California 5-1, as lanky Jim Lonburg scattered eight hits. The Card ace is also 4-1 in the CIBA.

Biggest Show Only One Night Stand

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest show in 50 years played Broadway last night—for just one performance.

To celebrate the golden anniversary of Actors Equity—the union of performers—a galaxy that no management could afford paraded across the stage of the Majestic Theater in highlights of many memorable Broadway hits.

Nostalgia jostled excitement all the way.

The biggest ovations of the evening went to Bea Lillie, hilariously reprising a skit from the 1927 "Charlot's Revue," and Helen Hayes in the final, touching scene of "Victoria Regina."

Playwright Marc Connelly took part in an epsiode from Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," and even the White Goat turned up for a bit of "The Teahouse of the August Moon." There also was a special dance in memory of Bill Robinson.

Major attention was given to musicals, including "Oklahoma!" "My Fair Lady," "Porgy and Bess," "Guys and Dolls," and—representing the current season—"Little Me."

The anniversary show was produced by Jean Dalrymple, with all receipts going to the Museum of the City of New York.

"Isn't it nice," quipped master of ceremonies Cyril Ritchard as the show began, "to see so many actors working—for free."

Watching the one-only spectacular in the audience of 1,400 were four members of the original group of 112 performers who formed Equity in May, 1913.

Almost two-fifths of the brides and one-eighth of the grooms in 1962 marriages were teen-agers, according to the Population Reference Bureau.

Marin Concert Goers Have Great Weekend

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A program of classical symphonic music and one of operatic arias and art songs were offered Marin concert goers during the weekend.

Friday night was a memorable evening for lovers of the classic style when the Marin Symphony under Sandor Salgo played an all-Mozart program except for Stravinsky's neoclassic "Pulcinella Suite." Marin Catholic High School auditorium was filled nearly to capacity.

Yesterday afternoon's concert presented by tenor James Schwabacher in Olney Hall at the College of Marin—a benefit for the Tamalpais High School Chapter of the American Field Service—drew a small but enthusiastic audience.

Highlight of the symphony concert was Mozart's piano concerto No. 20, K. 466, with Gertrude Troutman of Novato making her first professional appearance in Marin. Her excellent performance revealed a special feeling for the serene and poetic aspects of Mozart's style, resulting perhaps in understatement of the other elements in this concerto distinguished among all Mozart concerti by passion, pathos and drama.

Salgo's integration and balance of the dialogue between the orchestra and the soloist was superb, with all instruments, both as separate choirs and tutti doing some of their best playing of the evening.

The opening Symphony No. 48 K. 551 went smoothly except for some excessive predominance of the violins at times, and

The opening Symphoany No. art's "The Marriage of Figaro" was given a spirited and most satisfying reading.

Stravinsky's "Pulcinella Suite" provided the humor and somewhat acrid harmonies that sharpened the palate between the Mozart numbers.

In a tastefully chosen and entertaining program that was almost a lecture-recital Schwabacher demonstrated the musicianship, musical intelligence and engaging personality for which he is widely renowned.

His stressing of bel canto in arias by Mozart, Handel, Rossini and Bizet, and songs by Purcell, Schubert and Faure was practically a guarantee of maximum appeal to most music lovers.

Contrasting with these were the very amusing limericks set to music in the contemporary idiom. And the Beethoven arrangements of Scottish, Irish and Welsh songs were interesting because of their revelation of a seldom-heard aspect of the composer's genius.

Pretty smart if you were smart enough to start buying your home instead of renting. Why? Well, as a home buyer you're eligible to borrow $7,500 through Pacific Plan. And you're very smart if you realize that the new low rates of $74.25 per month for a $7,500 loan are pretty low interest only rates for homeowners. And you're really cum laude if you know how much less you pay each month if you borrow from $1,000 to $10,000 through Pacific Plan and repay only $29.92 per $1,000 per month with the fully amortized loan. And take a short term 37 or 55 months to pay—because you're a smart homeowner. If you need a loan, perhaps the smartest thing you've ever done will be to call Pacific Plan. Pacific Plan—a California loan brokerage firm—in your Yellow Pages, of course.

Weaving – Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow

May 18 and 19 loom large on the calendar for a number of Marinites who are preparing for the 11th annual Conference of Northern California Handweavers, to be held then at San Francisco's Jack Tar Hotel.

Mrs. Betty Holcombe of Mill Valley is general chairman for the event, which is expected to draw attendance of nearly a thousand. Theme is "Weaving —Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow."

HIGHLIGHTS of the conference on May 18 will include a keynote speech, "The Civilizing Arts," by Charles Lindstrom, curator and director of art education at M. H. de Young Memorial Museum; demonstration of rug weaving, dyeing and silverwork by three Navajos who drew record crowds with a similar display at de Young Museum last fall; showing of a film, "Navajo Dyeing and Weaving," and a fashion show of handwoven garments and accessories directed by Mrs. Otto Meyer of San Rafael.

OTHER MARIN women assisting in planning for the event are: Mesdames L. Clark Bowles, co-chairman; Sally Vinyard, information chairman; W. F. Rauschnabel, program chairman; Axel Gravander, representative for Gravander Spinners; R. H. Chevalier, secretary; W. F. Wedel, finance chairman; Harry Copestick, commercial exhibits; Jerry Gill, representative for Tamalpais Weavers; Paul Weideman, jury chairman, and John R. Minton, publicity.

The list of judges selected to evaluate handwoven fabrics entered by Northern California's 20 or more weaving guilds includes a Marin woman, Mrs. H. D. Grae of Mill Valley. Mrs. Grae is at present weaving instructor at the Richmond Art Center and Marin Country Day School.

MOST OF the Marin women are members of the local Tamalpais Weavers or Gravander Spinners, groups which share hostessing tasks at the coming conference with the Redwood Empire Weavers and Sonoma County Weavers.

Dominic DiMare of Tiburon, professional weaver and art instructor at Francisco Junior High in San Francisco, will be in charge of an exhibit of youngsters' weaving done under his instruction.

And for the first time in conference history, the traditional fashion show will also be judged. Mrs. Meyer, who holds a master's degree in clothing, textiles and related arts from Oregon State University, has named a three-person panel to judge the show and related fashion exhibit under the general theme "The Peacock Struts."

Garments will be color coordinated and will be judged for quality of craftsmanship as well as style and suitability to wearer.

PERSONS WISHING to register for Saturday's program and luncheon may contact Mrs. Florine Sondergaard, 8490 Kennedy Rd., Sebastopol.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Study Has Surprises On What Makes Good School

An interesting article appeared in the recent issue of "District Doings," the faculty publication of the Tamalpais Union High School District. It was a brief (too brief) summary of a study in depth of 1,353 American High Schools being conducted by Project Talent, a project of the U. S. Office of Education.

The article tells of "Monograph No. 2," which is not available for general distribution. But it shows this:

Four indications of a good high school, as measured by pupil achievement, staying in school and going on to colleges, are teacher salaries, teacher experience, number of books in school library and expenditure per pupil.

Those four aren't so surprising, except for the library's importance, they have been emphasized by educators for years.

What was a little shocking, however, was the list of four factors which are "not so important" in determining what is a good high school. They were listed as school size, average size of class, age of building and suburban location. School size, class size and physical facilities have been stressed around here as of major importance. We've got the suburban location whether it's important or not.

The article came to our attention just as we received the publication "California Schools," which is the official monthly publication of the State Department of Education.

The article showed that the average typical public school in the nation serves a rural or small town community and spends $375 per pupil. The state publication shows that in the year 1961-62, California High Schools spent $552.80 per pupil for current expenses, or if you add in the capital outlay, food service, community service and the like, $593 was spent on each student that year— and the amount is increasing each year.

The article also said the average beginning teacher salary in the nation's high schools is $3,720 to $3,750 per year. In Marin County few teachers start at less than the $5,000 level.

Thus it appears we're in good shape on two of the most important four factors. What about teacher experience and libraries?

We have another word we like better than teacher experience; it is dedication. Sometimes in hearing some people talk, it sounds as if all you need to do to improve teachers is raise their salaries.

Some of the finest teachers we ever knew were teaching long before teacher salaries were in any way commensurate with teacher accomplishments. Money doesn't educate anyone; teachers do. Teachers not dedicated to their profession won't become better teachers just because they are paid more. It's not a simple matter of dollars and cents.

The fourth major factor, libraries, has only recently been getting the attention it deserves. Some of our high schools have a long way to go. We think their governing boards should look carefully at their library facilities.

We shall watch expectantly for more monographs of Project Talent and hope that these interesting studies will be made available for general distribution.

Solitary Quail Of Spring

Quail come into our garden alone this time of the year. They are nesting now and someone has to keep those little, speckled eggs warm, fair weather and foul.

These single quail of spring are alert, but seem more relaxed than the anxious family men they are soon to become. Later in the season they will ride herd and loudly call the signals for their fluffy families of chicks.

Sometimes we see the plain, brown lady of the family too. But more often it is handsome, blue-suited Papa picking in the lawn for seeds and bugs.

A solitary, sedate gentleman.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Birds Are Plotting To Overthrow Us By Seizing Communications

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a motion picture called "The Birds," our feathered friends lay siege to the human race with intent to do us in.

And in a cartoon strip a raven named "Stoolie" has been acting as a go-between for a group of underworld characters.

Neither of these plots is likely to be endorsed by the Audubon Society and in some quarters they are regarded as ridiculous. But I am here to testify they are not as far-fetched as they might seem.

There is no gainsaying that many birds become thugs and bullies. I myself have been attacked twice recently by a vicious hummingbird that lurks around my morning glory vine.

These ordinary criminal tendencies, however, are not main concern. I am more disturbed by the ornithological underground.

If birds are plotting to overthrow us, as Alfred Hitchcock, Dick Tracy and I suspect, I have reason to believe that the ringleaders are mockingbirds.

According to a press release I recently received from the National Geographic Society, a mockingbird has been known to sing continuously for six hours—from 3 a.m. to 9 a.m. Do you catch the significance of that?

If they can disrupt our slumber, and thus weaken our resistance, it will make the takeover that much easier.

Most people think mockingbirds only do bird imitations, which is a cheap act that went out with vaudeville. That is only a front, or cover, masking a far more sinister talent.

MOCKINGBIRDS ALSO can duplicate the sounds made by peeping tree toads, buzzing locusts, crowing roosters, barking dogs, squeaking gates and whistling policemen.

In other words, they can disguise their voices and penetrate places that otherwise might be barred to birds.

A ham radio operator in Dallas once heard a mockingbird imitating the "dit-dit-dah" signals of the Morse Code. I hardly need add that seizure of our communications systems would be the first target of any uprising.

EQUALLY ALARMING are those fat pigeons that waddle around in Lafayette Park across the street from the White House. It was there that Bernard Baruch used to confer with high government officials.

Is anyone naive enough to think those pigeons are only interested in the peanuts dropped by tourists? Hah! Five will get you ten those pigeons are espionage agents.

I have reported this matter to police several times, but they refuse to take any action. Whither can we turn for protection?

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I read the article in the I-J Tuesday (4/30) about welfare. I agree with that part that if outside income is obtained by the mother working this is wrong, except that the people who really need aid do not get it and if they do, not enough.

I have known people who have received payments far too small to meet the bare existence, yet the other people receive more than needed or deserved.

A man if jailed for reasons, the wife and five children receive in excess of $400 a month, yet a mother with five children and a husband who took off and deserted has problems getting enough to pay the rent.

The payments are made at a rate according to the whim of the worker. If a mother is willing to work to bring enough money in to meet the necessary cost of living standard, she should be allowed to do so.

If it is a legitimate case, welfare does not help the person in the ways it should. Money is not the only answer. Legal aid, domestic aid and just plain common sense are better than the money some get and others don't.

I have been acquainted with all kinds of welfare receivers and my conclusion is that you can get more help if you know the right person.

What does it take to feed a family or clothe a family or house a family, in a way so that the children won't be behind the bars like the mothers who were trying to give them sometimes better care?

Most People Live In Sight Of God

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I have the privilege of complimenting Mrs. McDermmand on her fine letter regarding the courageous fireman who did what he knew was right in the sight of God.

It was a horrifying experience to read an article in the May, 1963 issue of the Reader's Digest, titled "Why Doctors Are 'Bad' Samaritans." This article described two doctors and a lawyer who neglected to assist a hit-and-run victim lying by the road. God have pity on their souls! I'm sure most doctors would've helped the victim.

There are many daily occasions when many persons take known chances of lawsuit but still do what is right in the "sight of God." The only reason they take this chance jeopardizing their careers, their lives, and their family's material standard of living, is their profound faith in God, in Christ's name. They also prove their profound faith in their reward in heaven.

We honor and respect our heroes, Patrick Henry, Nathan Hale, Billy Mitchell, Admiral Rickover, and a long list of other well known heroes as well as those unknown to us but known only to God, to whom we owe our freedom. Most people endeavor to live up to the courage and integrity of these heroes.

We have a tradition of lawyers, doctors, educators, military men, business men, and laymen who had the courage to back up the Declaration of Independence which includes the statement, "And, for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

If we are to overcome oppressions when and where they occur, we must continue to rely "on the protection of Divine Providence." Let us pray that our United States will always remain the "land of the free and home of the brave."

It also takes courage to introduce and amend laws to protect honest individuals.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Reversing a position taken in 1951, Marin supervisors endorsed legislation calling for a $250,000 study of a salt water barrier in San Francisco Bay. Their earlier opposition was based on fear it would prevent construction of a Richmond-San Rafael bridge.

20 YEARS AGO

An upsurge of cattle rustling in Marin County due to wartime meat rationing caused Sheriff Sellmer to call between 500 and 600 special deputies to help curb this by legal means. Ranchers of West and North Marin had threatened to organize vigilante shotgun brigades.

A call was issued by the Naval Net Depot on the Tiburon Peninsula to attract both skilled and unskilled Marin County workers at starting pay of 95 cents an hour.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A Soviet dignitary died and found himself at the entrance to Hell. The demon in charge of admissions said magnanimously, "I'll give you a choice. Do you want to enter the world of perdition through the Capitalist or the Communist gates?"

"The Communist gate, of course," said the experienced Soviet gent without hesitation. "There's bound to be a fuel shortage in that sector."

A young mother, discussing little Billy with her doctor, made no effort to control her son, who, despite the remonstrances of the doctor's secretary, was raising cain in the waiting room. Finally, a crash of bottles disclosed the fact that he had reached the doctor's cabinet of supplies.

"I hope," simpered the mother, "that Billy's mischievous ways are not distracting you."

"Not a bit," replied the doctor grimly. "Besides, he'll be quiet in a minute when he gets to the next shelf. That's where I keep the poisons."

A Square Chaperone Finds Out Teen Dance Is A Delight, Tiring

Once upon a time there was a square chaperone who went to a teen-age dance at Tam High. This is his story:

The chaperones were at their corners, the band was on stage, lights were dimmed and hot dog and soft drink dispensers were at the ready.

"Open the doors," said Larry Counts, fast-footed dance organizer and in came the dancers.

"Alas," cried Your Square Writer, not having seen a teen-age dance in 20 years, "the dancers are adrift."

THEY DANCED about 10 feet apart without conversation, signs or change in facial expressions. Deputy Sheriff Ray von Savoye exclaimed: "Sometimes they dance so far apart you'd think they'd lose their partners."

"They usually dance kind of far out," admitted teenager Jack Dortch. "They dance close together only on the slow ones. That's a version of the 'Mashed Potato'," he said. He advised dancers do mostly the Twist, Mashed Potato and dances of their own creation, sometimes called Miscellaneous.

"It's a primordial rite," said Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks jokingly.

"I guess we were just as silly at that age," claimed Mrs. William E. Secor, also a chaperone, also round.

STUDYING THE dance forms, we noticed one couple, male and female facing the same direction but about five feet apart, doing different motions. They were apparently in communication. Not verbal but perhaps sonically.

Tom Rogers danced with arms outstretched as if he were flying. Many male dancers were "picking" things out of the air.

Steve Dazy went through motions with his arms as if he were a boxer, his partner, Lynn Farnsworth being more subdued and not a bit startled to see Dazy leap into the air occasionally.

Less energetic dancers did a lot of foot work, appeared to be contemplating. Most girl dancers did something we call a Shimmy or a Shake.

To the square chaperone, the night turned out to be a delight and an education. There were at least 300 dancers, all behaving well and, apparently, none in pain. It struck us that getting to know teen-agers is to understand them and that in all likelihood people go off half-cocked to mis-label these youngsters. On top of it all the benefit brought in $663 to be used for a teen center.

AT ABOUT 9 p.m. the Lords played "Tequila" and sound rose many decibels. At 10 p.m. the girls took off their shoes to dance in stocking feet. "It's easier on feet," we were told.

At 10:15 a short girl with tall hair began to sing "Mash Potatoes and Gravy." Turned out she is Barbara Moyer, who later belted out "Fever" and "Angel, Baby." When she sang it was thunderous.

On rare occasions there was a "slow dance" and dancers looked strange in each others arms. At 11:30 Counts announced hot dogs and soft drinks were free. This was a success.

SAID STUDENT John Pollack, who got a free coke: "That's nothing. I just earned $1 for pulling a girl's wig off." Someone had bet him a dollar he wouldn't do it. "But I gave her 50 cents for going through the pain," said Pollack.

Twelve was the end. Though I didn't dance a dance, I went home tired and it was just as Mrs. John Finn III, mother of a teen-ager had prophesied, "with the loud ringing of music in my ears."

End of square story.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Foreign Relations Unit Unorganized In Senate

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Congress has been in session for four months, but astonishingly one of its most important committees— the lofty Senate Foreign Relations Committee —is still unorganized and largely at loose ends.

Cause of this extraordinary backstage muddle is an apparent effort by Chairman J. William Fullbright (D-Ark.) to set up one-man rule.

Heartily supporting him in this ambitious power grab are key Kennedy administration officials, foremost among them members of the White House staff. Fullbright sees eye-to-eye with the administration on its Cuban, disarmament and nuclear test ban policies—all under fire by Democrats as well as Republicans.

IT IS THIS threatening bipartisan opposition that is prompting the one-man rule drive. Apparently the administration fears that unless a tight rein is imposed on the Foreign Relations Committee, it may get out of hand on these explosive issues.

To that end, Fulbright appears bent on scuttling the committee's system of influential subcommittees which has been in existence since 1950.

SINCE 1950, the Committee of Foreign Relations has maintained a series of subcommittee corresponding generally to the organization of the Department of State . . . . . . The subcommittee system is designed to foster more extensive consultations between the members of the Foreign Relations Committee and officers of the Department of State."

But this year, Fulbright is acting very differently.

As a result, following are highlights of the extraordinary situation that prevails inside this august committee:

Although this session of Congress is about half over, not one of the Foreign Relations subcommittees has been designated. Officially, they are still unorganized and not functioning.

Particular target of Fulbright and the administration is the Disarmament subcommittee headed by Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey (Minn.) A majority of this strategic subcommittee are highly skeptical of the administration's Cuban disarmament and nuclear test ban policies, particularly the latter.

Senators George Smathers (D-Fla.) and Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) named to the Foreign Relations Committee early this year, have yet to be assigned to subcommittees.

SENATO WAYNE MORSE (D-Ore.), head of the Subcommittee on American Republics Affairs, has been unable to launch a probe of the limping Alliance for Progress because his group is not officially organized. His hands are tied because officially his subcommittee doesn't exist.

Foreign relations committeemen are becoming increasingly restive and intimating matters may be taken out of Fulbright's hands and the subcommittees be designated over his head.

San Rafael Council's New Member Due Oath

The San Rafael City Council will add a fifth member tonight and tackle an agenda headed by public hearings on a re-zoning and a subdivision.

Harry A. Barbier of 122 Chula Vista Drive, appointed to the council at a special meeting Friday noon, will receive the oath of office from City Clerk W. L. Morgan. Barbier fills the council vacancy left when David Menary Jr. resigned following his election as city attorney.

Public hearings are on rezoning from single family dwelling to planned community for Racquet Club Estates Unit 5, between Racquet Club Drive and Leafwood Circle, and on Byron W. Leydecker's appeal from conditions placed by the planning commission on a three-lot subdivision on Oakmont Avenue off Chula Vista Drive.

Bids will be called for bonds of the Chula Vista Assessment District.

The council will be asked to authorize sale of three tax-deed lots in the city's northwest hill area.

Although it is not on the agenda, the group of San Rafael architects chosen to design the new city hall is expected to again request signing of a contract. The contract submitted previously was returned for checking and revision.

$68,000 Fire Budget Proposed

A $68,000 budget for the fiscal year 1963-64 was proposed Friday night by the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District Commission.

The budget, to be presented at a public hearing June 7, is identical to the district's budget of last year. It has been drawn to stay within the present tax base of 70 cents per $100 assessed evaluation charged the district taxpayers for fire protection last year said Commissioner Milton L. Stannard of Tiburon.

The budget, if adopted will go into effect July 1 of this year, said Stannard.

Hill Haven Unit Elects Directors

Five new directors of the Hill Haven Property Owners Assn. were elected for two-year terms at the group's annual meeting, with two to remain for another year.

Newly elected were Francis Ryan, Randolph Esplin, Dusty Roads, John Huntington, and Mrs. George Berticevich. Remaining another year will be Lawrence Dewey, outgoing president, and George Dowling.

The members decided to seek additional information regarding Aerojet-General Corp's plans for underwater testing of rocket engines off Angel Island.

Harry Harkavy, of Miami Beach, whose team won the Vanderbilt Cup a few weeks ago, has known the rules of defense for many years. Fortunately for his team, he also has spent years breaking the rules.

LED DIAMOND

Harkavy led the ace of diamonds and continued with a low diamond, forcing South to ruff. Declarer then led a low trump.

This was the turning point of the hand. Harkavy could follow the old rule by playing a low trump since he was second hand on this trick.

Actually, Harkavy stepped up with the ace of trumps and led another diamond. South ruffed again and drew trumps. This exhausted all of South's trumps.

CASHED ACE

Declarer next cashed the ace of clubs, hoping that the king would drop.

It didn't, and South made no more tricks. Down three, for a penalty of 800 points.

Now go back to the third trick, when South led a low heart. What happens if West follows the old rule and plays a low heart?

DUMMY WINS

Dummy wins with the 10 of hearts and returns the jack of clubs for a finesse.

After capturing the king of clubs, South leads the king of hearts to force out the ace.

South ruffs the next diamond and draws trumps.

(He has been forced to ruff only twice, so he can use the rest of his trumps to draw those held by West.)

Then South cashes all of the clubs, winning five hearts and five clubs. South makes his doubled contract with an overtrick.

Breaking the rule made a difference of nearly 2,000 points!

ALMANAC

The moon is approaching full phase. The morning stars are Venus, Saturn and Jupiter. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1960, Britain's Princess Margaret was married to a commoner, Anthony Armstrong-Jones.

A thought for the day—British author Oliver Goldsmith said: "Conscience is a coward, and those faults it has not strength enough to prevent it seldom has justice enough to accuse."

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Recent Typhoid Outbreaks Serve To Remind Us Of Our Old Enemies

VAN DELLEN

The recent typhoid outbreaks here and there serve to remind us not to be too complacent about some of our old enemies. A few cases are enough to make the front pages of many newspapers today but at one time, more than one-third of all the patients seen by physicians were victims of this disease. This was before the days of modern sanitation and the typhoid vaccine.

The infection continues to plague us because there are many typhoid carriers in the United States and each is a potential source of a widespread epidemic. How troublesome these carriers are depends upon their personal habits, where they live, and what they do.

THOSE WHO handle food for public consumption and dairy workers are the most menacing. Others contaminate the water or milk supply. Food becomes a source of infection when the dishes are washed with infected water or the carrier spreads the germs via the hands. Travelers to countries where sanitary conditions are poor must be on the alert for typhoid and other intestinal disorders because the majority of such diseases are passed along in this way. The vaccine is recommended for those traveling in out of the way places.

The majority of carriers have had typhoid and recovered but nests of organisms remain in the body long after the active stage subsides. The bacilli favor the gall bladder and occasionally the liver. Most of our modern carriers do not remember having the disease because it was missed or was too slight to warrant medical attention.

AS A RULE, men or women with a known case of typhoid fever are followed carefully through convalescence and the discharges are examined periodically until the physician is certain all the typhoid organisms within the body are dead. The physician is at fault when he fails to report a case to health authorities.

Every victim of this disease should remain in bed under isolation conditions until the disorder is brought under control. It is best treated with chloramphenicol, an antibiotic that appears to be specific for this infection. Analgesics control headache and muscle pain. Phenylbutazone, an arthritis remedy, also is used by European and Asian physicians to combat the toxemia of typhoid.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

RELAXING THE VALVES

C. M. writes: Does medicine help a hiatus hernia?

REPLY

HEADACHE AFTER CONCUSSION

J. N. B. writes: Is it unusual for severe headaches to continue three months after a brain concussion?

REPLY

This happens occasionally, especially if the individual worries about injury to the head.

ALL IN GOOD TIME

Mrs. A. writes: Will a flat-chested woman who is pregnant develop so that she can nurse her baby?

REPLY

Yes.

BREAKFAST PORRIDGE

Mrs. A. A. writes: Is a breakfast of oatmeal and fruit considered too starchy for a healthy elderly couple?

REPLY

No. This is a good breakfast.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The Treasury and the Congress are in the midst of their usual spring dance over the official limit on the federal debt.

With fair regularity Congress raises this ceiling, usually on a temporary basis, because the Treasury has to borrow more money or it can't pay its bills. And each time there is a debate over why there should be an official limit since the Treasury is likely to be bumping its head on it.

At the moment the temporary limit is 305 billion dollars. The federal debt is nearing 304 billion. The Treasury expects to borrow sizable sums in the next few months to handle a federal deficit of anywhere up to 12 billion.

Even the present 305-billion-dollar legal ceiling will last only a few weeks longer unless Congress extends it or raises it. Otherwise the limit will revert to a figure well below the current debt and the Treasury, theoretically at least, would have to stop paying its bills, and meeting its payroll—including what congressmen get.

The Treasury will be collecting another installment of income taxes next month, but not enough to hold the federal debt limit within the present limits before the year is over.

The theory on which Congress acts in setting a limit on the federal debt is that this should put a psychological brake on spending.

But Congress soon will be passing the big appropriation bills for the fiscal year starting July 1. And to pay out the money these will call for, the Treasury must borrow still more than its expected tax collections will net, especially if Congress also cuts the tax rates.

Congress can raise the legal debt ceiling — and doubtless will. Or it can cut appropriations sharply—but is unlikely to do that. Or the Treasury could sell part of the assets the government owns as represented by loans and investments of various types. It will sell some in any event, but is more likely to increase their total rather than whittle it.

Those who argue that Americans shouldn't worry about a still larger federal debt, say it should be judged in relation to the output of goods and services in the nation, known as the Gross National Product.

This has grown much faster in recent years than has the federal debt, big as it is. The nation is a lot wealthier even if it's further in hock.

Also private debt has been growing much faster than has the federal debt. At 304 billion dollars the federal debt compares with a public and private debt that has crossed the trillion-dollar mark. Private debt rose 79 per cent from 1945 to 1950, another 60 per cent from 1950 to 1955 and 45 per cent from 1955 to 1960. Compared with that the growth of the federal debt looks sedate.

But those who preach economy say that the federal debt seems set now to take off at a much faster pace than in recent years.

And they argue that the annual debate over raising the legal ceiling, if it does nothing else, calls attention to the trend toward greater spending and thus may put a brake on some of the demands.

'When It Rains It Spores' For Several Trees In Marin County

"When it rains it spores" is an old saw among forest pathologists. This goes far to explain the recent outbreaks of leaf diseases on several kinds of trees in Marin County.

Richard Straw, agricultural commissioner, and Winston Engvall, farm adviser, both report many calls from home owners who are suddenly aware of apparently dying trees. They explain that the California laurel or bay trees seem to be hardest hit, but it is becoming apparent that the deciduous oaks are in for their share of trouble.

The situation is similar to 1958 and this may give some reassurance to home owners that their trees are not apt to be killed. Some growth loss and lowered vigor can be expected.

One disease on the oaks goes under the name oak leaf fungus. It produces dead spots on both sides of the leaves followed by a general browning and shedding of the leaf. Another leaf disease called anthracnose is also prevalent. Ordinarily, both diseases are minor on oaks and attract little or no attention.

At least three different organisms are responsible for the diseased condition of California laurel. Symptoms are small black spots and large irregular brown spots on the leaves, and often dieback and blackening of the tips of branches. Severely infected trees turn brown as if the entire crown had been fire killed. The disease organisms require prolonged periods of rain before they can build up to epidemic proportions.

Other diseases that are troublesome every year, but more so following a wet spring, are sycamore anthracnose, Modesto ash anthracnose and peach leaf curl.

Most of these diseases can be controlled by protective sprays. The spraying should be done just as the leaf buds break open and complete control would probably require several treatments. Unfortunately, the materials used are not sold in small packages for the home owner or are somewhat dangerous and allowed only by permit to licensed pest control operators. These firms have the necessary equipment and are qualified to do the work safely.

The recommended spray for oak and sycamore anthracnose is Puritized Agricultural Spray (it is available only to licensed operators). For ash anthracnose the recommended material is zineb, it is not necessary to obtain permission to use this material but is not generally available in small quantities.

Peach leaf curl can be prevented by using a number of materials readily available in the nursery. Once the disease appears, however, it is too late to do much about it.

Control measures for leaf blight on California laurel have not been tested.

Parish School Is On Agenda

A hearing on the proposed St. Stephen's Parish day school is on the agenda of tonight's meeting of the Belvedere City Council at 8 Community Hall.

A petition signed by 119 persons protesting opening of the school next September was presented at the April 1 meeting. The matter was postponed to permit City Atty. William H. MacKay to meet with the school attorney, James Michael.

Golden Gate Aveune drainage will also be discussed, and a resolution on conduct of council meetings considered.

Kentfield Fire Budget Approval

The Kentfield Fire District board has approved a tentative fiscal 1964 budget of $115,200, an increase of about $12,000 over the present budget, to swell its undistributed reserve fund, Secretary L. F. Kuechler announced today.

"We have two new subdivisions in Kent Woodlands in our area," said Kuechler. He added salary raises and a health plan for the eight paid firemen are being considered.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features . . . designs . . . and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense.

Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

MARIN'S LEADING DECORATORS

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Pool Equipment Firm In Hub Has New Function, New Name

No-Vac Pool Equipment Co. in San Anselmo has a new function and a new name. Owner Howard Arneson, who previously had only the Northern California sales agency for products of Anthony Pools in Los Angeles, now has the manufacturing rights in the territory as well. It means that Anthony Hydra-Sweep invented by Anthony Pasani of Greenbrae will be made here in Marin—also other equipment including a leaf trap device. New name for the business is Arneson Products, and it will be expanding.

MOTHERS are looking younger every year. If there's any doubt about it, check the Mother's Day window display of Artificial Garden in Kentfield. That young and pretty mannequin on the rocking chair midst the floral arrangements is "Whistler's Mother"—as visualized by James at an early age, no doubt.

MONTGOMERY WARD has come up with a new employees' benefit program which includes a profit-sharing plan. As outlined by Mrs. A. Seibert, personnel manager of the Corte Madera store, the firm contributes 25 cents to 50 cents for every dollar invested by an employee. The plan provides health care paying 80 per cent of most hospital and surgical expenses. It also includes a 50 per cent reduction in employee contributions toward retirement with no change in benefits; and an extended vacation program. Selling employees' salaries are to be paid on a basis of previous year's total earnings. It's effective June 1.

PROMOTIONS have gone through for two men at Southern Pacific's San Francisco headquarters: Robert C. Hudson of Sausalito has been made traffic manager for rates and divisions. He was assistant freight traffic manager. Jack McGowan, also of Sausalito but moving back to San Rafael, has been appointed a special rate assistant, from general chief clerk.

NINE MARIN MEN have received notification of membership in the 1963 Million Dollar Round Table of the National Assn. of Life Underwriters. Listed are Douglas J. Boswell and Robert A. Davies of New York Life; Nicholas Dollwet, Minnesota Mutual Life; Allen S. Feder and William D. Epstein of Provident Life and Accident; Edward K. Wachsman, Provident Mutual; Thomas R. Nelson, Penn Mutual; James L. Placek, Connecticut General Life, and Carroll Walker, Equitable Life of New York.

TRAVEL NOTES. Freight Office May Be Moved

Frankly confessing a sentimental attachment to the old building, Lester Gorsline of Lester Gorsline Associates, planning consultants, is hoping to move the old Tiburon freight office building from its present location to a site behind the Belvedere-Tiburon postoffice.

The two-story building now stands on the Tiburon waterfront next to the ferry slip. At one time it was used for ticket sales and freight transactions by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

According to local historians it was originally located on concrete pilings off shore.

Permission to move it to Belvedere Land Co. property is being sought at today 8 p.m. meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission. If succesful, Gorsline, whose present office is at 1640 Tiburon Boulevard, will convert the old building to a professional office building for his firm. He would remove vents and exterior plumbing pipes.

He has promised he will leave the old "Tiburon" sign on the building.

Particularly interested in the project is Mrs. Robert Bastian, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society, who had hoped the building might be used as a public library.

"The present library is certainly not adequate for the needs of this community," she said.

However, Gorsline said that both stories, each measuring 1,600 square feet, will be needed for his business offices.

Four In Bolinas Untility Race

Four Bolinas residents are seeking election to fill two available posts on the Bolinas Public Utility Board.

However, the number of seats available on the board may be affected by the district voting at the same election on a proposal to increase the board from three to five members.

If the proposal is adopted, appointments to fill the two extra positions will be made by the board after the election, said chairman Sherman R. Smith.

Seeking election to the two available seats are: incumbents Lewis G. Pepper and James D. Bourne, Peter Martin, and James Dougan.

San Rafael Planners To Act On 9 Requests

The San Rafael Planning Commission will hold a special meeting at 4 p.m. tomorrow at the E Street School at act on nine requests for architectural approval, use permits, and variances.

All three—use permit, variance and architectural approval—are involved in the application of designer Edward Hageman for an office building at Lincoln and Maple avenues. The building would be remodeled from a residence. The variance is sought to permit the second story to extend within the 15-foot setback area.

Tiniest variance is that request by Paul Mendelsohn for an apartment house on Prospect Drive. The ordinance requires 1,000 square feet of land for dwelling unit. Mendelsohn wants to be allowed one unit for each 996 square feet.
